OFFICE OF F. C. FOWLER.

Dr. Rudolphe's Specific Remedy.

DEAR SIR:—Looking over the names of those persons who have, within the past few months, sent to me for my treatise on sexual diseases, or who have asked for information regarding treatment, or on points of special importance in their cases, I find your name among the few who have not yet availed themselves of the benefits to be derived from this method of permanently arresting seminal losses, and restoring men of all ages to a condition of perfect erectile power and manhood. That I have not heard further from you is a matter of no little surprise to me, and I believe that something must have arisen to prevent your sending for the remedy, or that, possibly, my circulars were not sufficiently full, clear or specific in their statements. I say that it is a matter of no little surprise, for I feel certain that did you fully appreciate the remarkable curative powers of the medicine which I offer you, where absolute freedom from either painful or disagreeable sensations, rapidity and intensity of action, combined with almost direct contact with the diseased vesicles and debilitated nerves of the parts, you would not have hesitated to give the remedy a fair trial in your own case. If there are any points upon which you are not quite clear, if you are in doubt as to whether the treatment is suited to, or is able to reach and successfully cope with the peculiarities of your case, or if there are any points upon which you wish information, I shall be happy to hear from you at any time, and will answer you in an honest, straightforward and confidential manner. So many who had tried in vain various medicines, and who had lost faith in both physicians and remedies, have since tried this specific and found, to their joy and lasting benefit, that, AT LAST, they had discovered a perfectly honest and reliable medicine, that accomplished all, and more than was claimed for it, that I feel certain that you will never regret accepting the proposition I am about to make you. Many severe, obstinate and chronic cases of the most aggravated types, have been thoroughly and completely cured in the last six months, and, consequently, I not only feel still more firmly convinced of the great value of this remedy, making it truly a blessing to the unfortunate victim of youthful errors, or sufferers from any and all urinary diseases, but I also feel sorry that anyone who has once learned of this thorough plan of treatment should fail to reap the benefits through either neglect or lack of clearness on my part.

Lest, also, the price of the remedy should have seemed too high to you, and the amount too much to risk before feeling certain that you would receive some benefit from it, and in order to cure you, and thus secure others through your recommendation, I make you the following proposition, i. e.:

I will send you a package of the Specific Remedy at two-thirds of the regular price, (with the postage added) provided you will pay the other third within one month after you are thoroughly and effectually cured. Is this not fair? Some would say that I am taking a great risk, but it is not so, I have such unbounded confidence in the remedy, provided it is used with a reasonable amount of care and discretion, that I feel certain that you, cured, happy and grateful, will remit me the balance due on the medicine, without a moment's hesitation. As the remedy which I will send you actually costs me for ingredients alone more than the amount I ask you to send me, you see that I must have great confidence in both your honor and integrity and the splendid curative powers of the medicine. The regular price of the Specific Remedy is $3.00 per package, the postage is twelve cents, therefore, should you accept my offer, you are to send me $2.12 and the medicine will be sent you the same day your order is received.

I sincerely hope that you will avail yourself of this offer, and not let so excellent an opportunity (to be forever freed from your disease) pass by now, only to be bitterly regretted in the future.

Trusting that I may soon have the pleasure of hearing from you, and of being of some service to you, I remain, yours very sincerely,

F. C. FOWLER.

P. S.—If by any mischance you have lost, mislaid or given away the circular that was originally sent you, write me and I will send you at once another copy.

NOTICE.

Persons sending to me for the remedy, should write plainly the name to which it is to be addressed, the Post-office, County, and also the State. Please do not forget this. If you wish the medicine sent by express, name the express company you wish it sent by. Anyone who sends an order to me and does not receive the medicine promptly will please notify me of the fact.

All letters should be addressed to F. C. FOWLER,

P. O. Box 237.
