THE EMERSONS

AN OUTLINE OF 470YEARS COVERING 17 GENERATIONS

13 generations of Emersons can be traced in America covering 336 years. 4 generations are known in England from about 1500 to 1635. All but the first Ralf of Foxton who received his Coat of Arms from King Henry VIII in 1535 have their births recorded in church archives. 13 generations in America cover the period from 1635 to 1971. Few other families in America are so recorded!

No attempt in this work is made at following up distant cousins but descendants of Timothy II and Polly Trowbridge Emerson have been followed as far as possible with emphasis on descendats of their grandson William Henry and Anna Norris Emerson. This whole thing started when we discovered a geneology published in late 1890's by a Benjamin Kendall Emerson who had worked 12 years on it and had visited England and looked up church archives and visited cemeteries and studied geneologies of Emersons who stayed in Europe.

In tracing Edgar's parantage, I found his father and mother listed along with older cousins and aunts and uncles. B.K.Emerson had used a system of numbering all known children of each family and then dropping the daughters and continuing with the offspring of the sons. By following these numbers backwards it is possible to piece together the history of our ancestors. Ed and his first cousins are in the 10th generation in America but some new small Emersons are in the 13th in America and one tiny girl is in the 14th---a 17 generation span!

I have enjoyed delving into History books, encyclopedias, books written about early New England, Histories of Tuscarawas and Coshocton Counties, a special set of encyclopedias of England and many other sources, including Bibles in the family. Kent State Uni. Library furnished many interesting articles and information. I wanted to find out where the Emersons lived in England, why they left that country and under what conditions they lived in the New World. We visited the original Emerson home in Ipswich, Mass. which was built before the Revolution, Circa 1648, by Nathaniel Emerson, a son of the first Thomas who came to Ipswich from Bishop Stortford, England in 1635. It still stands on Turkey Shore Road much the same as in Colonial days. Thomas I resided here probably in older age.

I have not been satisfied with just a name but have tried to find out as much as I could about each person. We visited the Ipswich cemetery and took pictures of the old tombstones. Also we visited the Keene and Powell ceneteries in Ohio and pieced together more details. I found that Timothy II came to Ohio with his family along with his cousin Jacob and family in 1818. Timothy's descendents are still in the area buy Jacob's sons sons moved on to Iowa and west.

Tragedy I found. Interesting people. Leaders. Harvard graduates. And of course it was fun to see where Ralph Waldo Emerson fit into the picture. Yes, we are definitely the Emersons in America who are direct descendants of Thomas I as was Ralph Waldo. I have shown our connection on a special page.

THE "EMERSON" NAME

In "Burke's Landed Gentry" of England it is asserted that the family of D'Amery came to England with the conquerors from Tours. This was the Norman Invasion in 1066. In the "Norman People" the names Emory, Emary and Amory were brought from Hamars, near Caen, France. Normans were descendats from Vikings from Norway who had settled along river Seine in North Western France.

In "Bardsley English Surnames", 2nd ed. 1875, page 29, is stated "Richardus fil. Emericis" from the writs of Parliament of the 13th century is perhaps the earliest and, as it were, embryonic form of the name in England, at a time when modern surnames were in a process of formation. It was the son of Emery, a patronymic introduced into England by the Normans from the continent where as in the form of the Americ, Emeric, Almeric, Almaric, Eimeric it had a wide and early use and whence, in its Italian form Amerigo, it has been given a name to the World, America. Emery's son became Emmerisson, Emmerson, Emberson, Imeron, and most widely, Emerson.

According to Heintzel "Die Deutschen Familien-Namen", published in 1892 the name Aimeric is translated to mean a village ruler or chiefton. Haim, meaning a house, dwelling or estate and Riks meant rule-power, kingdom, thus chiefton or village ruler. And thus we can construe the name "Emerson" to mean son of a chiefton or village ruler.

EMERSONS IN ENGLAND

The modern Emerson family seem to have sprung from Aimeric who was an archdeacon of Carlisle and Durham from 1196 to 1214. The ruling of a "County" was often in charge of a Bishop established in a Cathedral or castle. Durham Castle dates from 1072 and Durham Cathedral was begun in 1093 by the Normans. By studying the accompanying map of Durham County we can see where Emersons started their English history. The Weardale Valley with its Westgate as entrance to ancient forests of Princely Bishops of Durham was where Emersons grew as a clan of foresters. Stanhope to this day has a St. John's Chapel in the ancient church where there is a memorial window with the Emersons Coat of Arms, and a mural brass tablet with the same arms in colors differing slightly with the windows. Many Emersons lie buried in the cemetery there. Brancepath, a little closer to Durham Castle, is the probable birthplace of Ralf of Foxton who received arms from Henry VIII in 1535.

The Archdeacon, Aimeric, was high sheriff of Northumberland from 1214 to 1215. Aimeric was a nephew of Prince Bishop of Durham, 1195, who had previously been clerk and friend of Richard Coeur-de-Leon. Both the bishop and archdeacon had married before they took orders in the church and the Archdeacon may have lived for a time in Italy as he signed his name sometimes Amerigo. He had a son, Emerie de Ledgate, and two grandchildren, Richard fil. Emerie and Emerie fil. Emerie. His pedigree is given in Surtee's History of Durham.

This descent explains the long connection of the Emersons with the bishopric of Durham especially as parkers, foresters, and gate keepers of the great park belonging to the bishopric.

EMERSON COAT OF ARMS

Several different versions of the Emerson Coat of Arms are present in the United States but the most correct one for us seems to be the one in the New England Historic-Genealogical Society's building in Boston. This is because there are three recognized branches of the Emersons in England and two branches in Ireland. As Thomas I was a great-grandson of Ralf of Foxton thus from the Durham branch, we as his descendants have the right to use the coat of arms granted to him by Henry VIII in 1535.

In Burkes Dictionary of the Landed Gentry from 1853 Vol.ii p.1376 is described the armorial bearings of the Durham Emersons.----

"Per Fesse indented, vert, and or, a bend, engrailed arg., charged with three lions, passant of the first bezente'. Great-a demi-lion, rampant, vert, besante; grasping a battle axe, gules, headed, arg."

This can be interpreted as a green and gold shield indented with the teeth of wild animals with a band of silver with three walking lions on the band. The crest of a demilion erect on hind legs, green, grasping a battle axe with red handle and silver head, surrounded by violent storms. Showing bravery and forestry.

The coat of arms were granted to Ralf Emersons, of Foxton, in the County Palatine of Durham; by Sir Thomas Wall, Garter Principal King of Arms A^o:26 King Henry VIII in 1535.

The Rev. John Emerson, a grandson of Thomas I of Ipswich went to England in 1709 and verified the coat of arms. The testor was a Robert Dale, College Armor, Deputy Registrar. The Coat of Arms were first recorded for history in America on the gravestone of Nathaniel, son of Thomas I, who died in 1712. It is interesting to note that workmen on this gravestone left out the word "MR." which was afterward inserted above the line showing that the family insisted on its gentle birth. This stone when photographed in 1968 showed no recognizable letters but a plate of a photograph taken in the 1890's by B.K. Emerson clearly can be read and the "MR." detected above a line. The ravages of time took their toll in those 70 odd years in between.

The Arms were again certified by a Dr. Emerson in 1897 at the College of Arms in London. This Dr. Emerson actually completed and published the 12 years of work done by B.K. Emerson who died before he finished.

EMERSON

ENGLAND AT TIME THOMAS I MIGRATED TO AMERICA

THOMAS EMERSON I was a Puritan and lived in England during the period of civil war and conflict between the Puritans and the Catholics, between Parliament and Monarchy. Charles I ruled as an absolute monarch and did not call any parliament from 1629 to 1640. Three main issues caused the conflict. Money, power of the King and religion. The trouble over money and power of the King began in early part of reign of King James I (ruled 1603 to 1625). James and his son King Charles I (ruled 1625 to 1649) raised money without asking Parliament for it. Parliament, especially the House of Commons, wanted to control the country's finances. James and Charles disliked having to ask for money as they believed that kings ruled by divine right so they levied taxes without parliament consent. One such tax was the unpopular "ship tax".

It was in October of 1634 that writs by Charles I were issued to the bailiffs of certain towns in Essex and Suffolk Counties to provide one warship of 700 tons, manned by a crew of 250. Everyone knew, of course, that the King intended to use the money raised under this pretext not for the actual construction of the vessel, but for the expenses of his government. In other words, Ship Money was merely an excuse for taxing the people without the consent of their representatives in Parliament. Bailiffs knocked on the doors of the wealthy and demanded the money. Defaulters on the tax fled to New England.

England was officially a Protestant Country but many people felt that the Church of England was still too much like the Roman Catholic Church. They wanted a purer form of worship and became known as Puritans. They wanted to abolish bishops. It was later under Cromwell that England was plunged into strict Puritanical rule and complete religious toleration did not come for many years.

Early New England settlers were influenced chiefly by religious considerations. They left their homes to live in a society where they would be free of the danger of error which might lead to damnation. It was not only that they found it difficult to worship in England after the way God had directed; they wished to flee behind impregnable walls erected against heresy. Even when actually forced to come to a decision as to whether they would or would not migrate, by unemployment, or by the Forced Loan, or by Ship Money, or by the pillaging of their little estates, it was a New England that they turned to since it offered a religious as well as economic haven. The majority were God-fearing, devout Puritans, who risked not only their property but their lives in an experiment of a religious Utopia under the direct kingship of the Maker.

The Pilgrims were a Separatist parish, organized at Scroby in 1606, from which in 1608 they fled to Amsterdam and from there to Leyden, under the leadership of their pastor, John Robinson and their teacher, William Brewster. Brewster's daughter, Elizabeth became the wife of Thomas Emerson who came to Ipswich in 1635. William Brewster set up a print shop in Leyden where religious propaganda pamphlets were turned out for smuggling back to England.

GENERATIONS IN ENGLAND

Ralf of Foxton, who was born 1500, received his coat of arms from Henry VIII and was our first known ancestor that we are reasonable sure of. His son Thomas was born before 1540 and records show that he resided at Great Dunmow, Essex County. He died in 1595 and may be identical with Thomas of Rumford, Essex Co. whose administration was granted to Joan, his relict, in 1595. His three children are registered in Great Dunmow.

He owned field on north border of parish called Muggles Dale. He was called in his will s "Currier", either a currier of leather or carrier of the great post system. He is buried at Bishop Stortford Jan.6, 1620. His will was proved 1620 as Robert Emberson. He had six children registered; his third child being our Thomas I of America.

Thomas I was of landed gentry and at one time was listed in the Church wardens book of St. Michael as a Collector of the Poor. He married in 1611 to Elizabeth Brewster, daughter of William Brewster the Postmaster of Scrooby and famous elder of Pilgrims of 1620. Of Thomas's brothers and sisters, little is known. Margaret married a T. Browne of Southwash. Robert died before 1620 and is not mentioned in his father's will. Anne married J. Rogers, July 1, 1611 at Bishop Stortford. John is not recorded as baptized but mentioned in his father's will and was living in 1620.

Thomas I and Elizabeth Brewster Emerson had 10 children registered at St. Michaels in Bishop Stortford. They came with their family to America on the ship "Elizabeth Ann" in 1635. One son James either returned to England or never came with the family.

THOMAS EMERSON I ESQ.

Thomas Emerson, Esq. came to America on the ship "Elizabeth Ann" in 1635. He was 51 years old and had 10 children. He was formerly Lord of the Manors of Bradbury and Hilton, Sedgefield, England. He was the oldest son of Robert Emerson of Bishop Stortford and Susan Crabb. His mother lived until 1626 when she died on Nov. 20. His father owned a field on the north border of the parish called "Muggles Dale" and was called a "Courier", either a carrier of leather or a courier of the great post system.

Thomas I married Elizabeth Brewster, July 1, 1611 and they had 10 children in all. They settled in Ipswich, Mass. in the new colony and his son, the oldest, Robert, may have preceded him to America. One son James either did not come with the family or returned before 1653 as his father's will mentions a bequest to him in England but to claim it he had to prove he was still living.

On ship records he was listed as a "baker" as only those who professed a trade were acceptable in the new land. Ipswich town records of May 1, 1666 also listed him as a baker but it is thought he never practiced the trade as he had substantial property in Ipswich and probably in England also.

Tradition is as follows: Thomas Emerson was possessed of substantial resources and of much superior scholarship to the average Englishman of his day in America; that he was from the vicinity of London where he had been through his active years, in merchantile life; that his son Thomas Jr., not being of robust constitution, did not apply himself to the duties of life as did his brothers Joseph and John. Thomas I was a strong Puritan. His wife was Elizabeth Brewster the daughter of William Brewster, the postmaster of Scrooby and the famous Elder of the Pilgrims of 1620.

The 10 children of Thomas and Elizabeth have baptismal records in the registry of St. Michaels church, at Bishop Stortford, Herts. This church was built in the reign of Henry VI (1470 -1471) and, in part, rebuilt in 1820. It contains many ancient and curious monuments.

In Ipswich, Mass. in 1638, a Samuel Greenfield, a weaver, who had married Susanna, widow of Humphrey Wise of Ipswich, conveyed a farm of 120 acres to Thomas Emerson (Ipswich deeds; L:1). This was the Turkey Shore farm which remained in the family for several generations. In 1648 his son Nathaniel erected the house which is still standing in 1972 on the Turkey Shore property. Thomas Emerson was a commoner in 1641 and in 1646 was one of the "seven men" to whom was committed the fiscal and prudential affairs of the settlement. He was granted land by the proprietors and enjoyed large possessions. He was thought to own at least four farms. He made his will in 1653 to which he added a codicil in 1660. It was probated in 1666 in May. In the town records is an entry showing he lost a yoke of oxen by their backing off of a bridge. He claimed damage and got the money!

IPSWICH in 1635

"Old Ipswich lies by the sea where small ships were built in a small shipyard. Ropemakers were busy with cordage with which the sturdy craft will be rigged. Coopers were busy at their noisy craft making barrels and casks to ship the fish and salt provisions for trade and for ship men's food. The salt-maker was among his evaporating pans. Fishermen were busy splitting and drying their wares. Trim crafts were loaded with fish, pipe stoves and lumber for Barbados or St. Christopher or Spain or Portugal. Masts, yars, fir and oak plank, beaver skins and pelts of every sort were loaded for England and a newly arrived vessel was unloading wines, silks, window panes and choice furniture for the rich, and spices and delicacies for the table." --From Glimpses of Everyday Life in Old Ipswich. by Thomas Franklin Water. 1925.

"Ipswich was settled in 1635 and first known as AGAWAM. It is an old fishing town and known for over 300 years for succulent clams. Points of interest: 7. No.41 Turkey Shore Road--Emerson-Howard Home. Circa 1648--Open for a small fee." -From the American Guide.

The first settlers of Ipswich were noted among the Mass. Colonists for wealth and learning. By an Act of the Mass. General Court, 1635 a large degree of autonomy was accorded each town: "Whereas particular towns have many things which concern only themselves, it is therefore ordered that the freemen of every town, or the major part of them, shall only have power to dispose of their own lands and woods, with all of the privileges and appurtenances of the said towns to grant lots and make such orders as may concern the well ordering of their own towns,-- to levy and distrain--also to choose their own particular officers, as constables, surveyors of highways and the like."

The town of Ipswich was settled in 1633, by another source, by John Winthrop Jr. with twelve others, three of whom are not known. It is conjecture that Thomas Emerson was one of these three.

Living was primitive as first and houses were grouped around a green. All live stock was taken to a common grazing ground each day by the children and watched carefully and then returned at dusk. No plows were in the community for 12 years. And 1636 there were only 30 plows in all Massachusetts! They were used where land looked more promising!

From Emerson's Pedigree by Ellen Tucker Emerson: "The first settlers of Ipswich were noted for wealth and learning. Among them were Nathaniel Ward, who wrote 'The Simple Cobbler'; Nathaniel Rogers, who succeeded Mr. Ward as minister; the Rev. John Norton, the famous divine; John Whittingham, a great Grandson of John Calvin; Samuel Symonds, deputy governor; Francis Wainwright and Samuel Appleton, ancestors of these families in New England. Giles Firman, Mr. Ward's son-in-law; Richard Saltonstall, son of Sir Richard; John Winthrop, afterward Governor of Connecticut; Simon Bradstreet, Governor of Mass. Etc. Cotton Mather says there was at Ipswich in 1638, "A renowned church, consisting mostly of such illuminated Christians that their pastors, in the exercise of their ministry, might, in the language of Jerome, perceive that they had not disciples as much as Judges."

This home still stands and is privately owned but opened for a small fee on certain days. We were unable to enter it but took pictures.

An interesting note! The settlers soon discovered that a large, unbroken expanse of roof afforded little opportunity for ingress to the bitter winds and shunted it upwards. This made the attic rooms dark and gloomy but was compensated for by the protection it gave against drafts. When lean-to's were added, the back roof extended from the ridge, forty or fifty feet down to within a few feet of the ground. Typical are the Whipple House and the Emerson house, Ipswich. The Whipple House is maintained by the Historical Society of Ipswich.

Many people who came to Ipswich left yearly revenue of large lands in England before they came to the wilderness.

REV. JOSEPH EMERSON Generation II in America

Rev. Joseph, son of Thomas and Elizabeth Brewster Emerson, was born in England in 1620 and died at Concord, Massachusetts Bay Colony on Jan. 3, 1680. He married in 1646 to Elizabeth Woodmansey, a daughter of a schoolmaster of Boston. They resided at Ipswich, York, Me., and at Milton, Mass. They had 3 children-Joseph, James and Lucy.

Mr. Emerson was a minister of the standing order of Puritan clergymen. Of his education nothing is known for sure. Tradition says he was educated in England. He may have studied at Harvard. He may not have come to America at the same time as his parents but he was at Ipswich as early as 1638. He was admitted freeman there Dec. 19, 1648. He preached at York, Maine the same year.

In 1653 he was a resident of Wells, and took the freeman's oath July 4 1653 and was an inhabitant when the Commissioners took the submission of the people, the court being held in his house. He favored the submission to Massachusetts in 1651-2 and was evidently a leading man of the Mass. Party. He signed a petition to Cromwell asking for the protector to confirm the jurisdiction of Mass. over the inhabitants of Wells. He soon lost hold of the affections of the people of Wells; largely perhaps, because of the political dissensions which disturbed the church. After he left, the membership dwindled and the church was dissolved and then the town was indicted for not having a church! Turbulent times. He became the first minister at Milton about 1664. He asked for an increase of salary on account of his approaching marriage (his first wife having died) and he was dismissed.

Rev. Joseph married second Dec. 7, 1665 to Elizabeth Bulkley, dau. of Rev. Edward Bulkeley of Concord, granddaughter of Rev. Peter Bulkeley B.D. first minister of Concord. She was born 1638 and died Sept. 4, 1693. After Rev. Joseph died she remarried to a Capt. John Brown of Reading. Joseph and Elizabeth had 4 children: Edward, Peter, Ebenezer and Daniel. We are descendents of Peter.

Joseph was settled in Mendon, Dec. 1, 1669 where he remained until the town was destroyed by the Indians in King Phillips War, then he retired to Concord where he died in 1680.

In New England History Gen. Reg. XXXVI page 155, "Rev. Joseph Emerson was the third minister, the first to be a settled minister of the Church. His house was on the finest site in Mendon."

His oldest son, Joseph, inherited 2/7, a double share of his fathers estate and James inherited the homestead at Mendon. James was a tailor. Edward was a schoolteacher at Chelmsford, and a surveyor of highways. Ebenezer was a husbandman and resided at Franklin Weston Place, Reading. Daniel was a shipwright of Boston. Peter was a husbandman.

Rev. Joseph's brother John was the first Emerson to graduate from Harvard in 1656 and was a classmate and good friend of Increase Mather, the grandfather of Cotton Mather. Increase was President of Harvard later and Minister of Old North Church, Boston. John was a minister at Gloucester, the town known for witchcraft.

Peter, son of Joseph and Elizabeth (Buckeley) Emerson, was born at Mendon in 1673 and died 1749. On Nov. 11, 1696, he married Anna Brown daughter of Capt. John and Anna Fiske Brown of Reading. Capt. Brown had married Peter's mother when Peter was 7. They resided at the first parish of Reading, now South Reading, on the farm inherited from Capt. Brown. Mr. Emerson was a husbandman.

Peter and Anna had 10 children, listed above, and from them have descended many of the distinguished names of Emerson, Brown and Eaton. There were 8 daughters and 2 sons, Brown and Daniel. Daniel was graduated from Harvard in 1739 and a minister at Hollis, and a chaplain in War of 1755, Old French War. We are descendants of Brown.

INTERESTING NOTE: From Eaton's History of Reading-Wekefield Banner+ "An anecdote of the early John Brown, Esq. by the great pond has passed down from generation to generation, till it reached the writer by way of the late Deacon Jacob Eaton. It appears that in his old age he had one daughter living, an only child, Anna. While walking alone one evening he was heard to say to himself 'Well I have made up my mind to make my will and I'll give my farm to Anna and then I'll give Anna to Peter.' The programme thus indicated was carried out and from this Peter Emerson and Anna Brown have descended many Emersons, Browns, and Eatons."

Brown Emerson (Gen. 4) son of Peter and Anna Brown Emerson, was born at Reading, Mass. April 16, 1704 and died at Reading, 1774. He married June 17, 1725 to Sarah Townsend a daughter of John and Sarah Townsend. She was born at Reading in 1705. They lived at Reading. Mr. Emerson was a mill owner, farmer, town clerk from 1747 to 1770, deacon from 1746 until his death in 1774., Selectman, 1746, 1765, 1766, 1767, 1768 and 1769. He made his will Mar. 8, 1774 which was probated before the Middlesex Co. Court Apr. 5, 1774. To oldest son Peter, he left all lands in Reading and one half of a grist mill in Lynn. Of the 10 children, two, Lucy and Sarah, died Mar. 15, 1737 from "throat distemper" and John on May 2 of the same year, from the same disease. Now this is called diphtheria

Of his 5 sons left, Peter was resident of Reading and on Board of Selectmen. Jacob was Harvard Grad. 1756, Minister, schoolmaster, town clerk, deacon. John was a farmer. Brown was Harvard Grad. 1778 and minister. Timothy was a soldier in Revolutionary War, and one of the famous Massachusetts Militia at Lexington. Brother Jacob was a soldier also in Greene's Reg., in Wood's reg. and chaplain at forts in Boston Harbor. He had been a soldier at Lake George in 1758-59. Many first and second cousins also served in Revolutionary War.

TIMOTHY I EMERSON

Timothy Emerson I, son of Brown and Sarah Townsend Emerson, was born at Reading, Mass. May 24, 1746 and died at Ashby, Mass. May 19, 1788 at age 42 as a result of health broken by soldiering in the Revolution. He married first Jan. 19, 1773 to Mary Felch of Reading who was born 1749 and died Oct. 7, 1779. They resided at Ashby. Mr. Emerson married second, Mrs. Rachael Walker, a widow, who lived but a short time thereafter. He married third, Frances Prescott, who survived him and was living as late as 1807.

Mr. Emerson was a soldier in Jones Company, Prescott's Regiment at the Lexington Alarm, the famous Massachusetts Militia. He was in Gage's Company, Gerrish's Regiment on Winter Hill during the battle of Breed's Hill better known as Battle of Bunker Hill. He was in Porter's Company, Howe's Regiment in 1780 in the Carolinas. Fortunately a scrap of a letter written by him to his wife in his early soldiering has survived him and is as follows:

"Having, my dear, an opportunity to send you a line, I embrace it, nothing doubting but it will be as satisfactory to you as it is pleasing me. We arrived in camp last Wednesday morning.

I am in good health and we are all Ashby people. We are stationed in Barracks, a little east of the College. Our accommodations are much more comfortable than I feared they would be."

His first wife, Mary Felch Emerson, died Oct. 7, 1779, when her son Caleb was only 6 weeks old. Timothy, Ed's, great, great, grandfather was only 2 years old. A sister Mary was 6. Caleb was raised by a Samuel and Elizabeth family of Mason, N.H. He was a lawyer and editor at Marietta Ohio and had one daughter. He came to Ohio in 1808 as a teacher. He was also a licensed preacher of the Baptist faith.

Timothy I lost his health in the Revolutionary War and his property by Continental Money and died when Timothy II was 11 years old. He had remarried twice and also left 5 year old twin daughters, Sarah and Rebecca. They also had a sister, Abigail, fondly called by her father, Nabby.

At the start of the Revolutionary War, it was not uncommon for officers and men alike to support themselves, with horses, gun and ammunition, clothing and food. It was only natural that they made a plea to the New Continental Congress for re-embursement of their expenses.

A pernicious system of bounties was instituted in 1776 to attract patriotic volunteers to enlist into the Army. Beginning with $20 and 100 acres of land these bonuses grew to offers of clothing, of more land and of $200 in currency. Due to the inflationary spiral with the depreciation of the Continental currency, these bonuses meant little yet many a soldier enlisted, deserted, then re-enlisted causing almost utter confusion when Washington tried to get a count of his men. Most enlistment periods were three years. ---From N.N.Hills Jr. History of Coshocton County, O. 1740 to 1881.

Timothy served under Colonel Elish Parter of the Massachusetts Militia. Militia units went back to the 17th century Train Bands. Ninety nine years before men had swarmed out of their villages to answer the call for King Phillips War. Later the French Wars, Indian raids, and incursions had sent them into the field. They existed as a matter of law, and old statutes required a certain amount of drill by all able-bodied men and the possession of a musket, powder and shot by all members.

Timothy served under Colonel Elisha Porter of the Massachusetts Militia in Howe's Regiment until 1780 in the Carolinas. Major Gen. Robert Howe was Commander of American forces in Georgia, retreated to South Carolina. Was ineffective until reinforced with a strong force of New England troops on Jan. 20, 1780, who were known for their bravery.

The battle of Lexington Alarm was at 10 o'clock April 18, 1775. Timothy was in Jones Company, Prescott's Reg.

Winter Hill is in the north west sector of Boston, where Timothy was stationed in Gage's Co. Gerrish's Reg., during battle of Breed's Hill known at Bunker Hill in History books. British were in Boston Harbor. Americans were defending with Gen. Putnam, with center forces and reserves. Gen. Ward with American right wing was on south west Boston. And Gen. Lee with American Left Wing forces were on Boston's north west protecting Winter Hill and road to Lexington and Concord. Timothy was on Winter Hill on the Mystic River during the battle. The Americans lost. --From R. Ernest and Trevor N. Dupuy, The Compact History of the Revolutionary War. 1963.

Any of you descendents who wish to join the D.A.R.--here is your proof of your Revolutionary Ancestors.

In 1796 Congress set aside a certain division of land to satisfy the claims of officers and soldiers of the Revolutionary War. It included 2,500,000 acres between Greenville treaty line and congress and refugee lands in Ohio.

We can only conjecture that Timothy I had earned land warrants for his efforts and almost worthless Continental Money as he is said to have lost his wealth. His health was broken also so he was unable to use the warrants in a far away land.

Keene Twp. First Settled By Devoted Woodsman

George Bible, the Daniel Boone of Coshocton county, was recognized by many as the first settler of what is now Keene township.

The old sportsman, who was a good example of the Boone type of pioneer, came to Keene township before 1800 from Virginia. He loved the solitude of the woods and was the happiest when roaming them with his dog and gun.

He built a small log cabin in the wilderness and spent the winter months by the fireplace, far from the haunts of busy men.

Another early settler was James Oglesby, who came from Virginia. He was said to have traveled up the Muskingum and Walhonding rivers, in true Indian style, in a canoe.

Bartholomew Thayer and Samuel Wiley were Revolutionary soldiers who arrived in the township shortly after 1800. Mrs. Thayer died in 1825 and Mr. Thayer in 1826. Both were buried in the township.

Jesse Beal, founder of the village of Keene, was a native of Nelson, Cheshire county, New Hampshire. He died in 1835 at the age of 45.

Adam Johnson, father of old Dr. M. Johnson of Roscoe, and Dr. Benjamin Hill, both born in New Hampshire, came to Keene in 1820. Dr. Hill returned to New England and died after burying his wife in the old Keene burial ground. Mr. Johnson, who wore a queue, was a student of philosophies.

James Pew, a soldier in the War of 1812, lived in the township many years.

Benton and Farwell, natives of New Hampshire, built the first grist and sawmill in Keene township. Robert Farwell kept a hotel for many years at Keene.

The first justice of peace in the township was William Livingston. He died in 1840 at the age of 72.

Andrew and Elisha Elliott and Henry Ramsey, all immigrants from Ireland, arrived in Keene township shortly after the turn of the 19th century.

Another of the pioneers was Timothy Emerson, who died in 1873 at the age of 96. He was a native of Asby, Mass., and a farmer.

Later arrivals in the township were Jonas Child, Cancery Litchfield, Calvin Adams, Samuel Stone, Jacob Emerson and John Sprague, all natives of Cheshire county, N.H.

The township was named after Keene, the county seat of Cheshire county, N.H.

John Crowley, for many years the oldest native Virginian in the township lived to be almost 100 years old. He was at one time in the state legislature and served a term as sheriff of this county.

By coincidence, the death of two centenarians, M. R. Humphrey, 103, and Mr. Oglesby, 100 occurred in the township on the same day.

The Coshocton Wochenblatt, a German-language newspaper, was the only newspaper ever published in a foreign language in Coshocton county. It lasted some 25 years. (Sec. B).

Oxford Twp. May Have Held First County Settlement

It was 150 years ago when Oxford township, situated in the extreme eastern end of the county, was first organized. It is reported that the first settlement in the county was made in this township.

The Mulvanes were among the first settlers of the township. They arrived in 1810. Joseph Mulvane was the owner of a keel-boat which plied between New Philadelphia and Zanesville, carrying all kinds of freight.

A ferry was established very early at the John Miskimens' place in the eastern part of the township. The first bridge in the subdivision was built at Miskimens' crossing.

Orange, on the north bank of the Tuscarawa's river, was laid out in 1839.

Between Orange and Isleta is a stone building 14 feet square and 10 feet to the eaves. Called the Stone Fort, it once had a gabled roof and sandstone walls 22 inches thick.

Long ago the floor of the second story and the west walls collapsed. Marks of bullets were evident on the outside walls. A few years ago, the Coshocton County Historical Society made repairs to the old Stone Fort, which is now a historic relic of past encounters between forgotten foes.

Revolutionary War Named Bethlehem Twp.

William Speaks, a Revolutionary war veteran and the oldest resident in the county, had the honor of naming Bethlehem township founded 160 years ago—in 1801.

During the same year, William and Samuel Morrison, Ira Kimberley and James Craig moved into the township. The Morrisons and Kimberleys came from old Virginia.

Craig, after a few years, moved to Coshocton, where he and all his family died, about 1814, of "cold plague," later known in medical circles as influenza.

John Bantham of Virginia and Henry Carr of Maryland came to Bethlehem township in 1806. The Burrells were early settlers of the township. Joseph Burrell died in the township in August, 1874, being about 80 years of age.

Benjamin Fry, occupying the land at Fry's Ford, was also an early settler.

Adam Markley, who had the largest family—eight sons and four daughters—moved into the township in 1808. Barbara Markley, one member of the family, lived to be 95 years old.

Tragedy struck the family when John Markley was killed by George Arnold in 1816 during an election day fracas at Coshocton. David Markley, who resided in Canal Lewisville for many years, was a descendant of the early settlers of the county.

(Gen.6) (#384) TIMOTHY II

Timothy II son of Timothy I and Mary Felch Emerson, was born in Ashby, Mass. July 1, 1777 and died at Keene, Ohio, Oct.30, 1873 at age 96. He married Mary (Polly) Trowbridge, dau. of Edmund and Elizabeth (Wiswall) Trowbridge of Newton, Mass. where she was born Aug.11, 1782. She died at Keene, Ohio Sept.10, 1859

Timothy II was 2 when his mother died and 11 when his father died. He went to live with his Uncle Peter in Boston where he learned the shoemaker trade. Upon his marriage to Miss Trowbridge of Newton he returned to Ashby where he resided until 1814 when he moved to Hancock N.H. where an academy was located. This was common and an easy way to educate his children. He emigrated to Keene, Ohio in Aug. 1818, where he arrived Sept.18, 1818 the last day of the week. The next day a band of men, armed with guns, came to welcome the newcomer. He received them cordially and proposed that they unite with him in a prayer meeting. He conducted the meeting and offered the first public prayer in Coshocton County. The same year he organized a Sabbath School and assisted in organizing a Presbyterian Church, was elected ruling Elder which office he held to the day of his death. His wife died Sept.10, 1859 at age 77. A widowed daughter, Mrs. LeRittley, cared for him the rest of his life. His mental faculties remained clear and strong to the last. He lived a beautiful life, was respected and esteemed by all who knew him; was strictly honest and upright in all his business and social relations and was buried at Keene beside his beloved wife and children. Grand-children and great grandchildren also lie nearby in the same cemetery. He had 8 children when he came to Ohio and 2 more were born here. He moved his family to Ohio with the family of his first cousin Jacob whose first wife Dorcus Knight, had died in Hancock and he had remarried Martha Spalding. He had 8 children also by his first wife and presumably all came with him except perhaps his oldest daughter who was 19 at the time.

In History of Coshocton County--Timothy Emerson II was a citizen of Keene Township from 1818 until 1873, came from Ashby, Mass. He reached the good old age of 96--was a farmer-- died Oct.30, 1873, just as arrangements were being carried out for removal to Granville where two children resided. He was greatly beloved, "a good man".

His daughter Elizabeth was the one who cared for him in older age. She had married Mar.6, 1832 to Hiram K. Farmer. He died in 1838 and she married second on June 2, 1839 to James LeRittley of Roscoe, O. She came to Ohio when she was 10 and wrote the following of the experience later in life:

I was but ten years of age, and my recollections of our leaving New Hampshire, also of the journey, are very meagre and fragmentary. He left Hancock, Aug.11, 1818, our family consisting of father, mother and eight children. We traveled in company with Henry Jewett, his wife and four children; Calvin Adams; John Burton and Waldo Tuell, millwrights, whom Jacob Emerson had induced to move to Ohio and build a mill. The wagon we traveled in father bought of General Hull, who lived in Newton, Mass. It was one he had brought home from Detroit after the surrender in 1812. Generally at night I was tired and ready to fall asleep, regardless of place or even supper. We never traveled on Sunday, except once, when we had stopped at a place on Saturday night that proved very objectionable; because settlers were not a Sabbath keeping people. We were detained some days in Buffalo, where we saw plenty of Indians. One old squaw had her papoose strapped to her back. At Buffalo, our wagons were taken to pieces and placed on a schooner bound for Cleveland, Ohio. Our company (except father and Mr. Burton, who took the horses by land), went on board. We stopped opposite Erie, Pa. to let a sick lady, who was a deck passenger, land; also, the captain of the vessel left us here to see his sick wife who lived there, and we were in charge of the matc. On the lake, that night, we encountered a severe storm; the boat pitching and rolling so that we could not rest. At one lurch, the cupboard doors flew open, and sea biscuit rolled over the floor. All of the passengers were sick. Mother was so ill she could not attend to the children, and entrusted them to Calvin Adam's care. One sailor said "we will all go to hell". When we arrived at Cleveland, mother was still so ill she could scarcely walk up the hill to the house where we stopped. There were only three dwelling houses there. There was an orchard, and the owner gave us children permission to gather all the apples from the ground that we wanted, but not to take any from the trees. After leaving Cleveland, our horses gave out, and father hired a Dutchman to bring us on our way some distance; his two horses, a strong, willing team, were called "Pete" and "Jolly". When we reached Dowdy Fork, there had been so much rain and the creek was so high, that we were detained three days. We reached our destination Saturday, 18 September, 1818, just six weeks on the way.

We lived that winter in a little cabin ten feet square, with sleeping apartment above. Father added that fall another sleeping room, a leanto, which had no floor; there father and mother slept.-----Reminiscence of Mrs. E. W. LeRitiley of the journey from New Hampshire to Ohio, in 1818.

How did Timothy II and his cousin, Jacob, obtain their land in Ohio? It is interesting to note that both of their fathers had been soldiers in the Revolution and were given land warrants when they were mustered out of service. As neither father as far as we know, ever came to Ohio it is presumed never used these warrants. Timothy was only 42 when he died. Timothy II, as his oldest son, who was only 11 when his father died, probably inherited his father's land warrants and very little else. These were his future and how fortunate he was able to bring his family of 8 children to the wilderness and purchase a farm with these old land warrants.

Hunt (History of Coshocton County) has stated: Many of the lands were entered with land warrants at a nominal cost. Many acres sold from $1 to $3 each.

Townships by law were 6 miles square, 640 acres to a section and thus 36 sections to a township. 1 section set aside for schools; that is, the proceeds from this section was for support of schools. Sections were then divided and much trouble arose at first because whole sections had to be purchased at once and no one could afford them. Speculators bought up warrants cheap, bought land and resold it dearly. Whether Timothy and Jacob were caught in this controversy we do not know. Jacob probably came first, sent for Timothy and millwrights. We do know Jacob built his mill on lot 14, north west quarter. Timothy settled on lot 12. Both came in 1818.

On June 1, 1796, Congress set aside United States Military District Lands in Ohio. They included all of Coshocton County, part of Tuscarawas. greater part of Holmes, Delaware, Jackson, Wayne, etc.

KEENE, OHIO

Keene had emerged from Jesse Beal's forest as a little leaky log cabin school and advanced to tavern and stores. The northwestern portion of Keene township was settled principally by New Englanders, most of whom were from Cheshire County New Hampshire. Among the earliest and best known settlers were Timothy Emerson II, Jacob Emerson, his first cousin, Jesse Beals, Adam Johnson, Robert Farwell, Zother Farwell, Dr. Benjamin Hiss, Calvin Adams, John Burton, Henry Jewett, Samuel Stove, Jerras Child, and Chauncy Litchfield. (Note: Timothy II and Jacob's fathers were brothers--Timothy I and John, sons of Brown and Sarah Townsend Emerson.)

Timothy II and his family came in 1818 from Hancock, N. H. where they had lived for 5 or 6 years so children could attend the academy. They had come from Ashby, Mass. They settled on lot 12, Keene Township. The first Sunday School in Keene township owes its existence to his efforts.

The earliest township records preserved are for the year 1828 and show that during that year officers of the township were: Timothy Emerson, John Roders and George Ford--Trustees. John Dougherty and James Pew-fence viewers. Henry Barnes, -clerk. E. Thayer--Justice of Peace. Jacob Emerson - Constable.

In 1818 Jacob Emerson built a mill on lot 14 of northwest quarter. He sold it later to the Farwells. It suspended operation about 1859.

Keene Township Church was first held under trees. Rev. James Cunningham, living in Utica, Licking County, as early as 1818, occasionally traveled to Coshocton County and preached to what was denominated as the Congregation of Coshocton and Mill Creek. The prominent members of the congregation in which were fifteen communicants were Timothy and Jacob Emerson and wives in Keene neighborhood. Services were held in pleasant weather under the trees of the forest. The oldest sessional records now assembled is dated July 14, 1827. Rev. Thomas Barr preached to 15 members. Elders were Timothy Emerson II and James Renfrew. Keene church became a separate church in 1833 and a church was erected in 1834 by Charles Farwell; It was described as a large frame structure most substantially built among several acres dotted with young forest trees. Before church was built they met in cabins or the school house. The present church was built in 1878 or 1879. It remains much the same today (1971) except a large wing has been added and the trees have grown huge and the cemetery is filled with graves. This church was the twin church of the Presbyterian Church in Coshocton and was incorporated in 1835, Feb. 25.

SURROUNDING TOWNS IN EARLY 1800'S.

West Lafayette was in its roadhouse cradle. Evansburg, afterwards called Orange, flourished as a canal port with warehouse, tannery, tavern and store. One lost town was Millsville, mapped out by a John Mills "on the branch of the Tuscarawas" at "the great bend" near present Orange. It also had its public square and Main and Walnut streets. On paper only! Keene was county seat for a time.

In Roscoe, James Le Ritley (married later to Elizabeth, sister of Timothy III) set up a dry good center in a log cabin; grew prominent in trade circles. He was associate judge of the county. He had made salt at the rate of 6 bushel a day and sold each at $3 each and had acquired the capital to open his store. He was in partnership with a William Wood. In 1830 he traded for venison hams at 25 cents each.

The first corn was planted along the Tuscarawas in 1801. Prices in Keene in 1818 were--wheat 75 ¢ a bu. but dropped to 50¢ in a few years. Corn was 33¢--oats 33¢, whiskey 37¢ a gallon pure. 100 cigars were 37½¢.

Local tanneries were set up that brought the price of shoes to $1.25 to $2.37½.

Mail came by horseback at 25¢ a letter. 25 days from Philadelphia.

The state put a premium of $2.40 on every wolf scalp and $1.50 on panther and wild cat scalps to stop the killing of live stock.

In summer of 1812 a Joseph Williams killed 84 rattlesnakes in the area and there weren't many after that.

Some saltpeter, used for making gun powder in War of 1812, was collected a few miles south of Roscoe. The caves formed by projecting rocks had in the decomposed stone on their floors a great deal of nitrate of lime, which being leached with wood ashes and exposed to air and sun, gave nitrate of potash: a high prices material in those wartimes to make powder.

In 1830 land was up to $9.00 an acre. A record of lots in Coshocton that were sold at a sheriff sale were for $6 and $10 each. A few years later after a bridge was built at Coshocton, land sold for $15 an acre.

The Ohio canal was built from 1827 to 1833 and Walhounding Canal was started in 1836 and finished in 1842. This ran from Roscoe to Rochester-- 25 miles long at a cost of $607,268.99.

TIMOTHY EMERSON III

Timothy Emerson III , the third child of Timothy II and Mary "Polly" Trowbridge Emerson was born in Ashby, Mass. Mar.30, 1806 and died at Keene Nov.26, 1878 at the age of 72 years, 7 months and 27 days. He is buried in Keene Cemetery along with his wife.

He was 12 years old when his father brought his family to Ohio in 1818. He became a farmer and mill owner and operated the mill built by his Uncle Jacob in 1818. It suspended operation in 1859. Later he built with John Wolfe a flour mill at the old canal lock. He later purchased Mr. Wolfe's interest, conducting the mill alone up to within a year of his death when he sold the property.(1877)

Either this mill or the one built by Jacob was known as a small town at one time and referred to as Emerson's Mill.

He married Annora Preston, Nov.25, 1830. She was born in 1808 and died Mar.6, 1887 at age 79. They had 7 children and William Henry was their oldest son and Edgar's grandfather.

TIMOTHY EMERSON III

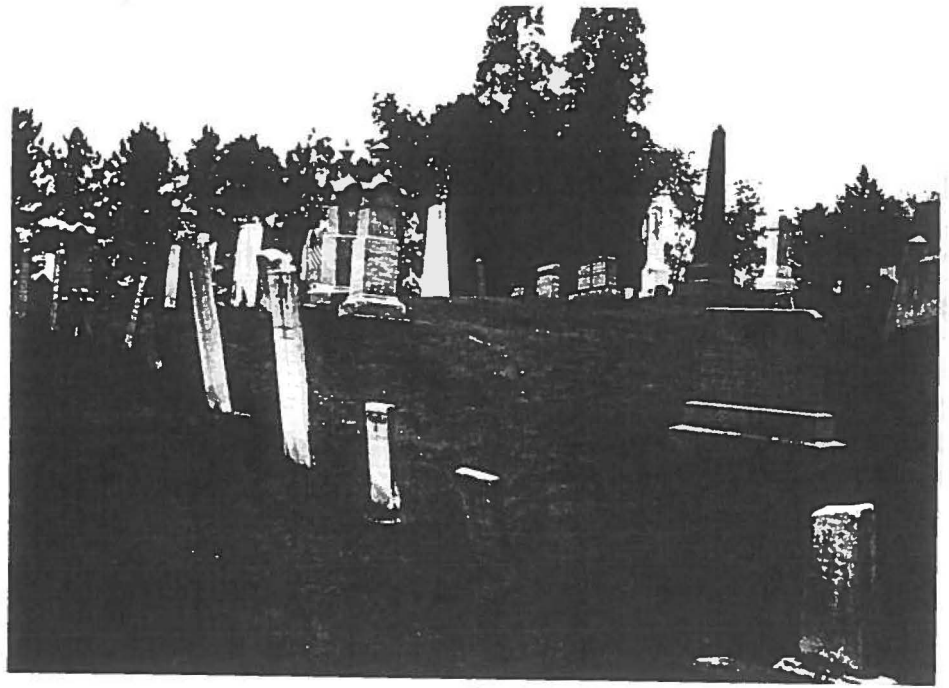

Timothy Emerson III, the third child of Timothy II and Mary "Polly" Trowbridge Emerson was born in Ashby, Mass. Mar. 30, 1806 and died at Keene Nov. 26, 1878 at the age of 72 years, 7 months and 27 days. He is buried in Keene Cemetery along with his wife.

He was 12 years old when his father brought his family to Ohio in 1818. He became a farmer and mill owner and operated the mill built by his Uncle Jacob in 1818. It suspended operation in 1859. Later he built with John Wolfe a flour mill at the old canal lock. He later purchased Mr. Wolfe's interest, conducting the mill alone up to within a year of his death when he sold the property. (1877)

Either this mill or the one built by Jacob was known as a small town at one time and referred to as Emerson's Mill.

He married Annora Preston, Nov. 25, 1830. She was born in 1808 and died Mar. 6, 1887 at age 79. They had 7 children and William Henry was their oldest son and Edgar's grandfather.

Their section of the genealogy follows:

This is our place in the geneology. Of these 7 children only William
 listed Harriets children on the next page. William Henry had 7 children and each one left descendents. So I have a seperate section for each of his seven children. With a little study I think you will have no problem following the pattern I have established, and you will be able to find your place in this history of the Emersons.

Great Uncle Milton Wolfe lived in West Lafayette with daughter Ina. Ed remembers visiting him. At one time showed Ed three diamonds un-set. Ed dropped one and it fell between floor boards. It is hoped that it was recovered the next day.

Pictures and story of Harriet and Milton Wolfe appear in History of Coshocton County, 1908, page 434-4388 . Milton was a shoemaker at Orange, a Corporal in Company E, 142 Ohio Vol.Inf.. He owned 320 acres in Kansas. He wanted to move to Kansas but his wife was ill and they settled on 159 acres in Oxford Township, his wife's father, Timothy III gave to them. Farmed for years then rented the farm and moved to Emerson's Mills where he had a boot and shoe and general grocery for 4 years and then retired to live with daughter Ina in West Lafayette. He and Ina traveled to 2 years and 43 days in 1868 to the west and as far north as British Columbia.

WILLIAM HENRY EMERSON

From N.N. Hill Jr. History of Coshocton, Ohio 1740-1881

"Emerson, W.H.. Oxford Township, deceased; was born in this country in 1833, was eldest son of Timothy Emerson and was married to Miss Anna Norris in 1855. The result of this union was seven children as follows: William F., Mary Anora, Timothy C., Henry Seigel, Sherman Elmer, U.S. Grant, Sheridan Alverton . She is a member of the M.E. church at Wesley Chapel; her fathers name was William Norris. Mr. Emerson owned at the time of his death, 253 acres of good land in the township and was respected as an honest, upright man, by a large circle of friends. He died on the 17th of April 1874." He is buried in the Powel Cemetery.

NOTE: These "historians" of counties were often money making projects undertaken by some ambitious person. Families often paid to have an article about their family included. However, today, it is a thrill to run across one from one's own ancestors, as these vignettes often contain information we would not otherwise have. They make these shadowy forefathers come alive.

Anna Norris, wife of William Henry. was the daughter of William and Catherine Reed Norris. Her father was born in Virginia and her mother was a native of Coshocton County. Rev. Wareham married them and witnesses to the marriage were William Norris- Charity Norris . Anna was born Jan.20, 1834 and died May 22, 1912.

MRS ANNA A. (NORRIS) EMERSON

From Centennial History--History of Coshocton County.--Bahmer 1909 Vol.2

"Mrs. Anna A. Emerson, a resident of Isleta, was born in Coshocton County on a farm in Adam township, Jan. 20, 1834, her parents being William and Catherine (Reed) Norris. Her father was born in Virginia while her Mother, a native of Ohio, came to Coshocton County with her father when this was an almost unbroken wilderness. He took up government land upon which not a furrow had been turned nor an improvement made, and in the midst of a forest he built a log cabin, which continued to be his home until his death. Mrs. Emerson was one of a family of seven children and is the only one now living. Her father died in 1874 and her mother passed away in 1840.

Many changes have occurred in Coshocton County during the lifetime of Mrs. Emerson, who is now numbered among the old residents here, having lived within its borders for seventy-four years. In her girlhood days many of the homes on the farms were built of logs and were heated by broad open fireplaces, while tallow candles were used for illuminating purposes. The farm machinery too, was very crude in comparison with that in use at the present time, but as the years have gone by many changes have been made in the methods of life and the Emerson family have always kept in touch with modern ideas of farming. It was on the 15th of April, 1855, that Anna A. Norris left her parents' home and gave her hand in marriage to William H. Emerson, who was born in this county in 1833. His father, Timothy Emerson was a native of Mass., and on coming to this county built a flourmill at the old canal lock in partnership with John Wolfe, whose interest he later purchased, conducting the mill alone up to within a year of his death, when he sold the property. He was one of a family of seven children, was reared to agricultural pursuits and though out his entire life followed the occupation of farming. He carefully tilled the fields, raising such crops as were best adapted to soil and climate, and as the years passed by he brought his land under a high state of cultivation and became one of the prosperous farmers of the community. At the time of his death he owned 255 acres of good land in Oxford township, and upon his place were many modern improvements, which stood as a monument to his thrift and labor.

Unto Mr. and Mrs. Emerson were born the following children: William F. who carries on the home farm; Mary Annora, the wife of Theodore Powell, who died leaving a daughter, Leota, who is now a resident of Old Philadelphia; Timothy C., deceased; Henry Siegel, who was killed on the Pennsylvania Railroad; Sherman Elmer, who is living in Alabama; Neva, who makes her home with Mrs. Emerson (referring here to Sherman's daughter, Neve); U.S. Grant, a miller, residing in New Comerstown; and Sheridan A., who is conducting a bakery business in New Comerstown.

Mr. Emerson was a man of straightforward principles, whose life was upright and who enjoyed the respect and good will of all with whom he came in contact. He was honest in all his dealings and was never known to take advantage of the necessities of another in a business transaction. To his family he was a devoted husband and father and his loss was the occasion of deep regret, when, on the 17th of April, 1874 he passed away. He gave his support to the Republican party but never sought nor desired public office, preferring to give his undivided attention to his business interests, in which he met with creditable success. Mrs. Emerson still owns the old home farm of 255 acres and derives a gratifying annual income from it. " (She died in 1912)

I have tried to fill in all of the descendants of these 7. You will find your own section by the above grandfather. I know I have made errors for which I apologize and much information I did not receive. However this is a living history of a family and each of you are entrusted to make corrections in your section and continue to add birth dates and death dates as they occur. I also feel we owe it to those who come after us to write down what we know about our parents and our grandparents, to make their lives more than just a recorded name and two dates. This is a proud family. And well they may be. Very few families have existed with records down thru the years, nor have many had the distinguished and upright men and women we find here. I have found this searching fascinating.

On the following records you may find W L to mean West Lafayette, P to mean Powell Cemetery, NCT as an abbreviation for NewComerstown etc.

Ben Emerson Dies in Kansas

Word was received Tuesday evening by Mrs. Anna Patterson, Goodrich street, of the death of her brother, Sergeant, "Ben," H. H. Emerson, retired, who died at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Ft. Leavenworth hospital, Kansas.

Mr. Emerson, who was 53, had been ill for the past one and a half years.

He was the son of the late Timothy and Mary Emerson and was born at Orange, Feb. 6, 1887. His early life was spent in this vicinity until he joined the U. S. Army when 17. He saw active service abroad during the World War and since then has been stationed at the army post at Ft. Leavenworth until his retirement several years ago. His only son Robert is also an army man, being a transcontinental air pilot.

Surviving are his wife, Marie, his son Robert, five sisters, Mrs. Anna Patterson of Newcomerstown, Mrs. Ella Harrold of Cleveland, Mrs. Nora Long of Uhrichsville, Mrs. Ina Hirsch of Houston, Texas and Mrs. Helen Krumhar of Sandusky and one brother Charles Emerson of Warren, R. D.

Funeral services will be held Friday at Leavenworth, Kansas.

H. H. EMERSON DIES IN WEST

H. H. "Ben" Emerson, 53, retired sergeant in the United States army, died yesterday at the veterans' hospital at Wadsworth, Kans., according to word received by Tuscarawas county relatives. He had been ill for 18 months.

He was born near Grange on Feb. 6th, 1887, the son of Timothy and Mary Emerson, and spent his early life in Newcomerstown.

He joined the army when 17 years of age and served many years.

Surviving are his wife, Marie; one son, Robert, Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.; five sisters, Mrs. Anna Patterson, Newcomerstown; Mrs. Ella Harrold, a Cleveland; Mrs. Nora Long, Uhrichsville; Mrs. Ina Hirsch, Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Helen Krumhar, Sandusky, and one brother, Charles, Warren. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at Ft. Leavenworth.

One was chaplain to a Southern regiment in the earlier Mexican War. Some died during the Civil War; one, just at its close, was captured and killed by Red Indians. The Powells spread to many States, moving as far south as Texas.

John Francis Powell, Jr., and his sons, still farm 240 acres of the White Eyes lands, bought in 1832 by Thomas Joseph Powell with the proceeds of his Radnorshire properties. The names 'Francis' and 'Frances' have been given (on both sides of the Atlantic) since at least 1778, when a daughter of William Powell, Lord Oxford's steward, was so named. Surely this indicates William Powell's own grandfather was Francis (rather than Roger) Williams of Builth, in which case the name goes back to the 17th century. An asparagus bed now marks at White Eyes the site of the first pioneering log cabin.⁹

Descent of Powells of White Eyes, Ohio, and kindred American branches from William Powell (1741/2—1799).

WILLIAM POWELL, of Clyro & Llanigon, officer of excise: bapt. 1 Jan. 1716/7: m. 28 Nov. 1740, Elizabeth, d. of Francis Williams, of Builth: had (with daughters) issue:

Enumeration of Youth

New Comerstown Village Dist
~~In Sub District No.~~

Orford Township,
Two Carawas County, Ohio,

Taken July 1897

IN USING THIS BOOK OBSERVE THE FOLLOWING:

1. The first column shows the whole number enumerated. In the second column enter the names of all persons enumerated. In using the third column, headed "Ages," enter the age of each person enumerated opposite such name, and UNDER THE PROPER HEADING of Male or Female.

2. In the next columns make a mark opposite the names of all such persons as are between 6 and 8, 8 and 14, 14 and 16, and 16 and 21 years of age.

3. The remaining columns are to be used to report the number of youth enumerated (if any) residing in the Western Reserve, the Virginia Military District, the U. S. Military District, and in any original surveyed township or fractional township; to which belongs section sixteen, or other land in lieu thereof, or any other lands for the use of schools, or any interest in the proceeds of such lands. Each class should be properly designated at the head of such column. If yours is a joint sub-district, enumerate all youth who reside in the respective fractions of townships, designating them in their proper column. A joint sub-district belongs to the township in which the school house is situated.

Read also the law respecting enumeration of youth on the last page of this book.

Ex-County Resident Killed In Accident

Mrs. David Long, East Second street, Uhrichsville, received word Wednesday night, that her sister, Mrs. Ina Emerson Hirsch, wife of Joseph N. Hirsch, 2110 Austin street, Houston, Tex., was killed almost instantly when the car which she was driving was struck by a train on the outskirts of Houston. The accident occurred at 5 p. m., Wednesday.

Mrs. Hirsch was born near Orange, Coshocton county. She was a resident of Cleveland for many years, and lived in Uhrichsville for a short time before moving to Texas ten years ago.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Palmer of the home, one son, Lt. Emerson Hirsch, stationed at Chicago, four sisters, Mrs. David Long of Uhrichsville, Mrs. Annie Patterson, New comerstown, Mrs. Ella Harold, Cleveland, and Mrs. Helen Krumber, Sandusky, one brother, Charles Emerson of Warren, O., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at Houston, Saturday afternoon.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Joe Hirsch, the former Ina Emerson, was killed in an automobile accident at Houston, Texas, Wednesday, according to word received here.

Mrs. Hirsch was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Emerson, who lived here several years ago and later moved to Cleveland. She was 52 years of age.

Surviving are her husband, two children, Lt. Emerson Hirsch and Beatrice of the home, two grandchildren, four sisters and one brother, Mrs. Anna Patterson, Goodrich st., Mrs. Nora Long, Uhrichsville, Mrs. Helen Krumber, Sandusky, Mrs. Ella Harold, Cleveland, and Charles Emerson of Phalanx, Ohio.

Mrs. Patterson, 82, Is Taken By Death

Mrs. Anna Patterson, 82, died Wednesday, Feb. 6, at the home of her son, William R. Patterson, RD 3, where she had made her home the past 14 years. She had been in ill health for some time.

She was born at Orange, Aug. 28, 1880, a daughter of Timothy and Mae Bassett Emerson. She was married Dec. 16, 1901, to William J. Patterson, who died in Nov., 1921.

Mrs. Patterson leaves two daughters, Mrs. Raymond Deeslie, Newcomerstown, and Mrs. Earl Johns of Corning, Iowa; the son at whose home she died; two sisters, Mrs. Nora Long, Uhrichsville, and Mrs. Helen Waelde of Sandusky; one brother, Charles Emerson of Trauvaries, Fla.; seven grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. A son, one brother and three sisters are deceased.

She was a member of Trinity Methodist church, The Queen Esther class, American Legion Auxiliary and the Royal Neighbors of America lodge.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Addy funeral home, conducted by Rev. Edwin Eshelman, and burial, was made in West Lawn cemetery.

HURLED TO DEATH.

Siegle Emerson Killed Instantly by a Pan Handle Flyer.

This community was shocked on Thanksgiving morning by an appalling accident in which one of its most prominent and worthy citizens met instant death in a tragic manner.

The sad story, briefly told, is as follows: Mr. H. S. Emerson, who resided on the old C. O. D. fairgrounds, (which he purchased and beautified for a home residence,) had recently drilled a well for Geo. A. Porcher, the blacksmith, and started early Thursday morning for the clay works near Port Washington to get some tiling with which to case the well. As he was driving his team across the railroad tracks on Goodrich street a Pan Handle flyer dashed up at the rate of forty miles an hour, struck the horses squarely, hurled them fully 75 ft. away, demolished the wagon, and threw Mr. Emerson 50 or more feet, breaking both of his arms and dashing his head against the end of a tie, crushing the back of his skull and killing him instantly.—His body was not mutilated, but the horses were torn in pieces.

Perhaps the only witness of the frightful tragedy, and the first to view its awful results, was Benjamin Murphy, who resides near the crossing. The sad intelligence circulated quite rapidly, especially by phone, and the whole town and community was soon apprised of the startling event, and many gathered to view the scene and render whatever assistance they could.

Life was extinct when Mr. Emerson's body was reached, and his remains were borne immediately to Lydiok's undertaking morgue for inquest, which was held by Squire M. B. Kennedy, and subsequently by Coroner M. A. Romig, after which the body was prepared for burial.

It is not known whether Mr. Emerson had any intimation of the approaching train, nor what might have been the result had the train been running at lawful speed thru town, but it is probable the noise of his wagon and that of a freight train which had just passed over the crossing west-bound, caused him to be oblivious to impending danger. The day-watchman at the crossing had not gone on duty as yet, it being about 5:30 a. m. At that hour it was rather smoky and misty, making it difficult or even impossible for one to discern the headlight of an approaching train, even if such precaution had been taken. But it is probable that Mr. Emerson was not aware that a fast train was due at that moment, as no time-cards are now published in either of the town papers, by order of the railroad company, which is a lamentable fact and causes much inconvenience to the traveling public, and might have averted this terrible accident.

Mr. Emerson was born near Orange, Coshocton co., July 1862, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Emerson. His father died in 1874, but his mother still lives. He is survived also by four brothers—Frank Emerson of Evansburg, O., Sherman of Crichton, Ala., and U. S. G. and S. A. Emerson of Newcomerstown. He was twice married, his first wife being Laura Sells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sells of this city, and to them were born three children—Mrs. Erma (Charles) Hoglan of Neighbor st., and Alcie and George, at home.—His second wife was Rhodia Gibson-Boyd, to which union a daughter, little Mildred, was born; the wife and four children surviving.

Mr. Emerson was a kind, indulgent husband and father, a good neighbor and upright citizen. He was for years a faithful member of the M. E. church and was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

The funeral obsequies took place from the M. E. church last Saturday at 1:30 p. m., conducted by Pastor C. H. Harshman, whose remarks were full of pathos and comfort. Appropriate music was sung by the church choir, and beautiful floral offerings expressed esteem, love and sympathy without measure and with such emphasis as could not be conveyed to aching hearts by tender touch or language.

Mr. Emerson was an esteemed member of the Modern Woodmen, a number of whom took part in the burial ceremonies. He carried $3,000 insurance in this order.

Letter Sherman Emerson wrote when his wife Nevvie died.

May 5, 1891
Lincoln Co.

Dear Parents;-

This beautiful christian Sunday morning finds Ada, Bessie, Baby Nevvie and myself in good health. Mother arrived at Creston on Mon. eve. last in very good health. We are all alone at present. I do the milking & outdoor work & washing & Mother the cooking & seeing to the children. I went to meet her on Fri. & Sat. eve but she came over the Union Pacific R.R. which took longer than it would had she come over the Northern. She got in Spokane Falls on Sat. eve. too late to come out that eve. so must lay over there and come on to Creston on Mon. where I was waiting with my team & wagon for her. We reached home near 12 o'clock that night. How glad & thankful I was to see Mother at such a time. One who knew what the loss of a companion was. It seems to me none but those who have experienced such a loss can be truly Sympathetic in this most possible lonely hour.

While all things are so wisely planned by the Omnipotent God of the universe, yet by nature, at times we think, O could we know the future who different we would do.

God only knows how many times you were thought of by us while we were sick. But after I got able to go about & half care for the rest I probably averaged 3 hours sleep out of 24 for near 3 weeks. Nothing but anxiety could have ever kept me up to care for the sick. It seemed I could not sit down to read 3 minutes without going to sleep I never had written a word to anyone until the worst was over. I telegraphed to Mr. Joseph Wolfe the eve. Nevvie was so bad. They received the telegram at 10 o'clock at night & started here at 2 a.m. & expected to get to the top of the canyon by daylight but was delayed by the road being fenced in places. They reached here about 8 o'clock. They are Dear Good people. So affectionate, kind, and sympathetic.

I took down on the 20th of March. Nevvie, Ada, Bessie the next day. Three days before we were all feeling as well as we ever did. At this time our neighbors we lived a $3/4$ & 1 mile were all down with La Grippe & unable to assist us for near a week after we had been sick. I had been going to see one of them for a few days. Twice each day before I took down. But as soon as they got able they did everything in their power to help us. I soon commenced to amend & improved from that time on. Bessie was extremely low at one time. But they have appetites now like little grubbers. Nevvie took a terrible cough while with La Grippe which, as we thought, caused her confinement on Apr. 2, near a month sooner than we expected.

She seemed to get along nicely at time of confinement was all over in less than 2 hours after first pains. Baby weighed $5\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. after dressed. It has seemingly been perfectly well in every way and growing fast. Nevvie got along splendid until the Fifth day when she had some fever after which the Dr. was called & pronounced it Puerperal or Child-Bed Fever. He left me fever medicine & told me just what he wanted his medicine to do, which it seems to take the desired effect in every particular.

He was here on Thursday. Said he would like to hear from her on Sunday again. On Sat. and on Mon. again I sent my hired hand to him bearing a letter from me to the Dr. The Dr. thought she was getting along as well as could be expected, so did Nevvie. The fever was getting less & less each day but on Monday night near 11 or 12 o'clock Apr. 13th an abscess which had gathered on her lungs broke which kept her continually coughing & spitting up this corruption for probably 15 or 20 minutes after which she seemed much easier. I sent for the Dr. again in the evening, but as he had other patients to visit before he could come here, it was 11 o'clock next day before he got here.

When he came, after making a thorough examination, I asked him how she was. He answered, "Mr. Emerson, I will be honest with you. I don't think she can ever rally again." I said, "Dr. do you want council?" he said, "Mr. Emerson, I don't think all the Doctors in the world can save her now." Of course I was not satisfied at that so I had him write a note to Whitney of Davenport. The Dr. I ad from Wilber was Nevvie's choice as he was most popular of this part of the country. Dr. Whitney dispatched back to Creston that he would come that eve. on the train which was due about 6:30 P.M. So the man came back & expected to get my team & meet Dr. Whitney at the train but men who were here, Mr. Whitehead & Dr. Yount of Wilber, who could see that Nevvie Dearest Mama was passing over from this life to a more glorious state of existence, sent the man back to tell Dr. Whitney it was all invaine too late. This great & most terrible change as it seemed to be at present took place on Apr. 15th at 6:40 P.M. Even after the Dr. told me I could not think it possible that Dearest Mama must be taken from us. Near a week before her last in this world when she had a terrible fever in her head & feared she might not get well, she told me she wanted to be buried over at Mr. Wolfe's. When Mr. Wolfe came I told them her request. They said certainly she would be welcome to a resting place on their land but all farms must sooner or later change hands & as there was a new cemetery 3 miles North of them on the ridge the best of land & in a beautiful place visible to a very large portion of country, they thought, had she known this is where she would have desired to be laid. I thought the same, that what she wished was to be were those whom she loved most of this country might visit her grave & would probably some time be laid near her. These are things that you would probably love to know but O My God, My God, how hard it is to write them. I trust you have already written, so I will soon know what you think I had better do. I have many times thought & felt that I could not live without Nevvie. She was no near to me as my own flesh and blood.

When I could see she must go, there was a feeling came over me that could it have been the Lord's will that we could take our little Dears, I felt I was ready to go with Nevvie. God only knows.

We started from here near 8 O'clock A.M. reached the Cemetery about 5 o'clock P.M.

Went to Mr. Joseph Wolfe's that night & started home next day. The little folks not being able to go, were kept here by an old Lady and the Girl who had been living with us since our sickness began. When we were on our way to the Cemetery we were overtaken by the bearer of Mother's dispatch that she would start for my place on the following Monday. So when I came home I got those same women to stay until Mother could get here. I went to Creston on Fri. & Sat. eve. to meet Mother, but she arrived at Spokane Falls just one hour too late to come to Creston on Sat. eve. So she was compelled to lay over there until Monday. I was at Creston with my team ready & willing to receive the one who is next in my heart to the one who is now done with the cares, toils, joys, & sorrows that we all have to go through with in this world.

Nevvie being able to realize how her Dear Little Ones so much needed her Christian Motherly care & attention, was very anxious to again be restored to health, until she could see & feel it was the Lord's will that she should have to leave them. Then she was ready to go.

Nevvie was conscious until almost the very last. Had she not been able to speak it was plain to be seen that all was well. Probably one hour before her last in this unfriendly world, Nevvie called to see her little tears. They were all taken to her. When she gave each of them that Loving Mother's farewell kiss. She wanted my presence all the time as long as life remained hers. & the Great God of Heaven & Earth knows how hard it was for me to step back & let Death, Grim Death have her. When life was drawing to a close Nevvie caught me by the bosom & drew me nearer & nearer untill at last she raised both hands in the same position, with at Loving smile on her face as if to say, Thy Will, O God, not ours. O, to live the life & die the death of a Christian is my Greatest desire. Please remember your boy at a throne of grace. May Heavens choicest blessings be yours.

Sherman.

P.S. Please let Bell & Hannah read this letter. I have written to Isaac, also to Frank & requested them to let Hester read his.

P.P.S. Nevvie's Funeral sermon will be preached if not preventing Providence on the 24th day of May at Mr. Wolfe's School House by Rev. St. Clair, an M.E. minister at 3 o'clock P.M.

(It was Grandmother Anna Emerson that went to Washington and brought Nevie home with her on a pillow on the train. She raised Nevie.)

DIED IN ALABAMA.

Former Resident of this Section Succumbs to Typhoid Fever.

Sherman E. Emerson died Tuesday, March 16, of typhoid fever at his home in Mobile, Ala., where he was engaged in the insurance business. A telegram announcing his serious illness was received by his brothers, U. S. G. and S. A. Emerson of this city last week, and on Sunday last his brother, Frank Emerson of Evansburg, took train for the South.

Had Mr. Emerson lived until July next he would have been 44 years of age. He was twice married. His first wife was Clara Norman, who died several years ago, and to this union were born three children—Ada, who is teaching school at Fresno; Bessie, who resided with her father in Mobile, and Genevive, who lives with her grandmother, Mrs. Ann Emerson, near Evansburg. His second wife was a Miss Ravner, whose parents resided near Coshocton. To their two children were born—a little daughter who died at the age of three, and a son who, with his mother survives the husband and father. The bereaved wife just returned home last Wednesday from a three months visit with friends in Ohio, unaware of her husband's serious illness.

The remains, accompanied by the sorrowing family, will arrive here Thursday on Pan Handle train No. 6, and will be removed to the home of the deceased's mother Mrs. Ann Emerson, near Evansburg, where the funeral services will be conducted.

A. Gooch, John Corry, Mrs. Ollie Olling, D. and Mrs. C. O. Baldwin. Have you the means for chastity and virtue in your community in which prior to the 16th of last Answer, you or no. Next a question—"What is the on, etc., good or bad?" testified that they had about the witness, but did say that they knew any about her chastity. The witness summoned by the plaintiff: Geo. Hagan, Dr. J. W. Riggles, Mrs. J. R. Wm. Hawk, Miss Anna R. T. Leach, Jacob Bah-D. Longshore and Olem. All testified that her reputation was good as far as they knew. In the midst of the examination for witnesses dinner time and court was adjourned until 2 o'clock. Other witnesses who were called were: Alf Peoples, sett, Miss Ada Zelnor and Alfred. A number of the witnesses were called twice. About 10 o'clock the testimony having all been given, a recess of 15 minutes was taken by Mayor Fryer and the legal warriors. The witness: H. Murphy, for the defendant, made the preliminary opening largely upon biblical quotations. He then cuttlingly upon the standard in general, and the various which were charged for the action of those who are the victims of this crime. He defended the defendant for not getting off the stand in his own defense, and for the attempt to make his client's character a matter of appropriation. He round the room at the conclusion of his address. Mr. T. J. Russell immediately stepped into the defense of his client, commenting upon his opponent's remarks. A serious rally went some times caused considerable amusement among the spectators. He used very little of the law in his address, and very little law, but his talk was convincing and made a deep impression. His denunciation of the plaintiff was particularly severe. Quibulations from the other side were followed by the other in rapid succession. His familiarity with the law was a masterly display. E. E. Lindsay, for the plaintiff, made the closing plea from the evidence. His point was very convincing. His intense, and earnest was very convincing.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

Mr. Emerson, of Mill Men, Sustains a Painful Injury.

Mr. Grant Emerson of this city was quite seriously injured, Wednesday morning, by being kicked in the abdomen near the left groin by a horse. The horse was in a stable on Albert Wolfe's farm near Islet, and just as Mr. Emerson entered the door the animal kicked him, knocking him fully eight feet away. The horse is not vicious, but was in a strange stall, and having his head in the manger when Mr. Emerson approached, and although he spoke to the horse as he entered, it is supposed the animal became frightened from some unknown cause. Mr. Emerson has rested fairly well since, and will no doubt recover.

Caught as if in a Trap.

While removing the wooden frame of a coalhouse from between D. L. Lydiek's building on Main street and Porter Mitchell's brick storeroom, last Friday, W. H. Lyons met with what might have proven a serious mishap. The framework of the coalhouse had all been removed except the west sidewall, which was temporarily held in position by a prop. The propatick happened to rest against a rotten board which gave way, and down came the sidewall, catching Mr. Lyons between it and Mitchell's brick building, effectually planting him to the wall so that he could not extricate himself without assistance. His head and neck were badly bruised and his jaw bones were almost crushed. He could not resume work for several minutes, and felt sick and dazed for quite a while. Mr. Lyons says he got it "in the neck" pretty badly, but luckily escaped serious injury.

Made His First Trip.

Mr. John A. Schlapp made his initial trip last Friday on rural free delivery route No. 6, from this city, to which service he was recently appointed, he having received the highest grade at the postal examination. Mr. Schlapp, aside from his natural abilities and genial disposition, is especially qualified for the position, because of his familiarity with postal affairs, having served as an assistant in the Newcomertown postoffice for several months past. Our city is so favorably located that it is but natural that so many rural routes have been established here, and it does not surprise us to find that five distinct routes have sufficient patronage to insure continuity and good service. In fact there are more rural routes established here than at any other point in the county. New Phil'a comes second with four routes, including the one to be established the 15th of next month.

Recovering Nicely.

We are pleased to say that the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lydiek is recovering most encouragingly from the shock and injuries which she sustained in the recent distressing accident. Reaction set in gradually and her hands are bending even more rapidly than could reasonably be expected. Little Frances is now being taken care of at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Shoemaker, and arrangements have been made by which her parents, together with Jesse O. Shaw and wife, are all in rendezvous at the Shoemaker home on State st., where they are taking their turns in giving the little child constant attention. She is taken out each day in a buggy for fresh air and diversion of mind from her injuries. She is getting along nicely, and withal, is quite cheerful.

Canal Bridge Finished.

The repairs on the lower canal bridge at this place, were completed on Friday of last week, and the work is well done, reflecting credit on Supt. Newhart and his efficient corps of assistants. Some delay was occasioned from the fact that certain metallic material did not arrive as soon as expected, but the inconvenience to travel was relieved somewhat by erecting a temporary foot bridge which proved very convenient and satisfactory. The width of the footwalk attached to the west side of the bridge was extended 18 inches or more and is much improved thereby, allowing pedestrians to pass each other without difficulty. The bridge is in a much better condition than before and is well

Descendant of Pioneers Dies

March 16, 1939

Mrs. Grant Emerson, descendant of the pioneer Wolfe family in eastern Coshocton county, died at 8:30 a. m. today at her home at Emerson's corners, West Lafayette-Newcomertown road, following an illness of diabetes. She was 69.

Carrie Wolfe was born Aug. 21, 1869, at Islela, a daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Wolfe. Her grandparents, Phillip and Anna Margaret Wolfe, settled at Islela in 1797, and for many years they operated the old tavern at Wolfe's corners, now known as Emerson's corners.

In 1892 she was married to Grant Emerson, who survives. Mrs. Emerson was a member of the M. E. church and Free's Hezekiah lodge at Newcomertown.

She also leaves a daughter, Miss Dale Emerson of the home; three sons, Russell and Robert Emerson, both of the home, and Birney Emerson of Akron, and a sister, Mrs. Lida Honey of Seio. A brother and two sisters are deceased.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Saturday at the home on the West Lafayette - Newcomertown road. Rev. D. A. Morris, Newcomertown M. E. pastor, will deliver the sermon, and burial will be in Fairfield cemetery at West Lafayette.

Bothers Sheridan and Siegle Emerson married sisters, Anna C and Laura Alice Sells. Their children were double cousins--Ralph, Thelma, Edgar, and Alice, Irma, and George.

Sheridan was 9 months old when his father died and was raised by his mother. He had a sun stroke as a teenager and could not work in hot sun the rest of his life. He was a mill owner in Parkersburg, W.Va. when first married and later built the ice cream parlor on Main street Newcomerstown. The building still stands as does the older building side of it where Sheridan and Anna lived and where Edgar was born. Sheridan had the milk, ice and icecream route in the town. He operated his own ice plant. They moved to the large white house on the old fair grounds and built a green house and did truck farming, after he left the store. Here his wife Anna died in 1917. She was the daughter of George W. and Nancy Ann Reed Sells, and was born on the Sells farm on Dunlap's Creek near Newcomerstown, Aug.24,1875.

In 1918 Sheridan trucked coal from the mines for 15¢ a ton and heated his 9 room house for 3.75 that winter.

He retired to the farm at Orange (Isleta) where he died of heart trouble on July 5, 1935. Anna C and Sheridan are buried side by side on the Sells lot in Newcomerstown Cemetery.

New Emerson's new building.

The new building on Main street, to be occupied by Emerson's Bakery, is about finished. The handsome tile floor was laid by James Rusk and sons, and is a very neat job. Carpenters Baxter & Neal are putting on the finishing touches in wood work, and putting up the counters, show cases, cabinets, etc. The electric motor which is to furnish power for ice-cream freezers, electric fans, and provide light for the building, is being installed and will be ready to operate in a few days. The bakery department in the new building has been in operation for several days past and the oven works like a charm. When completed, it will be one of the finest bakeries in this section of the state. 25 Sep 1903

Edgar Timothy Emerson was 3 yrs old when his mother died. He helped his father on the truck farm Newcomerstown until he left home to attend Bowling Green University where he worked his way through and was a leader on campus. After 26 years with Key Products Company he joined Prudential as a Debit Agent in 1960, and in 1972 became a Qualified Prudential Millionaire. He served as Elder. of St.Paul United Church of Christ,Parma, and is currently Sunday School Superintendent. He is active in Lions Service Club and is serving as Treasurer. He continues his interest in Bowling Green University and takes prospective students to see the Campus several times each year.

He met his wife, Esther, at Bowling Green where she majored in Home Economics. Esther also has served as Elder in their church and active in Lay Life Work.

This genealogy was researched, typed etc. by Esther Wiens Emerson. Many thanks go to the many relatives who contributed information, and to the patience of of the family during the lengthy process of compiling it.

SUPPLEMENT
DESCENDANTS OF JACOB EMERSON

Timothy II and his wife Polly (Mary) Trowbridge and 8 children came to Ohio in 1818 at the same time or same year, as his first cousin. Jacob came with his family of 8 children.

Jacob's first wife, Dorcus Knight, had died in 1816 and he had re-married Martha _____ in 1818. They later had 3 more children. Why it is interesting to trace this cousin relationship is because the cemetery at Keene, Ohio is full of Emersons, who appear to be related but did not fit into our geneology in direct descent. Upon tracing I found Jacob and his followers, only to find that even though he and some children and grandchildren are buried at Keene, all other descendents have left Keene for Iowa, Kansas etc. Descendents of Timothy II however are still located in Coshocton County and many more scattered in Ohio.

In generation 4, Brown and Sara Emerson had 10 children. Their 6th, son John and 9th, son Timothy I, brothers. John's son Jacob and Timothy's son Timothy II were of course first cousins and they, with their families, came to Ohio in 1818.

INTERESTING BITS OF HISTORY

Tuscarawas County was formed in Feb. 15, 1808. Coshocton County was organized April 1st, 1811, from an Indian Village of that name. 160 years ago 6 Indian villages of the Delaware Indians were situated in the area. The population of the county in 1820 was 7,086.

In 1812 Coshocton County furnished 4 companies for the war.

"Louis Philippe, afterward King of France, visited Coshocton in the character of a schoolmaster, during his exile. His aristocratic notions were not in keeping with the republican ideas and rude manners of the frontier and his stay was short!"--- Michner's History of Tusc. Co.

INCIDENT AMONG INDIANS GAVE NEWCOMERSTOWN ITS NAME.

Newcomerstown was not founded until 1814, but its actual history goes back further than that date when Nicholas Neighbor founded the settlement.

The earliest visit by a white man to the Tuscarawas river was that of Christopher Gist in 1750. An explorer and surveyor, he was sent out by a company of Virginians, among them George Washington, to explore the land west of the Allegheny mountains and to determine if it were suitable for new settlements.

The notes of the Gist journal tell of what must have been the earliest account of the "eternal triangle" in this region.

It seemed that a Chief Eagle Feather became tired of his wife, Mary Harris, who as a child, had been abducted from her home in Deerfield, Mass., by Indian raiders. While on one of his tribes raiding trips to the Virginia frontier, he captured a younger and more beautiful squaw and established her in the same wigwam with Mary Harris. This caused no end of trouble and Mary Harris became increasingly jealous of the "Newcomer" as she was called. One morning the Indian Village was aroused by the cries of Mary Harris that her husband, Chief Eagle Feather, had been murdered and that the captive "Newcomer" had fled. The Indians immediately pursued the fugitive and she was recaptured at a small Indian town on the banks of the Tuscarawas. This town was hereafter known as Newcomerstown.

OHIO CANAL

This part of Ohio's first industry was farming. But it was not at first a very prosperous industry. The farmer was able to raise comparatively large crops but he had no means of shipping his products to large cities in the east. Farmers had to sell eggs for two or three cents a dozen; he was fortunate to sell corn or wheat for 12¢ a bushel. Chickens sold for a few cents each. There was no local market as everyone raised his own food. Wagon teams took grain over rough and muddy roads. There were no bridges over streams, to the eastern markets. Many times the costs exceeded the price received for the grain.

The Canal was begun in 1821 and finished in 1835.

The Ohio canal started in Cleveland, passed through Tuscarawas County and Coshocton County and met the Ohio River at Portsmouth. By means of the canal farmers could send their produce to eastern markets more rapidly and cheaply.

Towns along the canal began to grow more rapidly. In many, the busy scene was canal boats being loaded with wheat, corn hogs, chickens, flour, and other products. After the boats were loaded they were pulled along by mules and horses, which traveled along the towpath. As a boy, President Garfield drove the teams of mules and horses which pulled the canal boats through Tuscarawas county.

The canal flourished until the railroads began to push into central Ohio. Business on the canal then steadily decreased. Finally the canal was abandoned, locks fell in, banks were washed away and the water was drained out. Today in many places the canal bed is planted in crops or filled and built upon.

The recent interest in preserving parts of the canal at Canal Fulton, and Roscoe for example, again give Ohians a glimpse into the past. Emersons now can look back on how Emersons of that day lived.

EMERSONS MILL

Emersons Mill was a prominent Flouring and Feed Mill that operated in the town of Newcomerstown at the time when the Canal was busy with its tows and traffic. This mill was later owned by Mr. Edward Blair in the closing days of the old canal era. It stood diagonally opposite the Eureka Store docks on the canal where on the the main locks was located. It burned about 1915.

This mill was operated at one time with a chute that turned a water turbine when the flood gate was opened for the mill's grinding activities. Here, on the "lower level" was where the young and elderly alike collected in skating season for their feats of skill on the flashing blades. Bonflares flared. Music floated through the frosty air; laughter and games of Tin Can Hockey went on far into the nights. The canal was not alone a pathway of traffic in grains and exported hides and furs and other local products, or as a means of importing merchandise of the heavier sorts and bulkier kinds, but it was a recreational asset to the town and community.

The basin connected with the canal, passing through the locks at the right. The basin permitted boats to pass (the canal was only one boat wide) and it had an overflow into Buckhorn Creek which tended to keep the canal's level even. By Ben C. Rovinson in his article "Canal Days Recalled-Big Ditch Built in 1827" Newcomerstown News. 8/13/1964

It was in the Indian Village of Newcomerstown that the first Presbyterian sermon was preached west of the Alleghenies at noon on Mar. 14, 1771 by Rev. David Seisberger. The service took place in front of Chief Newawatwe's cabin under a large walnut tree which stood halfway between present railroad site and the river.

C.O.D. FAIR THRIVED

The Central Ohio District Fair was the high point of the year of Newcomerstown and many others in the latter part of the 19th century.

D.B. Moore, Canal St. in a book published recently, noted that the C.O.D. Fair Association consisted of three counties: Guernsey, Coshocton and Tuscarawas. The grounds were at the west edge of Newcomerstown on land owned by Sheridan Emerson and later the Kistler heirs. The fair lasted four days. Families came with well filled picnic baskets and girls wore their newest finery. There were horse races, side shows, and the usual midway attractions. Blue ribbons were awarded to the exhibit winners, such as spiced peaches, marble cake cake or best "doily". Added attractions were bike races and balloon ascensions.

This site of the Fair is the home site where Edgar T. Emerson resided from about age three until he left home to work his way through Bowling Green State University. Seigle Emerson and family lived there at one time.--In 1906 when he was killed on the railroad crossing.

An Emerson is again residing in the large white home built on the fair grounds. Ruth Emerson, daughter of Russel Emerson, married John Kistler, grandson of Dr. Kistler who purchased the home from Sheridan Emerson.

One of the original buildings still stands. The agricultural hall is now used as a storage barn. And the present owner John Kistler is filling the hall with antiques. Quite fitting!
