*N. H. S. we hail to thee,
We hail to thee,
Our High School dear;
Thy light shall ever be
A beacon bright and clear
Thy sons and daughters true
Will proclaim thee
Near and far;
They will guard thy fame
And adore thy name;
Thou shalt be their Northern Star.*

WATSON DAUGHERTY "Watts"

Our president is one of the most unassuming of our number, quiet, deliberate, but sure. He has ability both along the athletic and elocutionary line. "Watts" never looks "girlward," "laneward," or "backward," and we are sure he can not but succeed when he takes up the higher things in life.

BERYL BEAUREGARD "Red"

Although Beryl always has her lessons and is very studiously inclined yet the mischievous twinkle in her eyes portrays her love for fun, in spite of the color of her hair, as a friend she will be found "true blue."

JOHN REHARD "Johnnie"

We all know our cheer leader to be one of the peppiest of class mates. He has shown marked musical ability both as a singer and in the orchestra. His energetic manner has helped to bring glory to old N. H. S. and we feel he is one for whom the world is waiting.

LOIS ZIMMER "Tot"

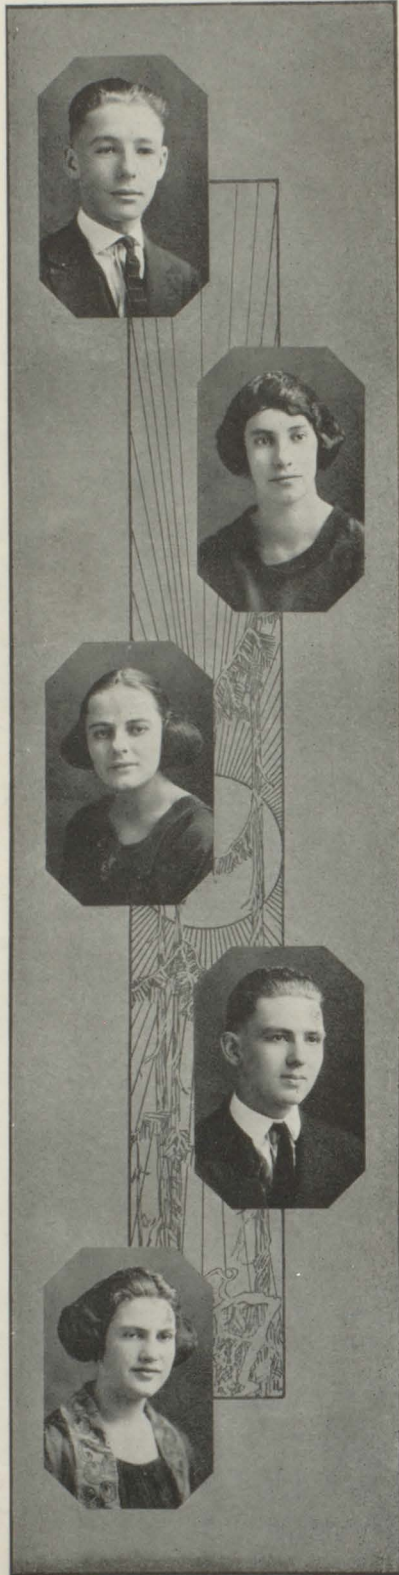

Lois with her quiet, unassuming manner, sunny smile, and cheerful disposition has won many steadfast friends. She has chosen for her motto, "Lessons first; then play," and consequently she ranks high in her classes.

CLYDE BARTHALOW "Clarabel"

Here's to our class historian!
Few can with him compare,
His pleasing, talkative nature,—
His teaching is known everywhere.

Newcospan

RALPH HEISTER "Shorty"
"Shorty" or "Pony" has outgrown his first epithet and we hope the later. "Shorty's" popularity (with the girls:) and athletic ability has grown almost as rapidly as his statures. We are certain the world will welcome him with "les bras ouverts."

CARMA HAGAN "Mary Jane"
Carma, with her pleasing manner and unobtrusive disposition, proved a welcome and useful addition to our class during its decline in numbers. She is noted as a culinary expert and rumor says she will ere long use her talent in a lonely man's kitchen.

DONNA RIGGLE "Sunny"
When you meet Donna you meet a quick sunny smile reflecting her cheerful, happy disposition. She entered our ranks only this year but in this short time has shown herself highly talented, especially in dramatics and music.

FREDERICK SCHWAB "Fritz"
Frederick, a youth of great stature, has only been with us this year but has won the friendship of everyone. His diligent, studious nature has caused him to be looked to as a model by his classmates.

LEODA SHOEMAKER
Leota comes to us each morning fresh from the "auld sod." She is quiet and meek in the presence of many, yet overflowing with fun and mischief in the presence of few. "Her modesty's a candle to her merit."

Newspaper

ELVIN HANNAHS

"Ben"

Although every year Elvin said he would not be with us again yet we are thankful to say that the beginning of each new year found him still in our midst. He is very much interested in athletics and has proved a worthy member of our class.

EDYTH CARR

"Edy"

Edyth is quiet, reserved, and modest, ever cautious; never bold. She seems to think that she would like to teach school but judging from appearances we predict that she will soon take up a course of domestic science.

VERGIL JOHNSTON

"Verg"

Our big man "Verg" is very attentive in school work and is an excellent historian. He is a loyal booster of the class of '22 and ranks high in athletics.

DOROTHY OAKLEAF

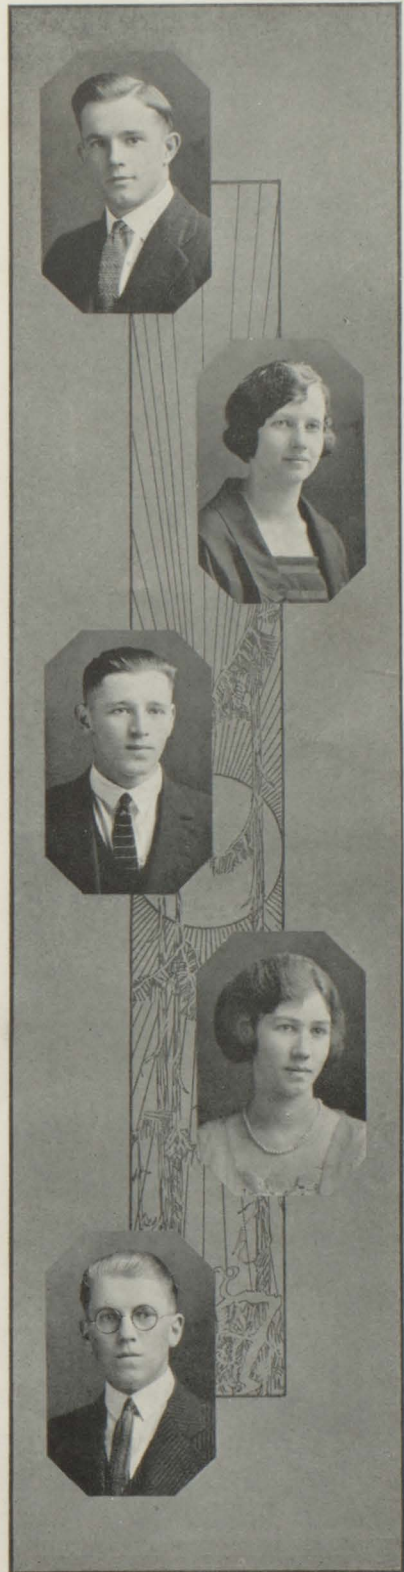

"Dot"

Dorothy is one of our prominent senior girls, always willing to do her part. Although she is red headed, she is very quiet and submissive. She has a voice "ever soft and gentle; an excellent thing in womar."

LEWIS FLETCHER

"Fletch"

"Fletch" is the most industrious boy in our class. He says he is here for business and he certainly makes every minute count. "Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today" is his motto, and with this aim in view we predict for him a high place in the world.

Newcoscan

EVA BLAIR

"Little Eva"

"Little Eva," because of her energy and conscientiousness, is an influential factor in every line of work she attempts. She is jolly, god natured and even tempered and meets everyone with an aristocratic smile.

EARL MURPHY

"Pat"

Our Editor is a hard worker and a conscientious student. He is always ready to help where help is needed and performs each task earnestly and incomplainingly.

"His not to reason why;
His but to do or die."

VERNA ARTH

"Peggy"

Peggy came as a new recruit in our sophomore year and we're glad that she did, because when any problems have faced us, Peggy has always been ready to help push. Hers is a "full rich nature, free to trust; thuthful and almost sternly just."

CARL PORTZ

"Susie"

Carl, understood by few; misunderstood by many, we feel will be looked up to mentally as well as physically. He has taken an active part in every line of high school work, especially dramatics.

MARJORIE MAUS

"Margie"

"Margie" is a tall graceful blue eyed blond. Her activities run in many channels ranging from athletics to dramatics and Glee Clubs. She is a good student, and we are sure Dame Fortune will smile on her.

Newcoscan

ANNA BOND

"Bondy"

This quiet modest maiden, came to us only this year but has already won a wide circle of friends. She is very attentive to her lessons but during her spare moments seems inclined to turn her eyes toward Mt. Union.

LORIS HUNT

"Shorty"

"Shorty" is one of our faithful seniors who is always working toward victory. He has adopted the motto of our class as his own, and presses on with this goal before him. He is a conscientious student, sincere and trust-worthy in every respect.

MABEL DRAHER

"Meb"

Mabel appears sober and dignified, but that mysterious curve around her mouth gives her away. She has a keen sense of humor, and can always keep her associates smiling. For that reason she is welcome wherever she goes.

FRANK CARRUTHERS

"Hank"

Upon first meeting Frank one would form the opinion that he is very quiet and subdued; but not so. He is always ready for fun and mischief but nevertheless finds time to get his lessons well.

HELEN BRUUN

Helen is a demure, brown eyed, Miss who always has her lessons and never shirks any tasks assigned to her. She has placed a ban on all undue frivolity, yet we know that she can enjoy a good time as well as anyone.

LAKE LOADER

"Ichabod"

Lake belongs to the tall and slim class. His peculiarity is that he is left handed but, always looking on the bright side of life, he says it comes in handy while driving. His hobbies are "blondies and automobiles."

PAULINE DORSEY

"Polly"

"Polly" is a rosy checked girl who meets the trials and problems of life, as well as her classmates, with a smile. She has a tendency to look down on a part of her classmates but this is caused only by her stature.

GLADYS RISHER

"Glad"

Never was a name more appropriate to its owner than is "Glad" for she always has a smile for everyone whom she meets. Gladys has shown ability along many lines, but especially does she possess marked musical talent of which anyone would be proud.

Senior Class History

Venimus, Vidimus, Vicimus

We came. "Who?" Thirty five little Freshies. "Where?" To N. H. S. one fine September morning in the year 1918. At first we were very green and backward, but we soon improved. After electing our class officers and choosing our class flower, we considered ourselves truly enlisted in the ranks of N. H. S. We enjoyed a few social functions and these with our school work soon brought the year to an end.

We saw at the beginning of our Sophomore year what hard tasks were before us. It seemed like such a long journey to the top of the high mountain. This year we chose our motto, "The Elevator to Success is Not Running; Take the Stairs." With this in view we began our climbing and soon found ourselves Juniors.

The Junior year opened. This year our ranks were a little thin having lost one member through death. The mountain still seemed so high, but we with our Alpine staffs were steadily climbing on. This year our class took an active part in athletics, furnishing many players for both the baseball and basketball teams. Banquet time soon came finding us prepared with a royal banquet for the Seniors. This brought the Junior year to a close, and we realized we were serene and stately seniors.

The Senior year dawned, finding us almost at the top of the mountain. Our ranks were very thin, from the loss of comrades who had fallen along the way. We were reinforced by many students coming in from neighboring schools, and with the aid of these we again resumed our climbing. One event of this year was the erecting of the new gym, in which our class took an active part. We now have reached the top, having conquered many battles along the way, and are going over, Victorious. So now since our High School days are over let us remember:

"Honor and fame from no condition rise.
Act well your part—there all the honor lies.
Presence of mind and courage in distress,
Are more than armies to procure success."

L o y a l t y

We're loyal to you, N. H. S.
We're Yellow and Black, N. H. S.
We'll back you to stand
'Gainst the best in the land
For we know you have sand, N. H. S.

RAH! RAH!

So keep that in mind, N. H. S.
The rest are behind, N. H. S.
Our flag is our fame protector
On classes that we may do great things
For old N. H. S.

Fling out that dear old flag of Yellow and Black.
Lead on, ye Seniors and ye Juniors ahead,
Like classes of thrift and courage
Placing reliance, shouting defiance.

N. H. S.

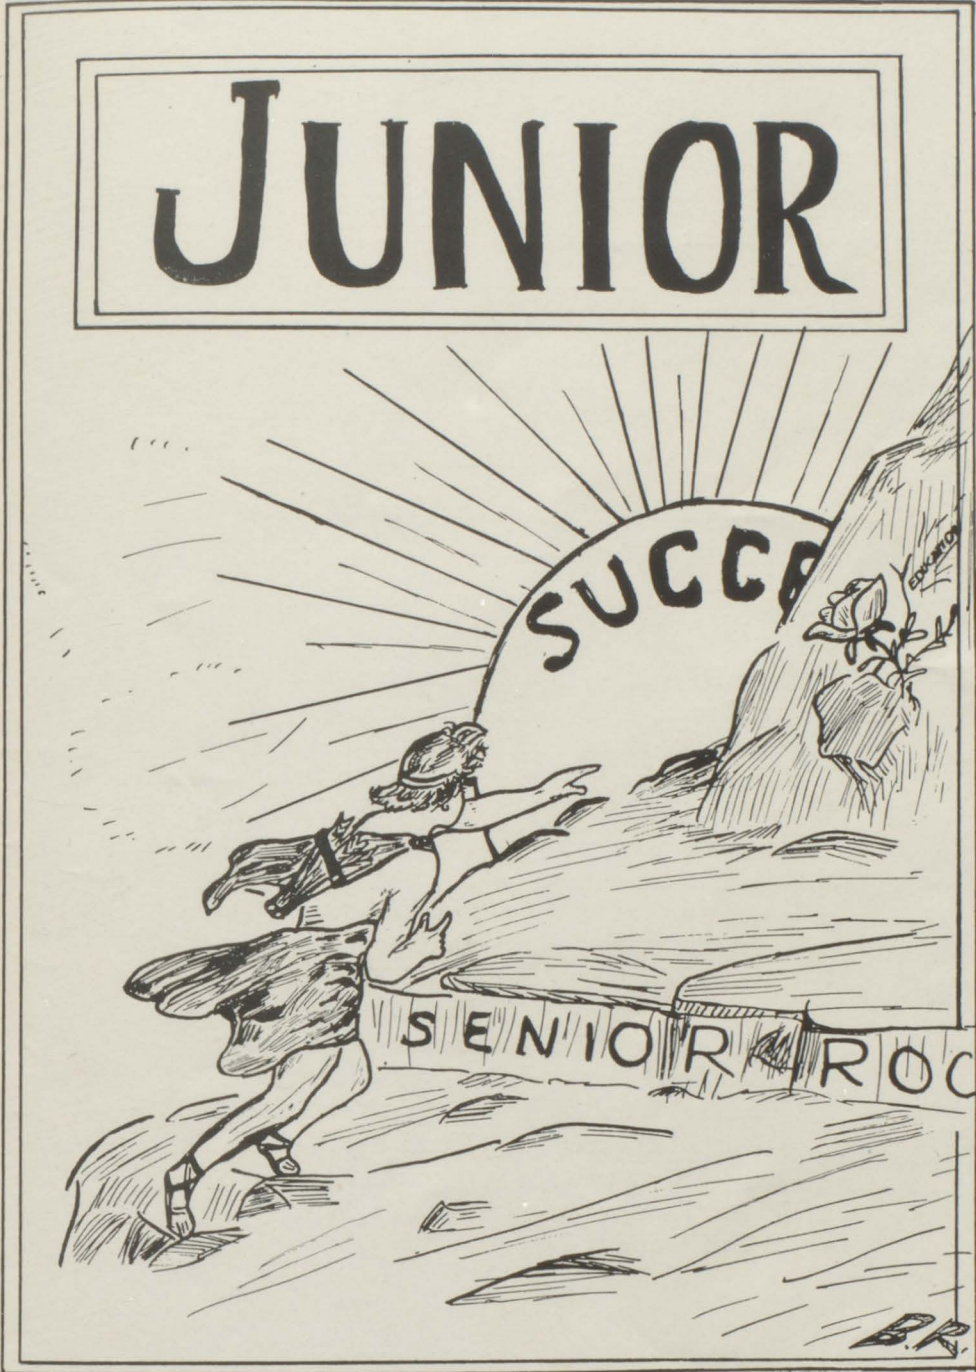

Amid the broad green fields that nourish our land,
For honest labor and courage we stand,
For unto thee we pledge our heart and hand
Dear old Newcomers High School grand.

Newcomers High School we love to cheer,
Ever victorious year after year;
Come boys together, we'll cheer forever
Newcomers High School; RAH! RAH! RAH! RAH!

Newcomers High School, we're proud of you.
You make us faithful, loyal and thue,
You give us knowledge, fond notes of college
Newcomers High School, RAH! RAH! RAH! RAH!

When we're alumni dear N. H. S.,
We'll give you credit for our success.
You taught and cheered us;
In wise ways reared us;
Newcomers High School! RAH!

Junior Class History

One fine morning early in September 1919, forty nine pupils filed into the quiet and serene halls of learning of Newcomers-town High School. These forty nine were destined to become one of the most famous and active classes in the history of the school.

Ah, well can we remember that first morning, when we were led from our room to the assembly hall, and the questioning glances that fell upon us as we entered this new area, and the great applause which greeted us. But how grateful we felt to motherly Mrs. Neighbor when back in our own room again, she explained it all to us. Though it seems years have passed, the noon and evening of that memorable day will be forever fresh in the minds of some of our classmates who were initiated as full fledged members of N. H.

Early in its career our class became known for its "Pep." Whenever a game was to be played or an entertainment given a large per cent of the players or actors, were chosen from '23. So it was, our class soon took an active part in the Thalion Dramatic Club, and in all kinds of athletics. Finally our first year came to a close and we were no longer, "Freshies," but full fledged Sophomores. Everyone felt he had passed one of the great milestones in his life.

When school opened the next fall we found that we had lost a few of our former classmates but in their places several new students had arrived. This year we excelled all of the other classes in basketball, having won the championship through a hotly contested game. We took part in several of the social functions, chief of these were the Dramatic Club and Operetta. We attended the Annual Banquet which closed our second year.

With the spirit of determination and the hope of graduation in our minds we entered the third year. We observed with dismay that we had lost several of our brave heroes in crossing the Rubicon, but volunteers were at hand, who had come in from the neighboring high schools, and thus we strove ever onward and upward. As the great sale of annuals came to a close we were found to be 180% strong. All the classes joined in building a new Gymnasium which was completed by the fore part of January. And now as it is time to make history in place of writing it we will continue down life's stream by "Rowing not Drifting."

Sophomore Class History

One beautiful evening in the month of September as I wandered over the hills and in the woods, I heard the flapping of wings and over my head flew a flock of birds, making their way to their winter homes in the south.

Somehow they reminded me of another group, a class of Freshmen, entering the doors of N. H. S. just as uncertain of the future as the birds.

However they soon found that they had indeed discovered a safe refuge and soon became confident, learning to work as well as play. During their stay in the Freshmen Class there were parties, operettas and entertainments, the Freshmen taking part in everything.

When at last the year was ended they left the Freshmen class victorious, determined to do even better in the future.

With this aim before them they entered the Sophomore class, this year as busy as ever, helping to secure the gym and after succeeding, taking part in the athletics. But this did not keep them from study for all exams were passed and they again proved victorious.

As I wandered on thinking of these things the sun sank lower, the beautiful rays reminding me of our colors, Maroon and Gold, while the fleecy clouds seemed to form the words of our motto: "Our Aim, Success; Our hope, To Win."

Freshman Class History

On September 6, 1921, the Class of '25, the largest Freshman Class in the history of our high school, having finished its eight years of dutiful scholarship in the grades and having been passed upon by its worthy censor, was granted the key of admittance to the higher learning of Newcomerstown High School.

Great in number, spirit, and ability this class is showing its real worth in every possible way and has done much toward furthering the success of its Alma-Mater.

For the first time in years, the Freshman class has been compelled to have its organization apart from the remainder of the High School. The Freshmen class organized a Dramatic Club which is expected to be a success. They also excluded themselves from the music assembly in order that the upper classmen might hear from the new brand of vocal activities, not to mention the miscellaneous programs which have been and will be given during the year. The class has contributed several members to the high school orchestra. Its loyalty to the school was worthily shown in the unanimous support given the gym campaign in the early winter. Not only did its entire membership turn out for the "Boost the Gym" parade but it also aided the same cause by making posters and selling tags.

So for this, its first year, the class of "25" has made a record of which it may justly feel proud, and with each member loyal to its motto "Excelsior" the Freshmen will attain heights not reached by other classes.

Dramatics in N. H. S.

"All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players."

Dramatics should have a special place in the school life and education of every boy and girl. It is something to be proud of and a thing you will never forget, to have taken part in a class play or dramatic program at some time in high school. What boy or girl does not think he would enjoy acting? It is truly a benefit to the pupil to take part in these things, and for this reason we have organized a dramatic club in our High School, which, meeting once a month, offers a program consisting of plays, readings and speeches. We improve each year in our dramatics and try to please the public in our entertainments. The worthy officers are: John Aay, President; Eugene Nelson, Vice President; Beryl Beauregard, Secretary; Jen Eeva Raine, Treasurer. We get a great deal of enjoyment as well as experience from this.

Another organization which has done much for its members, is the Public Speaking Class, held by Miss Mintier. It meets twice a week and consists of the study of orations and speeches along with debating and platform behavior. This class gave a mid-term public recital in January which was a great success and also expects to give a play in the spring. A great deal of enthusiasm has been shown in this class and we expect great things from them in the future.

The Senior class will present, "Aaron Boggs, Freshman" as their class play this year and the Juniors will present, "Always In Trouble" as a part of their annual banquet program. We predict that both will be success owing to the splendid talents shown formerly by each of these classes.

WHAT THE PINE TREE HEARD

The tall beautiful pine, standing high up on the river's bank became very restless one bright moonlight night in early fall. He had lived so long and was possessed of so many secrets that he felt he must unburden himself. The pine bowed graciously to a young stalwart sycamore that grew near the water's edge. He thought, "One can condescend to be gracious to youth and inexperience when one is full of years and has a storehouse of interesting events to relate." The sycamore was surprised and delighted at this favor and his white mottled bark reflected his happy smile.

"Did you see the wedding procession that passed along the ridge road this afternoon?" asked the pine.

"Indeed I did," answered the sycamore. "Do you know anything about that merry party of young people?"

"The dignified old pine was proud to acknowledge that he was the friend and confidant of the principal actors in that gay wedding party. He said he felt at liberty now to disclose some of the secrets he had kept for years. He leaned over toward the sycamore and in low clear tones told him what he knew of the beautiful romance.

"When you were a young sapling two frolicking children played beneath my branches. When I was first discovered by them they were about four and five years old, a light haired girl and a sturdy brown-eyed lad. The world was very wonderful to them, every new bird and flower gave them delight. A pretty picture they made in their happy childish games and innocent enjoyment.

"It was not long until school life absorbed much of their time but they still came to play and enjoy the great outdoors. It was here under my protecting arms that they confided in each other their joys and sorrows. I began to think of them as my children and many happy hours I spent in their company. They must have loved me, too, or why would they return so often to my shelter?

"When the busy days of High School came, their visits were fewer, but their conversation was more serious as they talked over the different problems that were confronting them. I noticed a great change in their appearances, also. The unruly curls of the young girl were more carefully arranged, but her eyes were still as blue as the skies above me. The boy or young man as I knew he thought himself, was indeed growing more manly and a look of courage and self-reliance was in his dark eyes.

"Near the close of their happy school days they began to speak of their plans for the future. The boy had lofty ambitions and was happy when he could explain his plans to his charming school-mate. She was an interested listener and always enthusiastic about the wonderful things he meant to accomplish. Her plans for the future were not so definite in her own mind but she silently vowed that she would improve every opportunity for higher learning and culture. How do I know this? She came by herself the following day and told me all about it. She often talked to me and as she grew older she confided in me more and more, while with her schoolmate she became more shy and modest. She was determined that he should never have cause to be ashamed of her when he became learned and famous.

"During the summer after their graduation from high school, they came often to their trysting place beneath my branches. They seemed to realize that this was the last carefree summer together, that strenuous days were ahead if they desired to accomplish anything worthwhile. In the fall they parted and each sought higher education at distant colleges. They both made solemn pledges to return each vacation to renew their friendship, and I was to hear all that had happened to them in their absence.

"Two summers passed by and they journeyed homeward each time to spend happy hours at their old trysting place. Both had many interesting experiences to relate and the vacation days were over all too soon.

"Springtime came again and with the singing of the birds and the blossoming of flowers I began to long for my children. I knew that they had not forgotten me, but I sometimes feared that other ties were being formed that would take them far from me. One warm day in mid-summer my little girl came wearily up the hill and sank upon the green grass at my feet. I knew that her heart was sore and she came to unburden her doubts and fears. Each day she came alone and seemed to be soothed and comforted after each visit.

"Slowly another year rolled by and vacation days brought again my beautiful girl. Her face was calm and her eyes serene, I knew that she had found peace and contentment. One day while resting my feet and indulging in a day dream I heard her suddenly cry out, a surprised and happy cry. Bounding up the hill was my strong big boy, a wonderful smile of anticipation lighting up his fine countenance. By the time he had reached her side she was on her feet, composed and smiling and holding out a friendly hand in greeting. This mild greeting was not to his liking but he realized that many explanations must be made and much arduous wooing take place before he could hope to be received more warmly. I admired his frank and open manner, his condemnation of self as he day after day told her of his hopes and struggles. For two years he had been a slave to worldly ambitions.

"He had met and was fascinated by a proud, brilliant, young woman. She was as unlike his sweetheart of childhood days the hot house rose is unlike the violet. Upon closer acquaintance he found her thorns of selfishness and pride and he awoke from his dream. As he came to know the truth, he could distinguish the real from the false. The beautiful character of the girl back home was fully appreciated and he wondered how he could have been so blind to the good and the real things in life.

"The modest violet had learned many hard lessons since their school days and she was not impulsive nor rash in reaching her decision. Those wonderful days of wooing and pleading were exciting ones for me. I believed in my boy and waited anxiously for her answer, hoping that it would be as he wished. At last when she sure of his sincerity she consented to be his comrade and helper for the rest of their days together."

"What a pretty romance," exclaimed the sycaamore tree. "I do not blame you for your pride and pleasure in its happy ending.

Music in N. H. S.

"If music be the food of love, play on!" A soul inspiring source of life, a pleasure, a study, a teacher! This is what we have discovered about music, hence we have developed a music department in our High School. With Miss Leonard at our head we fill the house with music every Monday and Thursday mornings and if one should happen on the block one might be able to hear us. Out of this chorus of young voices we have chosen a few, who only this year have been organized into a Girl's Glee Club. The officers are as follows: Mary Pace, Pres.; Kathryn Gilgamon, Sec.

The boys have no Glee Club but the Male Quartette represents their talent at all the social gatherings and from the applause they receive it may be determined how great is their popularity. They are, Ferguson McMillan, 1st tenor; John Ray, 2nd tenor; Russell McQueen, 1st bass; John Rehard, 2nd bass.

But they are not the only musical bodies. Our orchestra, an older and more established member, has proven worthy of note. It has rendered selections upon all occasions and under the direction of Mr Lacy, has been showing marked improvement. However the "Jazz" Orchestra is our source of amusement and has a place on the program of many anight's fun.

Probably the most gratifying result of the work done in the Music Department is the manifest desire among many of us to continue our musical education beyond the course offered by the schools and it is with this in view that we toil to improve the department year by year.

We students of old N. H. S.
Are a loyal and faithful crowd,
We're studying hard for our success,
And on towards victory bound.

We consider work in pref'rence to play,
And we're willing to stay in the fight.
With difficult lessons we wrestle each day,
To strive and conquer the right.

We expect to succeed in what we do,
With teachers to help us in line.
In spite of the effort it takes to get through,
We'll leave the word "failure" behind.

Best wishes now to every class,
And that none with shame need sigh,
With fond hopes of college we'll shoulder the task,
And give all credit to Newcomerstown High.

Base Ball in N. H. S.

The baseball season of 1921 was in all ways a big success and stands on a par with the records achieved by any neighboring school—the Yellow and Black being runners up for the county championship.

The biggest game of the season was staged April 26th when New Philadelphia invaded Newcomerstown determined to defeat the Newcomers, but left on the short end of a 11-5 score, the game being a thriller from start to finish. Julien and Johnston pitched a fine brand of ball and were well supported by their team mates.

The undivided support of the townspeople and the loyal backing of the school enabled the team to accomplish much.

The largest part of the success however was due to the untiring efforts of Coach "Cy" Young one of the greatest men the baseball world has ever known and to his able assistant Coach Donohoe, who has that "never give up spirit" and fight which he instills into his men and makes them give all that they have to the game.

Of the thirteen letter men four were lost from this years enrollment. The remaining nine men together with the addition of promising material in school prospects look bright for another highly successful year.

Basket Ball in N. H. S.

Friday January the thirteenth introduced into Newcomerstown one of the most popular indoor sports that this community has ever known. On that date the new gymnasium opened its doors to the public and was crowded to overflowing for the first cage game of the season, which was played with a fast Frazeysburg quintet resulting in a 36-12 score in favor of the visitors.

Undaunted however by the first defeat the Newcomers came back strong the following week when they won from Gnadenhutzen in one of the roughest games of the season. The score was 33-24.

Newcomerstown

The next game was with Tuscarawas at Newcomerstown. The locals won 46-16 before one of the largest crowds ever in the High School gym. Heister starred for the Yellow and Blacks registering eighteen buckets.

The first down state trip resulted in defeat for Newcomerstown when they journeyed to Byesville. The opponents expected a hard game but found Newcomerstown decidedly off form. The resulting tally was 32-19.

On February the eleventh Newcomerstown was issued an unlooked for defeat when Strasburgs aggregation upset the dope with a 16-14 score. The contest was see-sawing back and forth until Van Kuren, Strasburg's star center uncorked a long one during the last minute of play, which put the game on ice.

The stellar attraction of the season was staged February the fourteenth on the home court with Coshocton. At the end of the first half, the Yellow and Blacks were in the lead 5-1, but lucky passes and luckier shots at the basket cut the lead and resulted in a 15-8 victory for the visitors.

With Heister, Underwood, Johnston, Brown, and Sheets in the line up, Newcomerstown's offensive and defensive playing showed remarkable improvement from the game earlier in the season when Coshocton defeated the home team 52-8.

Revenge is sweet! On February the seventeenth Byesville's hopes took a decided drop when she went down in Newcomerstown's tracks. She came to Newcomerstown expecting anything but a fighting game, and found out after the conflict that she had been set back by a 39-4 score. The excellent guarding of Brown was the main feature of the game allowing the visitors to cage only two buckets.

Buffalo was in Newcomerstown the following Friday to lose a game by a wide margin. Although Sheets and Underwood were not seen in the line up their places were ably filled by Macmillan and Huff the final account 38-17.

The last game to be played at home was sure worthy of having that honor as the boys defeated Sugarcreek 24-22 in one of the most interesting games of the entire season since Sugarcreek was noted for their fast combination and wonderful team work.

The entire team deserves praise as in this game they were at their best form and played a super game.

Last but not least came the trip to Marietta Tournament which as we are sorry to say resulted in a defeat by Marietta 19-9.

This is the first time Newcomerstown has ever been represented in any tournament and we feel justly proud of them for the fight they put up.

Each man on the squad played his part well as did the faithful second string men.

To Coach Donohoe is due our spirit to leadership in this section of Ohio. His ability as a coach is shown by the team he turned out during his short season in N. H. S.

To the students, school board, townspeople, and the local business men does the team owe a great part of its success for through their efforts and support was the High School gymnasium made a reality.

Girls Basket Ball is something new in Newcomerstown as it has been several years since N. H. S. has had a girl's team. At the opening of the new gymnasium in Jan., with the help of Mr. Donohoe and Miss Mintier, we organized our team. It was late in the season when we began playing and with some difficulty our schedule was arranged. In many of the games our girls were greatly outweighed by their opponents and our quickness was not great enough to overcome this.

In spite of a hard schedule and the job of making a team out of all new material, our basket ball season proved to be a very creditable one. We can not boast of a champion team this year, but we feel that with the much needed experience and with next year's new material, N. H. S. will make other teams of the state take notice.

The Last Will and Testament of the Class of '22

In the name of Papa, Son, and Holy Spooks, We the class of 1922, in full possession of sound mind and good health do hereby make and publish our last will and testament.

Item 1.—It is our wish that our debts be paid out of our estate, including the ones contracted by our late sickness "Examine Ter-rificissime", and our burial expenses. It is also our wish that the bills of our physicians be paid, even those who failed to raise the temperature of some of their patients as high as seventy-five degrees.

Item 2.—We do give, confer, and bequeath to the Junior Class our seats of honor and all chewing-gum found thereon together with all the ticks the old clock can get along without. We also leave to them small Ponies to insure them a safe trip through the land of Vergil and into the halls of fame.

Item 3.—We do give, confer, and bequeath to the Sophomores our art of bluffing and our ability to skip classes.

Item 4.—To the dear little Freshmen—They cannot be expected to have accomplished much thus far. However we compliment them on their brilliant green color. The nurses have informed us that marbles have been played in the nursery, gum has been chewed and chalk strewn over the floors, and that little love affairs have budded and withered under the kind care of the teachers. To them we give the privilege of occupying the kingdom evacuated by the Sophomores.

Item 5.—Among our friends we have found one who is old in experience and has a knowledge of the contents of all the waste paper baskets in N. H. S. We consider this man the most competent of all our fellow men. Therefore we do hereby nominate and appoint Reese Stoffer as executor of this our last will and testament. We do hereby authorize and empower him to compromise a just release of all our debts and claims due us.

Item 6.—We do hereby revoke this and all former wills made by us.

In testimony, whereof, we hereunto set our hands and affix our seal, this twenty-fourth day of May, Nineteen Hundred Twenty Two.

(Signed) Senior Class of '22.

Soph.—“What do you think; that pretty Freshman girl smiled at me today.”

Junior.—“That’s Nothing, the first time I saw you I laughed out loud.”

Son:—“Father, What is the “Board of Education?””

Father:—“When I went to school it was a pine shingle.”

Visitor at Palmers:—“Is Willard here?”

Mrs. Palmer:—“Yes, he’s out feeding the pigs, you can tell him, he has a hat on.”

Burket:—“We’re coming to a tunnel, are you afraid?”

Sheely:—“Not if you take that cigar out of your mouth.”

Pony H.:—“Where did you do most of your skating when you were learning?”

Mary Hays:—“I think you are horrid.”

Miss Minter:—“Who was on the ark with Noah?”

Elvin H.:—“Adam and Eve.”

Mr. Lambert:—“Almena how do you spell weather?”

Almena:—“W-E-T-T-H-E-R.”

Mr. Lambert:—“Well Almena, that’s the worst spell of weather we’ve had for some time.”

Henrietta:—“Can you love before twenty?”

Helen G:—“No that’s too much of a crowd for me.”

Dave Zimmer:—“My grandfather died when he was ninety-six.”

Chas. Yingling:—“That’s nothing my aunt died at one hundred forty East Main Street.”

Helen Peters:—“I have a terrible cold in my head.”

Jen Eva Raine:—“Well that’s more than you had last year.”

They say fright produces white hair.

Miss Mintier:—"What do you Know about Harriet Beecher Stowe."

Flo Kistler:—"Well er she was the son of a minister.

Mr. Donohoe (in economics) "Name all the different kind of taxes you can."

Don Sheets:—"Carpet tacks?"

MissMintier:—(arguing about the use of get) "Take this sentence for instance, "Its nice to get up in the morning."

Nellie Daniels:—"But it's nicer to lie in bed."

Minister:—(To Junior Swigert) "You say Dorothy is the oldest and you are the youngest?" "And who came after Dorothy?"

Little Brother:—"No body ain't come yet, but Pop said that the first one that comes along can have her."

Tha's Right

I often think I'd like to be
Some other guy instead of me
But when I try to pick the guy
I'd rather be instead of I
It's quite a task, oh gosh, gee whiz,
I guess I'll stay just who I is.

Senior:—"Yes."

C. S.—"Where can I get two of them?"

Harlan N.(at the book store) "Is this pony a free translation?"

Clerk:—"No sir it will cost you fifty cents."

Dave Z.—"Say Mr. Hays, some one in this class is using a Pony."

Mr. Hays:—"How do you know?"

Dave Z.—"It's gone from my desk."

W. Palmer:—"I just got a Pony, it cost me ninety-five sents."

Ralph Draher:—"You can get them at Sears & Roebuck for sixty-nine cents."

Almena came home late, and when asked by her mother what delayed her she said, "Oh, mother, a horse fell down in front of the Factory Store, and they said they had sent for a horse doctor. Well I waited, and when he came he was only a man."

Who stole Donohoe's Carr?

John Rehard—(Having picture taken for the Annual) "Say I don't want a very large picture."

Photographer—"All right, just keep your mouth closed please."

Child (Pointing to Mr. Lambert) "Oh! mamma, look at that funny man sitting on the sidewalk talking to that banana peel."

You need not hesitate to eat Kinsey's pure chocolates and bon bons—they are most delicious. The chocolates are filled with different flavored centers. They are creamy, and nobody will complain about the price after trying just one of our confections.

Graduate from High School Then What?

What do you plan to do after completing your High School?

There are many avenues open.

Among those offering the best opportunities is a thorough training for business. Such a training is valuable in any vocation.

The completion of such a course lays the foundation for development into the following positions:

Private Secretary, Accountant, Shorthand Reporter, Sales Manager, Cost Expert, Etc.

For 45 years the "Canton Actual" has been training young people, and today many of them are business leaders.

School is open the entire year. New classes formed every month. A catalogue will be mailed to you on request. Send for one now.

"Roses I send to match your cheeks."

Thus wrote the lovelorn fellow,
Alas the florist sealed his fate,
For the ones he sent were yellow.

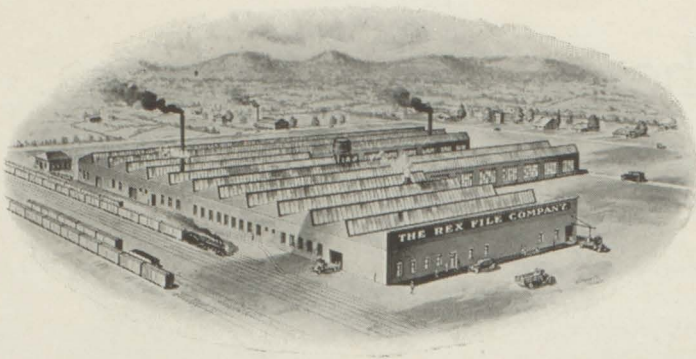

After a Test

Mr. Lambert—"Now if none of you boys and girls know how you fell down I'll be glad to show you."

Questions and Answers

Question—What is the difference between the Prince of Wales, an orphan, a bald-headed man, and a gorilla?

The first is an heir apparent, the second has ne'er a parent, the third has no hair apparent and the last has a hairy parent.

The twenty-fourth year old Oldsmobile

You can pay more for a car, but you cannot get more car for what you pay than in an Oldsmobile. The Olds gives you everything that you wish for in a car, at a price unusually low. Everybody agrees that the Model 47 Oldsmobile, "The Smaller Eight," is a beautiful car. Everybody who knows the Oldsmobile further agrees that its mechanical excellence is on a par with its appearance. The longer you drive an Oldsmobile Smaller Eight the more you will appreciate that dependability which is a permanent quality of the Oldsmobile's performance.

Question—Why is a lady's belt like an ash cart?

Answer — Because it goes around and gathers the waist.

Diary of a Lady on Shipboard

1st day—There are many passengers on board.

2nd day—I have met many of the passengers.

3rd day—Met the chief engineer today.

4th day—Engineer asked to kiss me. I refused.

5th day—He becomes insistent.

6th day—He said if I didn't kiss him he would sink the ship.

7th day—I saved the lives of four hundred people.
