East End Fire.

The grocery building on Railroad st., belonging to Wm. Thompson, but occupied by Jasper Coutts, caught fire early Tuesday morning from some unknown cause. The fire was put out by prompt action on the part of Messrs. Thos. Neal and Chas. Glazer, members of the fire department who reside in that part of town. They had access to the hose-house located near by. The insurance on the goods damaged will not cover Mr. Cout's loss. The building was insured by Mr. Thompson, but the damage was mostly from water, steam and smoke.

The largest plate-glass window ever brought to Newcomerstown was placed in position at Lydick's furniture store one day this week by Carpenter Koelsch. It is 7x12 feet, very thick, clear and attractive.

New Law Firm.

Attorneys E. E. Lindsay and F. H. Murphy of this city have formed a partnership in the practice of law, and will continue to occupy their office rooms in the Adamson Building on Main street. These gentlemen are so well known in this community that it is needless for us to speak in commendation of them, but we predict for them a successful and prosperous future, being men of genial natures, courteous, careful, prudent, conscientious and scrupulous in all their business transactions. We wish them the largest success.

The Mulvane Building.

The new addition to the W. P. Mulvane business block on Main street is finished to the most minute detail and the business facilities of the Factory Store have been greatly increased thereby. The first floor is now 23x143 feet and the second floor, which is also utilized by the Factory Store, is the same size except that portion at the front occupied by Dr. Miskimens' dental office. It contains more floor capacity than is used by any other mercantile establishment in the city and gives the Factory Store the dignity and air of a gigantic department store.

TAYLOR HARDWARE CO. REMODEL STORE ROOM

One of the most notable improvements made in the Newcomerstown business district in recent years, is the remodelling of the building formerly known as the Yingling property on Main st., which will be the new home of the Taylor Hardware Co.

The room until recently occupied by the Ortt grocery and the one used by the Carr hat shop, have been thrown together and remodelled into a large modern business room.

The entire front was torn out and transformed into modern display windows, with leaded glass background. A hardwood floor adds to the interior of the store which will be refinished and equipped with the latest hardware fixtures.

The Taylors are to be congratulated for the progressive spirit which prompted them to add another fine business front to the business district.

Grand Opening Held

A large crowd attended the grand opening of Taylor's hardware store on Main st. Thursday night, at which time a splendid musical program was presented. The program follows: Mary Linn and Fred Robey, presenting "Sunshine and Midnight," in southern melodies; Mrs. Mae Taylor Nicodemus and Miss Olive Loader, popular harmony team; Bo Crouch and his instrumental quartet; and the boy fiddlers, aged 6 and 8, from Isleta.

SOLD BAKERY.

E. J. Meeham has sold his bakery business in the Emerson building on Main st. to John Owens of Coshocton, giving possession Monday. Mr. Meeham will leave Thursday for Marion, O., where he will take charge of the Butter Krust bakery plant. His family will move a few weeks later. 1913

A Handy Contrivance.

Mr. E. C. Crater, manager of the opera-house of this place, has invented a reserved seat chart that is the most unique and convenient of any we have ever yet seen. Each seat in the opera-house is represented by a slot in a board, and into each slot a ticket is inserted. When a ticket is sold it is removed from the slot (or seat) which the purchaser desires to occupy, and hence the seat cannot be resold, as often occurs when tacks are used or the number has failed to be canceled. By this method a mistake cannot occur. The absence of the ticket from the slot is conclusive proof that the seat has been sold. Mr. Crater should get his contrivance patented. oct. 1903

BIRTHPLACE

A native of Newcomerstown came back to see the place of her birth for the first time in over half a century last week. She was Miss Gertrude Munn of Wichita, Kansas.

In the early 1880's, Miss Munn's parents came to Newcomerstown. Her father worked in a bee hive factory operated by "Dicky" Shoemaker and John Nicodemus, in the rear of the brick building now occupied by the Athletic Club. Before coming here Mr. Munn had been associated with the A. I. Root Co., well-known bee concern of Medina.

Miss Munn was born here in the building at Main and Bridge streets, now occupied by Abe Davis. While still a small child, the family moved to Wichita, but still kept in touch with Newcomerstown friends, notably the late Dr. A. M. Beers and family.

Mr. Munn was drowned while on a picnic with his family while the children were quite small. Mrs. Munn, 82, is still living.

Here last week, Miss Munn took several pictures which she thought would interest her mother. None of the places were familiar to her but the place of one's birth holds a special significance.

THE INDEX BUILDING

Suffers Much Damage from a Probable Incendiary Fire.

Sept.
1910

About 3:30 o'clock last Friday morning the Index printing establishment on River street, this city, was discovered to be on fire, in the part of the building occupied by Elmer Turner's meat market. Owing to soundness of sleep at that period of the night, the alarm bell failed to awaken all of the fire company, and it became necessary to repeat the alarm. By the time the water hose could be applied, the flames were well under headway, and it took some time to get the fire under control. The fire seems to have originated in the basement in some mysterious manner, underneath the meat market. The flames soon found their way through the floor, and rapidly made havoc of meat, lard, etc.; in fact the room was completely gutted, and everything practically destroyed. The flames also worked their way through a partition, into the Index office proper, where much damage was done to the walls, woodwork, window-glass and printing material. After the fire was extinguished, the loss to the building was estimated at about $1000. Mr. Turner's loss is between $500 and $700, which is fully covered by insurance. The Index building and plant, we understand, were not insured.

Will Build a Church.

On Tuesday Rev. W. O. Siffert, a former resident of this section, but now presiding elder of the middle district of the East Ohio Conference of the U. B. Church, with headquarters at Navarre, was in town taking the preliminary steps for the building of a new church in this city. Rev. M. L. Oliver, presiding elder of the southern district, was expected here on a like mission from Sarahsville, but failed to arrive. However, suitable arrangements were made with the South Side Land Co. for the site of the proposed church, and if the new industries are located here, work on a new U. B. church will immediately begin.

Changes Being Made and Others Anticipated in Business Circles.

The latest transfer which has come to light is Jno. Warner's purchase of the J. R. Mulvane building on Main street, located near the Wilgus Hardware Store. This week the building will be moved to a site on North Goodrich street, about four acres in all which Mr. Warner has just recently bought of Mr. Mulvane. Speculation runs high as to what kind of a building will be erected on the vacated lot on Main street, but it is hinted that the proposed structure will be a two-story brick with a fine business room below and offices above.

Down on Lower Main Street the office building of W. R. Crater, together with the adjoining ground which has heretofore been used for an alley, has been purchased by Porter Mitchell. We are not prepared to state just what sized building will be erected on the new purchase, but we'll wager a year's subscription to THE NEWS that Porter will erect a business block to compare favorably with any in town.

Over at the New Globe Hotel the carpenters are greatly beautifying things generally. The special improvement, however, is that fine, large plate glass window which is being put in the office room on the north side. When the new arrangements are fully completed, Mine Host Snavely may well be proud of his elegant quarters.

John E. Wood has concluded that his store-room on Canal street will not be large enough to accommodate his increasing business, and wisely proceeds to prepare himself in that direction. The building now in use has been moved to one side, and on the vacant lot will be erected a large two-story building. Last week excavators, were put to work hauling out dirt preparatory to the foundation work which will be under way before long. Messrs. Henry Mercer and H. H. Worley have taken the contract to erect the building and will

A fire that started in the boiler room of the Newcomerstown Floral Co. greenhouse, East State street, this morning, ruined hundreds of dollars worth of plants and flowers and destroyed part of the buildings.

Fire Chief Ed Lee estimated the loss at $2,500—$1,500 in the building and $1,000 to plants and flowers. The fire volunteers worked two hours to extinguish the flames and used both trucks.

About three-fourths of the plant, it was estimated, will be a total loss. Two of the four sections of the greenhouse were ruined.

An attempt was being made to get a fire started in the heating plant, close up two sections in the southern end, and save the plants in there from freezing.

An attempt was being made to get a fire started in the heating plant, close up two sections in the southern end, and save the plants in there from freezing.

It was reported that most of the Easter lilies which had been grown for Easter were destroyed.

The Newcomerstown Floral Co. is the successor of the Huff Floral Co. and was acquired last September by Mr. and Mrs. Parker Burge of Cambridge.

Mrs. Burge, one of the proprietors, announced that they will rebuild as soon as possible. Business will be continued as usual with the plants which were saved and with some which will be obtained from out of town.

The boiler room is in the northeast corner of the plant. The blaze swept from there into the adjacent work room and office, and spread also across the roof of the glass covered hothouse. The frames of the glass were wood.

It was estimated that more than half of the glass panes were destroyed. Workmen were busy this morning removing plants to the basement of the home. Some of them also were taken to a Cambridge greenhouse.

It was reported that most of the flowers and plants would be frozen, however, because it was impossible to take them out of the beds. With the boiler room ruined and many of the glass panes and doors out, the temperature was as cold in the greenhouse as it was outside.

Fire Chief Ed Lee said that when he arrived, the blaze had spread through the roof of the center greenhouse as well as in the corner room. Many of the plants were destroyed by fire.

The plant, it was reported, is partly covered by insurance.

SOLD BARBER OUTFIT. Jan. 1912

H. B. Rice sold his barbering outfit last week to Fred Robey, who then transferred the outfit to Frank Johns, the latter continuing to occupy the Reed building, opposite the postoffice. Mr. Rice now has charge of a chair in M. C. Gardner's shop, which has been moved from the Globe hotel building to the room formerly occupied by J. M. Wilson, at the rear of Roger Bros.' grocery. A clean, smooth shave, or an up-to date haircut can be had at either of these places.

KANDY KITCHEN DEAL.

Roy Elliott has sold the Kandy Kitchen to J. O. King, who formerly owned a half-interest with Elliott. Mr. King's former experience at the business qualifies him for excellent service in that line, and the public will doubtless give him the patronage he deserves.

For some months past Mr. J. D. Longshore has been superintending the manufacture of organs at his music store, the designs and models of which were originated by himself. He has sold quite a number of them and is now providing more convenient quarters for their construction by adding an upper story to the large building on the rear end of his lot, facing Bridge street. Mr. E. D. Randles has charge of the factory and is turning out excellent work.

NOVELTY BRICK PLANT IS BEING DISMANTLED

Workmen are dismantling the power house of the old Novelty brick works south of town, and probably before long this once prominent factor in the town's industrial welfare will have become nothing but a memory.

It will be remembered that following the expiration of the franchise granted The Novelty Brick and Coal Co., under the terms of which they furnished the town's supply of electric light and power, the company finally passed to the control of the Casparis interests at Columbus.

At one time it was reported that the plant would be converted from a brick plant to the manufacture of tiling for tile floors. Even yet it is said that there is some hope that this may be done.

Shortly after the parents received the message this forenoon, Mr. Ortt called his son by long distance phone and informed him that he and his mother and grandmother, Mrs. Frank Jones, would leave immediately for Florida and bring him home. They left this afternoon.

The youth gave no reason for leaving home.

BLAIR'S MILLS BURN

From some unknown cause, the flouring mill property belonging to E. M. Blair of Newcomerstown, including stock and grain, was totally destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock, Monday afternoon. Everything about the mill, including the engine room, was in normal condition, and there was no apparent cause for fire. The blaze seems to have originated in the southeast corner of the structure, on the first or office floor. Although the fire was discovered at an early stage, and instantly reported to the fire department, a brisk wind quickly fanned the flames into such volume as to become beyond control; and although several large streams of water were trained upon the building from different angles, the fire increased to such an extent that the firemen were obliged to withdraw and apply the hose to adjacent buildings, one of which was a stable belonging to the mill property, which was also reduced to ashes.

The machine shop and planing mill nearby, owned by J. E. Warner, were saved only by vigilant effort. Other buildings more remote were set on fire by flying fragments, and had not the people been on their guard, several properties might have been burned. The fire department, assisted by citizens, did splendid work in putting out small fires and protecting properties from the flying embers.

Although the mill property and stock was insured for $6,000, in different companies, Mr. Blair's loss will be about $4,000. Until his insurance policies are adjusted, Mr. Blair is unable to decide what he will pursue. His business ranked high among those of our city, and the whole community will suffer more or less from the loss of trade brought here by his customers.

NEW SIGNAL TOWER

AT PENNA. RAILROAD

Oct.
1929

A veritable army of workmen has been engaged here during the past week in making the change from lever to electric signal system on the Pennsylvania railroad.

The old frame telegraph tower near the depot has been replaced by a fine new brick structure which contains the controls for the new electric signal system and provides handsome quarters for the telegraph office.

During the installation of the new signal system the old rails were replaced by heavy new standard 6-inch rails on both east and westbound tracks, requiring a large force of workmen and trains of special equipment.

Supervisor J. C. Dayton and Assistant J. C. Buzard had charge of the track work. Following the inspection Tuesday both men were awarded prizes for the splendid condition of the division over which they have supervision.

Written in 1869

While tearing down John F. Wood's old store room on Canal street, workmen unearthed an old yellow, time-worn envelope, the three-cent stamp still intact, containing a letter and weigh bill. All bear the date of Aug. 3, 1869, and every bit of writing notwithstanding its siege of time, is easily read. The weigh bill is made out on an ancient form used by the P. C. C. & St. L. Ry. in those days and says that "For transportation of merchandise J. C. Bebout, local freight agent, has received payment for the company." The goods were consigned to W. Dever who at that time conducted a general store in the building just torn down, and who erected the structure originally for a cooper shop, finally building an addition and engaging in general merchandizing. For years a vast amount of business was carried on in this little cramped building. Two counters ran the full length of the building, underneath of which were jammed groceries and dry goods, and along the walls the shelves fairly bulged with goods. Just beneath these was a row of large bins wherein coffee, sugar, salt, beans, etc., was dumped by the barrel, in order to better economize the limited space. From an old resident we learn that at one time $4,000 worth of business was done in a single year without restocking, from which an idea may be drawn as to what an enormous stock was carried. Four huckster wagons were on the road at all times exchanging groceries and dry goods for country produce. Now this old building is replaced by a fine, new, modern structure and John E. Wood transacts business where once Wm. Dever handled almost the entire trade of this section.

HAFNER CUT-RATE

This business on Main st., was started in 1932 by the present owner, Herbert Hafner. Employees are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Treadwell, Mary K. Rothenstein, Beverly Norman and Betty McClary. Mr. and Mrs. Hafner moved to Newcomerstown from Cambridge in 1932. They have two daughters, Jane Wilson and Virginia Riggs.

New Hardware Firm.

The Wilgus hardware stock, which has been purchased by C. L. Hartline, is being invoiced preparatory to his taking possession, and the store will be opened anew this week. Mr. Hartline is a competent, obliging and genial business man, and will at once command a good trade. The Wilguses have been in the business so long that their retirement will seem odd. E. D. Wilgus will probably become traveling salesman for the new file works.

The Pennsylvania company, having put in substantial concrete foundations for a draw-bridge across the canal on the C. & M. division, which traverses this city north and south, are now placing the steel structural work thereon for the purpose of hoisting a section of the track to allow the passage of canal boats, etc. Instead of hoisting the track at one end, as before, the entire section is to be lifted straight up and lowered by means of windlass and weights. It is considered quite an improvement over the former devise.

Two new apartments have been put into shape above the Lieser Store. They have four rooms each.

Beers Drug Store Sold, Started 51 Years Ago

Sale of the Beers drug store, Bridge street, to Ed Levison of Zanesville, was announced this week.

This transaction, completed Saturday, marked the retirement of George A. Beers, the proprietor, who has operated a pharmacy in Newcomerstown for the past 51 years.

Mr. Beers, one of this community's best known and leading citizens, has not operated the establishment since last March 20 when he was taken ill. He is rapidly improving, however, at his home on North College street.

Mr. Levison said he will continue to operate the store for some time. He purchased only the stock and fixtures but added that he may buy the building later. He formerly was in the dry goods business in Zanesville.

Mr. Beers has managed the firm, known as Geo. A. Beers and Co., continually since December of 1891. He was associated in the business with his father, Dr. A. M. Beers, until Dr. Beers' death just 30 years ago Wednesday.

Founded First Drug Store

Dr. Beers established Newcomerstown's first drug store in 1868 with his partner, Rev. Roof, then pastor of the Lutheran church. In 1870 W. A. Johns came here from Coshocton to operate the store for Dr. Beers and Rev. Roof. It was located in a building, long since moved away, on the Beers lot at the corner of Bridge and Main streets.

The firm of Beers and Roof continued until about 1871 when it was sold to W. R. Shields. A year later Mr. Shields built a building where the Swigert Meat Market is now located on Main street and opened a pharmacy there.

In the meantime, A. J. Wilkin had started a drug store where the Jones-Lydick building is now situated which was operated by his son, Dr. Charles Wilkin and his son-in-law, C. C. Dickinson. Later, W. A. Johns became a partner. In the early 1880's this establishment was moved to the Beers building at the corner of Main and Bridge streets and in 1887 Mr. Johns bought out the Wilkin interests.

Mr. Beers actually began his pharmacist's career in January of 1888 when he started working for Mr. Johns. Two years later he went to pharmacy school at Scio College under Prof. J. H. Beal.

Then, in 1891, he and his father established the present drug firm. They continued to operate in the original location until 1897 when they constructed the present Beers building on Bridge street. After Dr. Beers' death on Sept. 9, 1912, Mr. Beers became the sole owner.

Tax Relief Leader

In his half a century as a druggist, Mr. Beers has seen many changes. In the early days drug stores dealt almost exclusively in medicines and drugs and it was only in the latter years that they began taking on sidelines.

Mr. Beers resisted one strong trend—he never established a soda fountain.

Although most residents know Mr. Beers as a druggist, they are grateful to him for his militant leadership in this community's successful effort to get rid, at least for the present, of what were generally considered ruinous property assessments levied for flood control in the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy District.

From 1936 until the settlement of the "tax strike" in 1941, Mr. Beers devoted a large share of his time—without pay—to battling the assessments which in many cases amounted to as much as the regular property taxes and which, if relief had not been afforded, might have ruined real estate values in this community.

Although Mr. Beers is retiring from the drug business, he is not giving up all activities.

"For the war effort," he said, "I'm willing to do whatever I can."

JOHN E. WOOD'S NEW BUILDING.

John E. Wood evidently believes in letting business expand when the first symptoms of expansion appear. He has carried on a good trade for several years past in his old building but now business has increased in volume all over town, and conditions are changing materially. In view of these changes Mr. Wood concluded that his present quarters were too cramped and proceeded to erect a large roomy business building. In a few days the finishing touches will be made, and John will remove to his new quarters.

J. Bruce Erwin furnishes us the above excellent zinc etching cut by his new process.

has been practical work as soon as the foundation is completed.

The Messrs. Longstreets have started a general store of everything at the building on the corner of Main and Bridge streets, and for some days past they had a team of men at work raising up forms, making foundations for new additions and otherwise preparing for a complete overhaul of the building. The bakery room is under-going a change, a large addition is being built into the rear, and when the whole has been thoughtfully painted and papered, Mrs. L. A. Case will move her dry goods and millinery stock thence. In the same store room the floor is being lowered even with the adjoining floor, and later an addition will be added to this room also.

The local order of Odd Fellows have become stirred with the general team spirit, and contemplates transforming their brick building, corner of Canal and Bridge streets, into a three-story office. Estimates as to the probable cost of the additional story have been received from Architect H. C. Lindsay of Zanesville, and at their meeting on next Friday evening the matter will be brought up for discussion.

Up on East State street the grocery store formerly owned by Mrs. Jennina Ordle is now in the possession of J. C. Cory, who has already taken charge and will immediately enlarge the stock.

Several weeks since John Hinds purchased the old Greer Block on Lower Main street, and although we have no authentic information on the subject, reports are out to the effect that Howard Youngley will be interested to the extent of a half interest. The building is to be thoroughly remodelled, and later it's probable that Messrs. Hinds and Youngley will occupy the building with a line of groceries.

K. OF P'S. WILL BUILD

Dion Lodge No. 102, Knights of Pythias, this city, has received official notice from the first assistant Postmaster General at Washington, D. C., of the acceptance of the Lodge's proposal to furnish a properly equipped room for the Newcomerstown postoffice. The trustees and members of the Lodge are making arrangements to erect a three-story brick building on their lot on the north side of Main st., and will push the work along as rapidly as possible. The postoffice lease is for ten years. The building will provide business rooms from basement to the third floor, which latter floor will be occupied as Lodge rooms. Excavation for the basement will probably begin next week.

BIG THINGS.

Changes Being Made and Others Anticipated in Business Circles.

The latest transfer which has come to light is Jno. Warner's purchase of the J. R. Mulvane building on Main street, located near the Wilgus Hardware Store. This week the building will be moved to a site on North Goodrich street, about four acres in all which Mr. Warner has just recently bought of Mr. Mulvane. Speculation runs high as to what kind of a building will be erected on the vacated lot on Main street, but it is hinted that the proposed structure will be a two-story brick with a fine business room below and offices above.

Down on Lower Main Street the office building of W. R. Crater, together with the adjoining ground which has heretofore been used for an alley, has been purchased by Porter Mitchell. We are not prepared to state just what sized building will be erected on the new purchase, but we'll wager a year's subscription to THE NEWS that Porter will erect a business block to compare favorably with any in town.

Over at the New Globe Hotel the carpenters are greatly beautifying things generally. The special improvement, however, is that fine, large plate glass window which is being put in the office room on the north side. When the new arrangements are fully completed, Mine Host Snavely may well be proud of his elegant quarters.

John E. Wood has concluded that his store-room on Canal street will not be large enough to accommodate his increasing business, and wisely proceeds to prepare himself in that direction. The building now in use has been moved to one side, and on the vacant lot will be erected a large two-story building. Last week excavators, were put to work hauling out dirt preparatory to the foundation work which will be under way before long. Messrs. Henry Mercer and H. H. Worley have taken the contract to erect the building and will

Relates Plans For 'Seilon'

SEIBERLING plant construction is proceeding rapidly on the tract at the eastern edge of town. Masonry work has been started. Operation is slated by midsummer.

Charles F. Biggs told about products to be made at the Seiberling Rubber Co.'s Newcomerstown plant at a Dover Rotary Club meeting Monday.

Mr. Biggs, Barberton, is manager of the local plant now under construction.

He explained that the need for diversification of Seiberling products was the big factor which prompted construction of the local plant. It will manufacture a bulk-sheet plastic material known as "Seilon" which has been developed from rigid polyvinyl chloride.

Mr. Biggs said that "Seilon" was developed in Germany and France during the war to relieve the steel shortage.

Its present uses include manufacture of pipe vats, flues, conveyors and tunnels.

He said that Seiberling's plans for Newcomerstown call for a slow but steady expansion of the industry, with the kind of growth that should be most beneficial to Newcomerstown and Tuscarawas county in general.

C. R. Waters is erecting a building for a lunch stand and filling station just west of the cement bridge at the intersection of the road leading to Westlawn cemetery. He will also build a residence on the site.

K. OF P. BUILDING

The work of excavation for the new K. of P. building, this city, under the management of Frank Palmer, was accomplished as speedily as possible, considering the hindrances occasioned by cave-ins, which were unavoidable, owing to a sand and gravel formation underlying the clay which extends only 4 or 5 feet below the surface of the ground. About 1200 yards of dirt were removed, employing 3 or 4 teams and five shovelers. The dirt thus removed was used by Steve Elliott, on his premises just north of the Buckhorn bridge on Cross st. About 80 loads of the surface dirt was used on the premises of Harry Murphy on Canal street. The foundation work, and basement partitions, which are constructed entirely of cement concrete, is about completed and is considered a very excellent job. It is under the supervision of Mr. Frank Baxter, one of the town's best mechanics. The brickwork will be under construction as soon as the iron eye-beams and other structural material arrives. The entire work has progressed fairly well.

MULVANE SITE O. K. FOR NEW P. O. BLD'G

Postmaster Katherine Baxter has been notified by letter from Washington that the director of procurement has approved the proposed purchase of the S. B. Mulvane property on West Canal street as a site for the new postoffice building to be erected here.

The site includes both the old W. P. Mulvane homestead and the small frame dwelling adjacent on the west, providing a total land area of 98 ft. front and 198 ft. in depth. The consideration was $10,000.

Although the date for beginning work and the plans and specifications for the new structure have not been made public, it is believed that bids on the construction work will be received soon in order to permit an early start on building operations next spring.

The postoffice has been located during the past 21 years in the K. of P. building on Main st. While the new location will not be quite so convenient for merchants in the business district, it is centrally located and will make an excellent site for the new building.

Mr. Mulvane has purchased the Meyer property on North College st. which he has remodelled and re-finished for his new home.

Doings About Town.

S. H. Loveless and son of near Bakersville have been here the past week or more erecting a large barn for Frank Emerson.

E. C. Crater has enlivened his business front on Main street with an attractive coat of paint. Ern is quite artistic with the brush.

O. A. Vogenitz has decided to exclude the sunlight from the show-windows of his new business block on Main street with a fine, large awning.

It is said that Mrs. Julia Bell will have her residence on Main street removed, and expects to erect a building suitable for business purposes on the site thereof.

The foundation for M. Yingling's new residence to be built on the west side of Cross street has been completed by Jacob Leonhart, and is a fine piece of work. The carpenter work is now in progress.

PLANING MILL BLD'G DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire originating in the boiler room of The Newcomerstown Lumber Co. planing mill, East Main st. extension, last Thursday morning, caused the total destruction of the building and practically ruined all the machinery and finished lumber in the building.

Within a few minutes after the fire was discovered and the alarm turned in, the whole structure was a mass of flames. On account of the distance from fire plugs, the volunteer firemen had no chance to save the building, but fighting valiantly with a single hose they held the flames in check until another stream of water was secured when two sections of hose were joined together in order to reach another fire plug.

Shortly after the second stream of water was turned on, the firemen entered the burning building, fighting the fire at close range until the flames were completely under control.

The fire started at 10:30 a. m. and burned until about 1 p. m.

A large stock of lumber in the adjoining sheds was saved by the efficient work of the fire fighters.

The principal stockholders of the company are: Chas. Lieser, Eliada Lieser, Frank Mercer and Marion Mercer.

The entire loss is estimated at about $7000. Insurance to the amount of $2000 was carried through the Shannon agency in the Home Insurance Co. of New York. An adjustment of the claim was made Tuesday for $1600.

The new chemical truck made its first run, but could not be used because no one knew how to operate it.

The new Vogenitz business block at the corner of Main and Cross streets is practically completed and ready for occupancy. Carpenters Sam'l Dawson and Edward Shank have finished the interior stairway leading to the upper story and are busy putting up shelving and counters, while J. H. Lanning has papered the lower storeroom and painted the building entire. It is far superior to the former building and adds much to the business-like appearance of Main street. H. N. Rainsberger, proprietor of the Syndicate Store, will occupy the lower west room and second floor, Stonebrook & Jesse the east room as a jewelry store, and the rear end of the building will continue to be occupied by L. V. Vogenitz's photograph gallery.

NEW STATION TO CELEBRATE OPENING

A neighborhood celebration will mark the opening of a new servicecenter of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio at Canal and River streets. The station will be opened August 24.

With two completely equipped lubratoriums, with a full line of automobile necessities, including tires and other accessories, and with a competent, well-trained staff, Clarence Euga, manager, points out that the motoring public will receive the very best of service at this new station.

The lubratoriums are equipped with latest lifts and pressure lubricating machinery.

One of the features of the opening will be the motion pictures during the evening. These are colored sound movies taken by the Standard Oil Co. to promote greater interest in, and knowledge of, Ohio.

Included on the program will be "Ohio's Good Earth," showing the story of farming in the state. More than a year was spent in taking this picture, as it includes the farm during all of the four seasons.

Another feature shows odd industries in Ohio. Included is pretzel-making by machinery, glass blowing, the production of glass fabrics, and other odd and unusual businesses.

"With this new station," says Mr. Euga, "we will be in a position to take care of every automobile in a most efficient way, and we invite all motorists in and around Newcomers-town to come and let us prove this statement."

GETTING READY TO BUILD

J. M. Reed & Company of this city purchased the old Knights of Pythias building on Main street last Friday and will move it onto a lot on the north side of the town. This property was formerly owned by Sheldon Dickinson, whose family occupied it for many years. The Knights of Pythias bought it to secure a location for a future building site. Their opportunity has come, and as soon as the site is cleared, the work of excavation will begin. The building committee is actively engaged in securing plans and specifications, and the structure will be pushed to completion as fast as possible. It is expected to be ready for occupancy by the first of September or October. A part of the first floor is to be occupied by the local postoffice, under a government lease of ten years. There has been several applications for the rental of attractive business rooms which will be provided by this modern building, which will make it a good investment.

Chamber Buys W. State St. Building, Land

As a means of expanding its industrial program, the Chamber of Commerce has purchased a building and land from Harlan Addison on W. State st., it was announced this week.

Located just west of the corporation line, the property consists of a large frame building, garage, filling station and seven acres of land.

The structure was built in the late 1920's by the late Fred Smythe and was called the Gateway. Later it was bought by Fulton Eurich who had his mission there.

Mr. Addison purchased the property in 1946. Lately it has been used as a skating rink.

Orders V.F.W. to Abandon Building

A state order from the factory and building division has forced the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post to abandon their building on S. Bridge st., it was learned this week.

The building, used by the V. F. W. as their home for several years, was formerly the Fountain House, operated for many years by the late John Cooley.

The property was inspected in October by Thomas H. Cartwright who said he found violations of Ohio building regulations.

"THE USE of this structure or building shall be prohibited and no occupancy for any purpose whatsoever shall obtain until such a time as permission is granted by the Factory and Building Inspection Division," Robert A. Skipton, division chief, said in a letter to the post commander, Roger McCrone.

A special meeting of the organization has been called for Sunday, Dec. 9 at 2 p. m. in the American Legion Home to consider future action.

Extensive remodeling would be necessary to make the building satisfactory to the state division. The building may be torn down.

K. OF PS. BUY PROPERTY

^{Oct. 1953}
The Knights of Pythias of this city have purchased the S. Dickinson property on the north side of Main st., from J. M. Rehard. Although the Knights get immediate control of the property, it is understood that they will continue to occupy the third story of the Lydiak building, probably until such time as they decide to change quarters. It is not probable that the Lodge will ever remodel their new purchase for lodge purposes, but will wait until they are in position to erect a modern building upon the site. This is a splendid location for a fine, large building, and the Knights desire to erect one that will be a monument to their Order, and a credit to the town.

CANDYLAND CLOSED BY ORDER OF COURT

Sheriff Geo. W. Shonk of New Phil'a has been appointed receiver of the Candyland confectionery in the Emerson building on Main st., pending the outcome of a suit filed by Thomas Poulos, administrator of the estate of George Poulos, deceased.

In his petition to the court Administrator Poulos is said to claim that his brother George owned a half interest in the store at the time he was called for military service; that the latter did not have an opportunity to sell his interest before leaving and that since his death his estate has received nothing.

It will be remembered that a few weeks ago William Pareson, the present proprietor of the store, brought a similar action in the county courts, alleging that his brother and partner George Pareson had appropriated more than his share of the proceeds of the business. S. A. Emerson was appointed receiver, and the matter was finally adjusted by the two brothers, leaving William Pareson in charge.

Administrator Poulos claims he is in possession of sufficient evidence to prove all his claims, which were not pressed heretofore because he did not wish to do anything that might injure the business. He thinks, however, in view of the recent trouble between the Pareson brothers, that he should bring the action at once in order to protect the interests of his brother's estate.

The store has been closed since last Saturday noon. Oct. 1919

SEP^r 1904 About Finished.

For several weeks our citizens have watched with interest the progress of the excavation work and the laying of the foundation for the Dent L. Lydick block soon to be erected at the corner of Main and River streets. The dirt from the huge cellar was utilized by the village council in making certain street grades and necessary fills about town. The south wall and part of the westside foundation was made of concrete, and Messrs. Leonhart, Stitt and Ley laid the balance of the cellar wall in a neat and substantial manner with the stone that was originally under the building, which was removed because of fire. We now look forward to the development of the fine brick structure which Mr. Lydick proposes to erect on this finely prepared site.

NOV^r 1904 Progressing Finely.

Mr. Lydick's fine brick building on Main street is progressing in good shape, and the bricklayers, Mr. Jas. Rusk and sons George and Charles are doing excellent work. The walls of the first and second stories are completed, ready for the third, which will probably be fitted up for secret societies. It will certainly be an elegant and substantial building when finished.

Mr. Louis Liebman, a popular clothier of this city, has performed a generous and public-spirited act by presenting and placing twenty nice rustic seats in Mulvane's Free Park for the accommodation of those who may frequent the place. This is a commendable act, and deserves the praise of an appreciative public. WORK RESUMED ON NEW COOLEY HOTEL

After several weeks idleness on account of delayed steel shipments, work was resumed Wednesday morning on the construction of the New Cooley Hotel on West Canal st.

The material is now all on the ground for the steel bearing construction, and work of pouring the concrete basement walls will be commenced within a few days.

Contractor Charles Loader estimates that it will take about a week's time to pour the basement walls and support columns, after which the brick work will be started.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooley have been in the hotel business for 41 years and their return to the business will be welcome news to the traveling public which has always liberally patronized the Fountain Hotel.

Candy Business Is Started Here

A new candy and gift shop has been opened on Route 36, just west of Newcomerstown, by Ward Bell.

The name, Faith-Allen, has been chosen for the candies for Mr. and Mrs. Bell's daughters.

A new colonial style store room has been built. In addition to black walnut fudge and assorted chocolates, the shop also has ceramics and other gifts.

The candy is being manufactured in the full-size basement of the Bell home. The creamy fudge recipe is an old favorite which was in the possession of Mrs. Bell's mother of New Concord.

S. A. EMERSON PURCHASES

The David Norman Property for His Bakery Business.

A deal which means much for the improvement of Main street was consummated in this city the first of the week. Mr. S. A. Emerson, proprietor of the Star Bakery, realizing that his business is outgrowing his present quarters, has purchased the residence property of Mr. David Norman on the north side of Main st., and will begin at once the erection of a fine two-story brick building $28\frac{1}{2} \times 57$ ft. for the extension and improvement of his trade. The new building will be fitted up in fine modern style—namely, glass front, terra cotta floors, elegant counters and show cases, handsome side-boards, refrigerator, soda fountain, and all the latest in bakery equipage and machinery, the latter requiring an 8-horse power engine.

The west half of the Norman residence will be moved to the rear end of the lot, next week, and work on the new building will proceed immediately. The east half of the property will continue to be occupied as a residence, Mr. Emerson getting full possession April 15.

Mr. Emerson has conducted a bakery at this place for several years, has an established trade, understands the business to a finish, and his many friends and patrons wish him continued success.

A GENERATOR EXPLODED

And Filled the Big Storeroom of H. N.
Rainsberger with Stifling
Smoke and Flame.

The alarm of "fire" rang out loud and clear on our streets last Friday evening and a large crowd quickly assembled on Main street to witness one of the most destructive fires our city has experienced for some time.

The fire originated in the Syndicate store of which Mr. H. N. Rainsberger is sole proprietor. It appears that some trouble was experienced early in the evening to get the lamps to burn properly, probably because of a lack of air-pressure. In an attempt to regulate the gas generator, an explosion took place and Mr. Rainsberger and his brother barely escaped with their lives, so suddenly and furiously did the flames spread. The whole rear end of the storeroom was instantly enveloped by the flames and by no means could they be subdued. Attempts to smother them out were futile, and the application of water by a small street hose was in vain.

said they never stubborn fire. At times it seemed as if the flames would conquer and consume the building despite the heroic efforts of the firemen, but the hose proved master of the situation and the flames were finally extinguished. The goods in the building, however, were practically destroyed. Had it not been for our excellent water-works, the adjacent buildings as far down as Mr.
Porter Mitchell's brick store would undoubtedly have been destroyed.
In speaking of our water works that night, several of our citizens remarked that "Newcomerstown never made a better investment," and it is true.

It is said that even after the fire department quit the scene that night and left the building in charge of night watchmen, the fire broke out in seven different places, but was extinguished by one of the large hose that was left as a means of protection.

The west side of the building was occupied by the Syndicate
Store where the fire originated.
Mr. Rainsberger's insurance was $8,000 and his goods were said to be valued at $12,000.

Mr. T. A. Bank's grocery on the east side of the building was almost totally destroyed. His stock was estimated at about $2,700, and was insured for $1,500.

was occupied by the Syndicate Store where the fire originated. Mr. Rainsberger's insurance was $8,000 and his goods were said to be valued at $12,000.

Mr. T. A. Bank's grocery on the east side of the building was almost totally destroyed. His stock was estimated at about $2,700, and was insured for $1,500.

Lorin Vogenitz, photographer, who used the rear portion of the building both for business and living rooms, carried $300 insurance on his stock, but his household goods were not insured. Nearly all of his household effects were saved and a portion of his stock, including a valuable camera.

The building, as most of our readers know, belonged to Mr. O. A. Vogenitz, one of our oldest and most prominent business men, and owing to the value of property in our town at present, was probably worth about $5,000, as it was an excellent income property. He had it insured for $2,500.

As the rear end of the building was damaged but slightly, Mr. Vogenitz will use it temporarily as a photograph gallery. Mr. Rainsberger will resume business as soon as possible in the vacant room in the First National Bank Building, formerly occupied by this gentleman, and Mr. Banks will probably buy one of the leading groceries of the town.

Buys Retail Business.

Mr. Grant Best, who recently removed to this city from a farm in the Lick Run neighborhood, has purchased the Ross fruit and confectionery store in the Wood building, corner of Canal and Bridge sts. Mr. Best and family are occupying their residence property on Neighbor st., where they lived previous to their removal to the country several years ago. Grant will be courteous and obliging in his dealings, and will no doubt make a success of his venture.

May. 1912

BUY PROPERTY

The Ortt Bros. of this city have purchased the Hartshorn property on Main street from Marion Davis, and will build a 2-story brick building on the site, which will probably be occupied by the Ortt Company as business rooms in the near future.

Sept. 1914

New Laundry.

Messrs. Henry W. Fung of Canal Dover and Henry G. Sing of Newark, both experienced laundrymen, have leased the north half of the Edwards building on Bridge st. this city, and will open up a laundry here next week. Mr. Sing will have charge of the business here, while Mr. Fung will remain in Dover, where he has a flourishing laundry business. Both are worthy, ambitious young men, and deserve recognition.

May. 1912

Building Progressing

The excavation work connected with the new building to be erected by the Ortt Bros. on Main street has been finished and the cellar walls are almost completed. The structure, which is to be built of brick, will be about 50 x 80, and two stories high. This will be one of the most prominent improvements effected in our town for several years past, and it is hoped others will soon follow. A number of fine residences have been built here during the season, and the town has improved in many respects.

Nov. 1914

BUSINESS CHANGES

The Ortt Bros. have torn down and removed one-half of their old building on Main street, and are excavating and clearing away the debris, preparatory to erecting their new two-story brick building. The west half of the building has been purchased by Albert Grewell, who will remove it onto Chas. Schneider's lot, and will face east on River street, located near Dr. Goudy's office, and continue to occupy it as a barber shop. The improvements effected by these changes will add much to the town's appearance.

WAITING FOR BRICK

The paying of the road on the east side of town, under contract by the W. M. Brode Company of this city, is being delayed somewhat by having to wait for another supply of brick. About one-half mile of the road has been completed, and much more of it is ready for the brick, having been graded, topped and rolled. It is hoped that a sufficient supply of brick will be forth-coming, so that the entire work can be completed before bad weather sets in.

TO REMODEL HOTEL

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ley expect to move their Vanity Fair Tea Room, March 1st, into the Central Hotel building which they have leased for a long term. L. O. Curtiss, jeweler, who has been occupying a room in the hotel building will move his store to the room now occupied by the Leys in the old Oxford Bank building now owned by The Home Building & Loan Co. It is understood that the hotel building will be remodeled to provide space on the first floor for both the tea room and a commodious hotel office.

meagre, as only one public driven well was available, and it gradually ran short from some cause. The fire laddies did the best they could under the circumstances, and the citizens rendered valuable assistance by means of the bucket brigade. A near-by lumber yard was barely saved from destruction by the falling fiery fragments, through the efforts of daring helpers. The residence and barn of Philip Sheets, jr., escaped the flames by the diligent use of engine and hose and muscle.

How did it happen? The Lord only knows. There are probably a half-dozen ways in which the fire may have originated, but no one knows to a certainty. The flames were first seen to emerge from the southeast corner of the building well up toward the roof. That is all anyone knows about it, and perhaps nothing more will ever be known.

It was a most fortunate thing that the wind was not blowing; that it was exceedingly calm and still. Had there been a lively breeze, more than half the town probably would have gone up in smoke.

The lack of water was the most noticeable feature. If our water-works had been in working order, it is very probable that the flames could have been extinguished, and the mill and other property saved. The need of water-works is evident, and we should be glad because our new water system is so nearly completed.

Mr. Leland's loss is fully $5,000, and his total insurance is $3,500. His misfortune is universally regretted.

BUYS COLE LUMBER YARDS

E. M. Blair of this city, whose large and finely equipped flouring mill was reduced to ashes a few months ago, has purchased the Cole lumber yards on East Main street, of Mrs. Cole, widow of the late Jas Cole. A complete invoice of the stock was taken by Albert Zimmer of this city and Bert Leighninger of West Lafayette. Mr. Blair will take possession in a few days, after the business matters connected with the deal have been fully arranged. Mr. Blair has excellent business qualifications, is widely known in this and adjoining counties, and doubtless will succeed quite well. His numerous friends wish him prosperity as he enters upon the New Year. Jan 1915

PURCHASES A FARM

J. E. Keiser, barber, of this city, having sold his Main-st. property, formerly the McMackin estate, to M. C. Julien & Son, has purchased the Rev. J. S. Jones farm near Everals church, about 2 miles northwest of Newcomerstown. Mr. Keiser will continue his barbering business, with assistance, and will devote a part of his time in overseeing his farm. He is doing this in hopes of improving his health, which became impaired by too close application for years to indoor work. Feb. 1915

NEW BUS TERMINAL FOR RED EAGLE CO.

A contract was let Monday by The Red Eagle Bus Co. for the erection of a modern bus terminal building at the northwest corner of Canal and College streets in this city. Work will be commenced at once by the Ferrell Construction Co. of Uhrichsville, and it is expected to have the new building completed in about ninety days.

The new building will be of brick construction, 63 by 55 feet, and will cost approximately $20,000. The structure will be entirely fireproof, with steam heating plant, approved lighting system and modern in all its appointments.

Entrance to the waiting room will be at the corner, leading to a room, 12 by 25 ft., to be equipped with comfortable seats, and with toilet and wash rooms adjoining.

Adjoining the waiting room will be the loading room 18 by 30 ft. with a concrete platform around three sides, all under roof, where the busses are loaded and unloaded.

The new building also provides for two office rooms, each 9 ft. 6 in. by 10 ft. 3 in. The entire west section of the building, 37 by 55 feet will be used for bus storage and repair shop.

In addition to the steam heating plant, the basement will furnish quarters for the storage of parts used in the repair department.

The house on the site will be moved to the west side of the location and remodeled into a modern dwelling.

Newcomerstown can well be proud of its new bus terminal which will be one of the most conveniently arranged and imposing structures of its kind in this section of the state. Gen. Mgr. V. J. Knezevich of The Red Eagle Bus Co. is to be commended for his progressive ideas and careful business methods which are largely responsible for the success of the transportation company he represents.

Carl Lenzo Buys Photographic Studio

Carl Lenzo has purchased the Bright Studio, Main st., from Walter B. Albright, Jr., it was announced this week.

Mr. Lenzo will continue to operate the photographic business under the name of the Bright Camera Shop. In addition to photo service, he will retail cameras and supplies.

The transaction was handled by Paul J. Atkinson, local Realtor.

Mr. Albright left Saturday for New Haven, Connecticut, where he will enter the Progressive School of Photography for six months. His wife and little son plan to join him soon.

The hole near end of the store-room was instantly enveloped by the flames and by no means could they be subdued. Attempts to smother them out were futile, and the application of water by a small street hose was in vain.

The fire department was soon to the rescue, but for two long hours the flames stubbornly resisted showers of water from four large fire hose in the hands of competent and well-directed firemen. The fire had worked it's way into the garret of the building where it spread from loft to loft until the upper portion of the entire building was a mass of flame. This portion of the fire could not be reached except by knocking a hole in the building with an ax, which was accomplished to some extent but under extreme difficulty on account of smoke and flame that issued from the openings. Finally the fire burned through the upper portion of the building and the hose were then used with greater effect. Those who watched the battle between flame and water said they never witnessed a more stubborn fire. At times it seemed as if the flames would conquer and consume the building despite the heroic efforts of the firemen, but the hose proved master of the situation and the flames were finally extinguished. The goods in the building, however, were practically destroyed. Had it not been for our excellent water-works, the adjacent buildings as far down as Mr.

The Company offers to put in service connections from the street mains to the curb line free of charge, and will furnish water gratuitously to patrons until April 1, 1902. These connections will be made as the weather may permit. See their notice to property owners elsewhere in this paper, in which they make their very liberal offer. Mill Goes Up in Smoke.

While the burning of the Emerson flouring mill at this place is still fresh in the minds of our citizens, we are called upon to chronicle the destruction of Mr. T. P. Leland's feed and exchange mill located near the Pan Handle tracks, opposite Yingling's ice plant. 'Twas in the dead of night, at the hour of 12:30 a. m. Saturday last, when the fire-bell sounded, and the majority of our citizens were awakened from deep slumber to find the huge structure wrapped in flames unquenchable. The only thing that could be done was to save adjacent buildings, but even this effort failed in part, for a barn, large corn crib and a small structure where gasoline was stored, were also consumed, all of which were the belongings of Mr. Leland. It was a pitiable sight, but there seemed to be no remedy at hand. The supply of water was very meagre, as only one public driven
