Who Were the Huguenots?

History

The Huguenots were French Protestants who were members of the Reformed Church established in France by John Calvin in about 1555, and who, due to religious persecution, were forced to flee France to other countries in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

The Protestant Reformation began by Martin Luther in Germany about 1517, spread rapidly in France, especially among those having grievances against the established order of government. As Protestantism grew and developed in France it generally abandoned the Lutheran form, and took the shape of Calvinism. The new "Reformed religion" practiced by many members of the French nobility and social middle-class, based on a belief in salvation through individual faith without the need for the intercession of a church hierarchy and on the belief in an individual's right to interpret scriptures for themselves, placed these French Protestants in direct theological conflict with both the Catholic Church and the King of France in the theocratic system which prevailed at that time. Followers of this new Protestantism were soon accused of heresy against the Catholic government and the established religion of France, and a General Edict urging extermination of these heretics (Huguenots) was issued in 1536. Nevertheless, Protestantism continued to spread and grow, and about 1555 the first Huguenot church was founded in a home in Paris based upon the teachings of John Calvin. The number and influence of the French Reformers (Huguenots) continued to increase after this event, leading to an escalation in hostility and conflict between the Catholic Church/State and the Huguenots. Finally, in 1562, some 1200 Huguenots were slain at Vassy, France, thus igniting the French Wars of Religion which would devastate France for the next thirty-five years.

The Edict of Nantes, signed by Henry IV in April, 1598, ended the Wars of Religion, and allowed the Huguenots some religious freedoms, including free exercise of their religion in 20 specified towns of France.

The Revocation of the Edict of Nantes by Louis XIV in October, 1685, began anew persecution of the Huguenots, and hundreds of thousands of Huguenots fled France to other countries. The Promulgation of the Edict of Toleration in November, 1787, partially restored the civil and religious rights of Huguenots in France.

Since the Huguenots of France were in large part artisans, craftsmen, and professional people, they were usually well-received in the countries to which they fled for refuge when religious discrimination or overt persecution caused them to leave France. Most of them went initially to Germany, the Netherlands, and England, although some found their way eventually to places as remote as South Africa. Considerable numbers of Huguenots migrated to British North America, especially to the Carolinas, Virginia, Pennsylvania, and New York. Their character and talents in the arts, sciences, and industry were such that they are generally felt to have been a substantial loss to the French society from which they had been forced to withdraw, and a corresponding gain to the communities and nations into which they settled.

Origin of the Word Huguenot

The exact origin of the word Huguenot is unknown, but many consider it to be a combination of Flemish and German. Protestants who met to study the Bible in secret were called Huis Genooten, meaning "house fellows." They were also referred to as Eid Genossen, or "oath fellows" meaning persons bound by an oath. Two possible but different derivations incorporating this concept can be found in the Encyclopedia Britannica:

1. "Huguenot", according to Frank Puaux, at one time President of the Societe Francaise de l'Historie du Protestantisme Francais and author of the article about the Huguenots in the eleventh edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica:

"is the name given from about the middle of the sixteenth century to the Protestants of France. It was formerly explained as coming from the German Eldgenosen, the designation of the people of Geneva at the time when they were admitted to the Swiss Confederation. This explanation is now abandoned. The words Huguenot, Huguenots, are old French words, common in fourteenth and fifteenth-century charters. As the Protestants called the Catholics papistes, so the Catholics called the protestants huguenots. The Protestants at Tours used to assemble by night near the gate of King Hugo, whom the people regarded as a spirit. A monk, therefore, in a sermon declared that the Lutherans ought to be called Huguenots, as kinsmen of King Hugo, inasmuch as they would only go out at night as he did. This nickname became popular from 1560 onwards, and for a long time the French Protestants were always known by it."

2. The current edition Encyclopedia Britannica offers a somewhat different explanation, although agreeing the word is a derivative of the German word Eldgenosen:

"The origin of the name is uncertain, but it appears to have come from the word aignos, derived from the German Eldgenosen (confederates bound together by oath), which used to describe, between 1520 and 1524, the patriots of Geneva hostile to the duke of Savoy. The spelling Huguenot may have been influenced by the personal name Hugues, "Hugh"; a leader of the Geneva movement was one Besancon Hugues (d. 1532)."

The Edict of Nantes (1598)

Henry, by the grace of God king of France and of Navarre, to all to whom these presents come, greeting:

Among the infinite benefits which it has pleased God to heap upon us, the most signal and precious is his granting us the strength and ability to withstand the fearful disorders and troubles which prevailed on our advent in this kingdom. The realm was so torn by innumerable factions and sects that the most legitimate of all the parties was fewest in numbers. God has given us strength to stand out against this storm; we have finally surmounted the waves and made our port of safety, -- peace for our state. For which his be the glory all in all, and ours a free recognition of his grace in making use of our instrumentality in the good work. . . . We implore and await from the Divine Goodness the same protection and favor which he has ever granted to this kingdom from the beginning. . . .

We have, by this perpetual and irrevocable edict. established and proclaimed and do establish and proclaim :

I. First, that the recollection of everything done be one party or the other, between March, 1585 and our accession to the crown, and during all the preceding period of troubles, remain obliterated and forgotten, as if no such things had ever happened....

II. We forbid on all our subjects, of some state and quality that they are, to renew the memory, to attack, to feel, to scold, nor to provoke each other by reproach of what took place, for some cause and excuse whether it is, to compete for it, to dispute, quarrel nor offend itself or take offence actually or at word, but contain itself and live peacefully together as brothers, friends and fellow countrymen, on punishment to the offenders to be punished as infracteurs of peace and troublemakers of the public rest.

III. We ordain that the Catholic Apostolic and Roman religion shall be restored and reestablished in all places and localities of this our kingdom and countries subject to our sway, where the exercise of the same has been interrupted, in order that it may be peaceably and freely exercised, without any trouble or hindrance: forbidding very expressly all persons, of whatsoever estate, quality, or condition, from troubling, molesting, or disturbing ecclesiastics in the celebration of divine service, in the enjoyment or collection of tithes, fruits, or revenues of their benefices, and all other rights and dues belonging to them: and that all those who during the troubles have taken possession of churches, houses, goods or revenues, belonging to the said ecclesiastics, shall surrender to them entire possession and peaceable enjoyment of such rights, liberties, and sureties as they had before they were deprived of them.

CARDIN

Cardin was a city with two names: first Tar River and then Cardin. It was incorporated in 1918. Its 1200 inhabitants changed the name to Cardin when Oscar Cardin promised to construct a half-mile of side walk in the town, if it could bear his name. The town was located on three Cardin allotments: the Sarah Cardin Stator; the Magdalen Cardin -Kenoyer and the Oscar Cardin.

Louis LaFountaine Cardin and his brother, Oscar, had been adopted by the Quapaws and given allotments in 1894. The family was prominent in the early mining development of Ottawa County.

By 1919, Cardin was publicized as becoming citified. It was located on Tar Creek, the stream which "is lined on either side by rich mines for miles, where no thought has been taken so far other than to dig out and mill the rich dirt." It was, the writer admitted, practically a collection of shacks spread over a wide area and while it was true there were some concrete business houses, the building for the greater part had been with the idea of using the cheapest materials. There had been no thought of architectural beauty.

Essel & Florence Wayman
Jack, Everett

Uncle Essel and Aunt Florence lived on the road which was the south border of Grant County, Oklahoma. As children I remember both families spent a lot of time visiting each other. Our father, Jesse and Uncle Essel often helped each other with farming jobs. Aunt Florence was an excellent cook and a very loving person. I shall never forget the sadness of our uncle at her passing. The Montgomery boys, Everett and Dean, my brother spent a lot of time playing together I, being the only girl, got my share of teasing. My Mother and Father, Floyd and Velma Brown married in the middle of the great depression. Dad went to work in the oil fields of Oklahoma. He drilled oil wells, in Okla., Kansas, Wyoming and Montana. He went into the construction business as an employee of Prichard Construction which was later purchased by Adtek Engineering of Kansas City. Dad was a Project Manager and specialized in chemical plants and oil refineries in Okla., Ohio, Cal., Kansas, Texas, La., Ill., Miss., La., and Alberta, Canada. At the time of his death, he was building the Farmland Plant east of Enid. Dad enjoyed so much being back in his home state of Oklahoma and seeing old friends and relatives for the first time in years. Mother was his faithful companion and friend for all of these moves. I can remember going to Goltry on Memorial Day and seeing all of Grandma Maude's relatives gathering first at the Cemetery and then one of the sister's homes for a huge dinner. Grandma and I always had a coke at the drugstore and I always got a free cookie at the grocery stores. Aunt Edna made me a dressing table out of orange crates. Later in life, when my children were out of the nest I went into business as half owner of a resort at Lake Rathbun, Iowa. My partner was Mickey Rooney. Later I ran for the State House Seat, but was defeated by 100 votes. Broke my heart, for of course, I was the better candidate. We retired here in Edmond Oklahoma seven years ago, and our door is always open for "kissing Cousins."

Jesse Wayman With his Topless Car- told by Phil Wayman
Assisted by all his brothers.

Jesse E. Wayman was born on February 5, 1892 in Frontier County, Nebraska. His parents were Joseph Samuel and Amanda Carter Wayman.

His family and other Waymans moved into the Cherokee Strip in 1906. As a lad of fourteen, they settled on a farm in the Fairview School community in Garfield County, two miles East of the Alfalfa County line.

Jesse married Mildred Secord on March 21, 1914. Mildred, the second child of James & Cora Belle Secord, was born near Emporia, Kansas on March 27, 1893. Her father made the run into the Cherokee Strip when she was six months old, and staked a claim southeast of Nash, Grant County. In the fall of 1913 she became the school teacher for Fairview School. Jesse's father was the chairman of the school board.

After their marriage they rented the Bastian place just north of the school. Their first two children, Ruthalie and Dean were born there. In 1917 they purchased a farm which bordered the Garfield County on the west. Seven of their children were born there. James, Clarence, Byron, Phil, Hugh, Robert and Betty. Doing well financially, Jesse purchased the adjoining farm which is in Alfalfa County and five miles northeast of Goltry.

All of their children graduated from Goltry High School. Jesse was on the school board. Both he and Mildred were active in their children's education. Dean, James and Clarence were farmers. James & Clarence, the Wayman Brothers, who raised Poland China hogs, following in Jesse's footsteps. All were active in 4-H club and FFA's. James, Clarence, Byron, Phil were active in WWII. Bob went in the Army of Occupation in Japan. (ret Lt. Col.)

Five of their sons became Ministers, in four denominations. The three daughters became teachers and later went into Administration and CPA. Eleven graduated with bachelor degrees. Seven have masters degrees and one, Sam has a doctorate. Dean, the master farmer owned eleven farms at his death.

Jesse and Mildred moved to Payne County in 1951 and after his retirement and illness, he passed away in Oklahoma City on August 25, 1970. Mildred passed away on April 27, 1977. Both are buried at Karoma Cemetery, Goltry.

Depression Years:

Ruby Estell, Goltry, and I were among the twenty youth who represented Alfalfa County at the 4 H Club Congress in Stillwater, in August, 1930. Lee Roy was a representative from Oklahoma County. His parents had moved to Edmond in 1928 and ran a rooming house for college students. Lee Roy and his Dad did trucking.

When we first became aware that Lee Roy was at the congress, Ruby and I were walking to the Cow Palace and found ourselves walking behind he and a girl from Oklahoma County. They seemed very involved with each other. The next morning when we reached the assembly, at the Cow Palace, and were seated, we saw him come in and sit down about three seats to the left. Since he was alone, we decided to make ourselves known. We said 'Hi' and he showed no recognition. We showed our name tags and he seemed glad to see kids from Goltry. We sat together, and during the day he informed us that Mr. Spencer, the County Agent had asked him to 'cool it' with the girl. Of course, Mr. Spencer sure didn't like it when Lee Roy crossed county lines. For a couple of days we three ran around to the meetings until we were swimming and Lee Roy didn't go in. Along came Mr. Spencer and asked Lee Roy to ride back to Edmond with Billy Bush who had to return home, ahead of time. A messenger was sent to us to give us this news and return a bracelet which I had worn and which belonged to Ruby. Since that was a habit of ours to pick up a new friend at every 4H event, we didn't feel too badly.

After returning home, I received a letter from Grand Junction from Lee Roy and apologizing for leaving so suddenly. In a few weeks I got another letter, asking me to correspond with him. Since I was at home and had time to write we wrote for awhile until suddenly he and his boy friend, Clifford Moon-ey exchanged corresponding girl friends. I knew Clifford, and liked him a lot, but it seemed like we were being traded, so I quit writing. Lee Roy graduated from Edmond High School in the spring of 1931 and went to Central State College the winter of 1931-32. He got involved with a girl named Indianola McFarland, and we heard no more that year. Her parents didn't want her to get serious so soon and the school year ended that romance.

In the summer of 1932 I received a letter asking if he could come up some week end. Elnora had a friend, Frances Conyers with whom she had corresponded every since 1928. When the call came one Sunday afternoon, Elnora was left at Frances' home in Goltry, and he drove out to the farm, five miles north east of town. The word was out and I suppose no young man ever had to cross such barriers. Winona Ruppenthal had come home with me, from church. The boys all lined up on the bars of the windmill, clear to the top and reported on his progress, arriving. Their eyes really popped for he was driving his Dad's 1925 Master Buick. They figured Lee Roy was rich! Later he told me his Dad paid $500.00 for it.

THE DEPRESSION YEARS

The 'Good Years' of the 1920's were replaced during the years of the presidency of Herbert Hoover by the depression. Because of it I could not go to college and stayed home to help both parents both outside and inside. What a hard time that was, but it was a time of discovering that work was the answer to being able to eat and enjoy the family. We always had fun together.

Papa had to re-finance both farms and the bank, in the goodness of their heart, and a belief in our Father's integrity, allowed us to keep the farms, and use some of the mortgaged stock for meat to feed the family. The children knew we were going through hard times but we never missed a meal. During those three years I pitched hay and did whatever one of the boys would do. We smoked and canned the meat; made our own soap; ground our own cornmeal and wheat (using the wheat for cereal). Our parents sold enough cream and eggs to buy sugar, salt, and white flour.

On May 18, 1932, our second sister, Lida Elaine, was born. She was a beautiful, dark haired little miss and helped balance the gender in our family. It was a busy day and Mama and I were canning beef when she stopped and said we would need to call Dr. Webber (Dr. Shannon had moved to Enid and was not as accessible) School was just out and all of the children were home. Some of the middle aged boys were sent to Fred and Lina Unruh's to play with their boys and Lina came to help the Doctor. I took the three younger ones out to play. We went to the machine shed and getting them up in the wagon, I told them stories. I learned the agony of birth that day for I could hear my mother's suffering from where we were.

During the late 1920's Papa had purchased a tractor which Dean began to drive at 12,13 years of age. Before that time all work was done with horses and took so much time. In the twenties when Papa bound, and later headed the grain, the wheat or oats was stacked and later in the summer, the threshing machine came to the Scarlett place, which bordered us on the east, and the men hauled the grain in header barges to the machine; running the grain into wagons where it was either taken to the elevator in town or stored in our granary which had been built on the end of the new garage. This long building was just north of the house on the East Place. We older ones were pleased to run errands over to the threshing machine. It was fascinating to watch, and had a cook shack parked near by for feeding the workers (hands). I remember that our Aunt Grace was cook there one summer, and we sat in the doorway and watched her work at the big cabinet, which had places for all the staples that she used for cooking or baking. It was fun to see the pies she made, and they smelled so good!

A Tribute to James Elton Wayman
Goltry, Oklahoma

By: Sam Wayman

Tom Brokaw calls it, The Greatest Generation.
Sorely tested, they survived The Great Depression.
James finished Goltry High, class of '37
and entered Central State located in Edmond;
Then, transferring to Oklahoma A & M -
He must have thought farming was calling him!
James learned most from 'leven siblings who lived with him
Honing skills to succeed when things became most grim.

Germany and Japan declared war on our nation -
Enlistees fought against enemy domination.
James patriotically entered the war scene
'long with Clarence, Byron, Phil, and Robert Eugene.
The United States Navy placed him in harm's throes,
and two different ships were hit by torpedoes.
The young Wayman children were still home on the farm
Where Dad rose early never needing an alarm.

James was Signalman First Class 'til the war was through.
He later tried to teach Helena vets a thing or two.
He bought the Constant farm from neighbor, Herbert Jobes and fixed up the old house for a place to call home.
He married Donna Wadkins in nineteen forty nine,
Fathered Jackie Wayne to extend the family line.
Coming in from farming, pulling off shoes and socks,
James loved sharing lessons from "The School of Hard Knocks."

He judged livestock in 4-H Club during young years and as an adult continued to support area Fairs.
James' school board stint was clearly an education.
He talked politics, but seldom won an election!
While grandkids were extending the family line,
James concentrated on raising cattle and swine.
Laid to rest in Karoma at the age of eighty,
He was placed in a plot near grandson, Jeremy.

Church influence helps

By Hugh D. Wayman
Pastor First Free Methodist Church

One of the things that makes our state great has been the influence of its churches. This is not only true in regard to spiritual influence on the lives of individuals, but also in regards to their physical well being and industrial advancement.

The churches have been progressive in raising the vision of its people to what could be done in industrial development, by keeping focus on the important values of life. It is no accident that many nationwide strong leaders of industry and businesses have originated in our state.

Many educational institutions, social agencies, and health care facilities have come as a direct result of the church and its concern for people of our state.

Many articles could be written about many of these agencies, but I am more familiar with Deaconess Home and Hospital. These institutions, which are a ministry of the Free Methodist Church, are typical of how an institution and a state can develop together, under the free enterprise system.

The Deaconess Home, which has been a haven for unwed mothers, traces its origin back to the turn of the century, even before Oklahoma became a state. The home has provided spiritual, physical, and educational care for many girls through these years. It has also been a placement agency for many families desiring babies.

Because of the home's concern for the whole person, the girls are given new hope, and challenged to become good citizens.

Though Deaconess Home started with very meager facilities, it has developed now into a very modern facility, which has made it an outstanding social agency.

Deaconess Hospital originally developed from the need of the Home to have a hospital to care for its patients and has grown to become one of the outstanding general hospitals of the area.

The motto of Deaconess, "Where Care Comes First", has been demonstrated time and make state great again in outstanding care to patients of the hospital.

One of the things that has made Deaconess great has been the backing and influence of the church, and Christianity-in-action, strived for by the administration, employees, volunteers and medical staff.

One of the goals of Deaconess Hospital is to provide health care facilities for people at the lowest possible cost, in a spiritual environment. Deaconess is to be congratulated at the achievement of this goal, in that its costs go below the guidelines set by the federal government.

One example of the cost containment program at Deaconess is the surgical care unit where one-day out-patient surgeries are performed, providing a 46 percent savings to the average patient. This is just another way in which Deaconess has consistently led in new ways of providing excellent health care at as low a rate as possible.

The 177-bed hospital has the highest occupancy rate of any hospital in the state, due to the care and the atmosphere demonstrated.

Growing and developing churches, showing practical Christianity through these types of institutions, is a sure foundation for a growing and developing state ... with a great industrial future.

Deaconess Hospital Ladies Auxiliary Celebrating 25 Years of Service

By Bernice Love
Staff Writer

The clock on the wall of the PBX office at Deaconess Hospital is 23 years old and still ticking. An inscription below it reads, "Presented by Ladies Auxiliary, January 1967."

The clock was the first gift donated by the auxiliary, which celebrated its 25th anniversary Thursday night with a banquet at the Marriott Hotel.

Since the early days, membership in the volunteer organization has grown from 17 to more than 300; hours of service have increased from 16,000 in 1967 to more than 60,000 in 1989; and donations to the hospital have evolved from that simple clock to an average of $70,000 per year for equipment and services.

"I think it's such fun that we first gave the hospital a clock," said active charter member Betty Wayman.

"We were so proud of ourselves for raising enough money for it — probably about $50 or something like that."

Wayman began her volunteer service in the chaplain's office, dispensing information to patients.

She now is a hostess at the information desk in the main lobby.

"I ought to have 10,000 or 15,000 hours like a lot of our other ladies, but I only have 3,000 at this point," she said.

"That's because I lived in Tulsa for two years, and I also dropped out for another couple of years to take care of my parents in my home."

Wayman volunteers four hours a week at the hospital and spends additional time at home editing the auxiliary's newsletter and lettering signs.

She also helped design the pin worn on every member's uniform.

She finds the work very fulfilling.

"The fact that we have women from all denominations working together shows a Christian spirit, I think," she said.

"We all have a kindred spirit, because we're all here for a reason — to give and to share."

I thought that this was an interesting email from Vaughn Andrews. Aunt Goldie's step grandson. Also, I have added the Wayman Reunion Flyer. Hope to see each of you this May!

Dear Pat,

My name is Vaughn Andrews. I am not of blood to the Wayman family. Goldie B. Wayman (Andrews) was my (step) grandmother. As you all must know she did not have children of her own. Goldie was the most caring, loving person on the face of this earth. She married Forrest Andrews, raised my father. After my dad's death in 51, she was grandma to the max for my brother and I. She will always be known as Goldie B. for anyone in my family.

I have so many stories to tell about Goldie B. to mention. What I can say .

Regards,
 Vaughn

Bluestem graduate earns Fulbright Scholarship

By MATT JACOBS
Times Editor

Nathan Harper considers himself lucky.

That's the way the Wichita State graduate student accounts for his recent fortune that includes winning the prestigious Fulbright Scholarship.

Harper, a 1995 graduate of Bluestem High School in Leon, will use the estimated $15,000 scholarship to spend the next nine months in Cyprus, where he will conduct anthropology research.

"I've been really lucky, there's no other way to describe it," Harper said. "I'm very happy with what I do."

Harper will be working at Khirokitia, Cyprus, one of the largest early settling places on the island. After uncovering skeletons and artifacts, Harper will be able to put together basic profiles of the people of that time.

The benefit today, he said, is to learn what those people were like and what they did — and to help the current generation of people to improve its way of life.

Harper has also been involved with forensic archeology, where he helps to give a description of bodies that have decomposed.

"That's not always pleasant, but you can rest assured you are doing something to help the family and to make sure whoever would do something like that will pay for their crime," Harper said.

Nathan Harper, a 1995 graduate of Bluestem High School and a graduate student at Wichita State, has been awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to do research for a year in Cyprus. Harper is believed to be the first WSU student in many years to earn the prestigious scholarship.

But his work in Cyprus is part of long-term research. His study focuses on craniums, measuring the size and shape. Cyprus was originally uninhabited, and Harper hopes to find out where the first inhabitants came from and other patterns, possibly including family ties and class structure.

"It's amazing the amount of stuff you can discover from skeletons," Harper said. "A lot of what I do with archeology is to understand the past and what people went through."

Harper loved to dig and discover as a kid. When his family moved to Leon before the start of his freshman year in high school, he was naturally attracted to history and biology classes at Bluestem.

"What I do now is a direct correlation to those classes, and is the best of both worlds," Harper said. "I'm looking at the history of people, and getting to use biology and anatomy."

Harper said he has relied on a number of lucky breaks to get where he is. Coming out of Bluestem, where his father, Dale, is still the principal, Harper chose Wichita State.

"It was the right place to go," Harper said. "The professors were so qualified and easy to work with and they were very enthusiastic."

In his first anthropology class, he met instructor Peer Moore-Jansen, who he is still working with six years later.

"My professor has done so much for me, it would never be possible for me to repay him," Harper said. "I'm not sure I would have found that at another university."

Once in Moore-Jansen's class, Harper volunteered to work in the lab as a freshman, a move that accelerated his progress.

So while Nathan Harper considers himself lucky, Dale

Harper knows his son put himself in a position to be lucky.

"When Nathan was a freshman, the first thing he did was volunteer, and as a result of being a volunteer, he got to do things few freshman get to do," his father said. "He has done extremely well and has helped make those opportunities for himself by that initial volunteer experience. He helped create his own opportunities by the time and effort and interest he put into this."

He took the first of two trips to Cyprus in 1998, where he worked mostly in the field at Kourion, the site of a late Roman cemetery site.

Just before his senior year, he went back to Cyprus, this time as a lead analyst. It was a job very rare for an underclassman, and another one of Harper's self-proclaimed lucky breaks.

His writings from those trips were published in the Report of Department of Antiquities of Cyprus, which is a government publication.

The previous trips to Cyprus helped when Harper started the application process for the Fulbright nearly a year ago.

"It came directly from the work I was doing there," Harper said. "I met people on the island and had a nice support group to help me out, and they introduced me to the right people."

"They knew who I was when
