William Dugan
Director

William Dugan was born in Concord, Massachusetts, and began to study dance at age eleven. While still a teenager, he designed sets and costumes for professional theater companies. He also performed on a regular basis. After high school, he moved to New York City, where he quickly became a staff member and scholarship student at the Martha Graham School of Contemporary Dance.

As a professional dancer, Bill danced in New York City and on tour with such major dance artists as Jose Limon, Lucan Hoving, Sophie Maslow and John Butler. As a soloist with the American Dance Theater, he appeared at the New York State Theater at Lincoln Center. Bill studied at the Juilliard School of Music and was awarded the Marge and Gower Champion Scholarship. He also attended the American Musical and Dramatic Academy.

Bill has directed and choreographed numerous shows both off-Broadway and in regional theater. Most recently he choreographed and directed "Hello Dolly" for the Salt Lake City Center for the Performing Arts and has performed as guest artist with the Salem Center for Performing Arts in Oregon in "Promises Promises." He also directed Christopher Fry's "The Lady's Not For Burning," Noel Coward's "Present Laughter" and has three original shows to his credit which he has co-authored "Nothing to Swear By," a paperback romance, production of which is scheduled in Phoenix, Ariz., and "The Grand Scandals" and "The Next Grand Scandals" which is scheduled in Salem come this summer. Bill directed his first follies with the Jerome Cargill Organization in 1969.

When only the best will do

Grandma Shearer's has saved the taste of old fashioned hand cooked potato chips. More flavor, more crunch, and more quality than chips made in big automatic cookers.

Look for the Grandma Shearer's products in the calico bag at your favorite grocer.
