

Boy Scouts and Boy Scout Band

As the first weeks of February arrive each year I am reminded of our annual observance in Newcome stown of the birthday of The Boy Scouts of America in 1910. After graduation at OSU in the spring of that year I returned to my home town with the thought of organizing a troupe of Boy Scouts just as soon as it could be done. I was also filled with the ambition of having a band of my own for I had just completed several years service in the OSU regimental band and that experience together with being lackey boy in the Hyperion Band for years was not going to be let go by for nothing. The up shot of it was that I combined these two ideas and made a beginning by organizing a boys drum corps of about 20 youngsters of scout age (12 years or older). In addition to the boys playing drums I added a few boys that I had taught to play cornet which latter group did the trumpeting for the corps. We practiced regularly in our club rooms upstairs at 221 West Main Street and also faithfully studied our scout handbook and made application to be registered at B.S. headquarters in New York City. After considerable correspondence and several ^{required} recommendations from the mayor and business men and my pastor that I was qualified I was finally commissioned as scoutmaster early in 1911. The boys were duly registered as tenderfoot scouts but in the many years to follow many of them were gradually promoted to 1st class and later to Eagle and Star Scouts and several had Merit Badges for advanced work in special lines. This was accomplished during the decade from 1910 to 1920.

But here I am rambling on about musical groups although they have been my lifes principal hobby and interest. What I started out to do in this article was to tell something of the early history of scouting in Newcomerstown. Suffice it to say that the scouts in that day as at present were taught courtesy, things that make character, self reliance and other virtues of good citizenship. Many were the calls for service to the community and nation. Scouts were asked to do much of the local leg work during World Wars - distributing pamphlets for the government, selling Liberty Bonds and Saving Stamps and the growing and New York City where the band was selected to head the Ohio Corn Tour in 1917. The band from its humble beginning developed into quite an efficient musical group playing before governors and presidents at times. It is with fond remembrance that I recall all the labor and association with and the names of hundreds of boys and girls that were beginners or advanced musicians in the series of bands and orchestras that followed from 1900 until recent years. After 1939 because of another hitch at OSU when I earned a Bachelor in Education degree I was engaged in teaching music in public schools until my retirement a few years ago. But especially well do I remember the most of the 20 boys that made up my original marching group headed by Chas. Yingling with wooden gun as drum major. Lawrence Wilkin was bass drummer, snare drummers ^{were} Tom Montgomery, Willis Neal, Roy (Si) Colven. Others were Russel Purdy, Elmer, Roger and Melvin Vansickle, Victor Yingling, Dudley Geddes, Wayne Ley, Sam Boltz, Ralph Dillon, Charles Adams, Jessie McConnell, Ralph Tilton, etc. During the years there were some changes in membership. When some members dropped out ~~their~~ ^{his} places was filled by someone else waiting for the chance to "Make the band" from the secondary or preparatory band which was generally kept in operation as a feeder for the older group. Many NCT boys and girls now grown and some passed on were members at different times during just what years I do not recall (and my records are at my desk some 1200 miles away. But I venture to list a few such persons: Ralph Portz, Fred Reed, Dr. Hildebrand, Isaac Hazes, Jack Curby, Walter Hinds, Jr., Robert Hinds, Bertha Ellen Neighbor, Robert and Edward Vansickle, Martha and Emily Olson and scores of others. There were no school bands in those days and when players were needed the only thing was to teach and train them. One of the first girls to be admitted to the band when the boys voted to admit them to our concert band was Racheal Erwin, a good clarinet player having been taught by her father, Bruce Erwin, a photographer, who was first clarinetist in the Hyperion Band. My method of teaching clarinet was by the use of the flageolet, an inexpensive instrument similar to the instruments used by the famous Trapp Family.

The program throughout was exceptionally good, and each number received a hearty round of applause. A specially interesting feature of the entertainment was the cornet solo by Wayne Ley and the clarinet solo by Rachael Erwin. The success of the band is largely due to the untiring efforts and capable leadership of Mr. Chas. Lieser, who has spent several years in preparing the boys for concert work. First came the drum corps and from it has sprung a regularly organized band with full equipment of musical instruments. It is understood that the boys are receiving propositions for playing engagements at fairs, picnics and other public celebrations, and that a limited number of contracts will be entered during the summer. That the people of Newcomerstown are proud of the Boy Scout Band was clearly evidenced last Friday by their generous voluntary contribution. Previously a few dollars had been subscribed by business men to meet the expenses of the concert, but during the rendition of the program it was suggested that someone pass the hat. Everybody seemed anxious to contribute, with the result that altogether a nice little sum of about $25.00 went into the Boy Scout's treasury. The band is composed of 20 members, ranging in age from 12 to 16 years.

SEVENTEEN HUNDRED IN PARADE OF MEN

Canal Dover, June 1—(Special)—
There were 1,700 men in a parade here last night at the county Sunday school convention. Bands and transparencies enlivened the spectacle. The Sunday schools simply poured in from points all over the county last night. There were bands from Sugar Creek, Strasburg, New Philadelphia, Canal Dover, Franklin township, the Boy Scout band of Newcomerstown, and drum corps from Shanesville and Uhrichsville. Four car loads came from Uhrichsville on the traction line. A mass meeting was held at the Methodist church and overflow meetings at the St. John's Evangelical and the English Luthern churches. The women's meeting was held at the Moravian church.

New Philadelphia won the banner, having probably 500 men in line in the parade. Uhrichsville was next with about three hundred. The street car company announces that it carried 500 people from Uhrichsville and 1,000 from New Philadelphia. only paragraph in whole - 7-4-11

COL. GEORGE BAIN MAKES ADDRESS AT OPENING SESSION OF WEEK

BOY SCOUTS ARE IN CAMP

About One Hundred, With a Band, are Enjoying Outing in Charge of Experienced Playground Director

About one thousand people attended the opening of the first annual Tuscarawas County Chautauqua at Tuscora park Sunday. Col. George Bain, of Kentucky, spoke in the morning to a union meeting of the Brotherhood classes of the county and gave a lecture Sunday afternoon on the subject "A Search Light of the Twentieth Century."

Judge Mitchell explained the plan for making the Chautauqua a permanent institution. It is aimed to sell one hundred shares of stock at $50 each to finance the chautauqua.

Boys in Camp

Almost one hundred boys are in camp at Tuscora Park and more are expected. The Boy Scouts and the Lutheran boys of this city are among them. Any boy wishing to spend the day in camp may do so free of charge providing he takes dinner with him. Tents and cots are furnished the boys at ten cents a piece.

The Boy Scout Band composed of eighteen Newcomerstown Scouts gave a fine free concert on the streets of Dover this morning.

The children's play ground at the park is in charge of Miss Lamkin of Chicago. Several Dover children were on the grounds this morning. A cordial invitation is extended to all boys and girls from six to eighteen years of age.

The Boy Scouts.

The Boy Scouts band of this city and their energetic director, Charles E. Lieser, are certainly worthy of commendation for their splendid progress along musical lines, and for the excellent public spirit they manifest. To the most of us their fine concert on the evening of Decoration day was a revelation, and their manly bearing, no less than their music, won the good will of the crowd. This was in evidence by the hearty reception given the youngsters, and the generous response when the hat was passed 'round. Director Lieser is doing a fine work, and he is displaying lots of energy and skill in accomplishing it. Here's good luck to the Scouts and their leader.

CHAUTAUQUA PEOPLE VISIT TWIN CITIES

Churchville Chronicle
8/27-13

A number of boys from the boys' encampment at the Tuscarawas county chautauqua being held this week in Tuscora park, New Philadelphia, accompanied by several older people, visited Uhrichsville and Dennison Tuesday evening and held short meetings at the playground in Dennison and at the corner of Third and Water streets, Uhrichsville.

The meetings were addressed by Rev. C. A. MacDonald, pastor of the New Philadelphia Christian church, and Miss Nina Lamkin, in charge of the children's play program at the chautauqua. Rev. Mr. MacDonald led the party. The visitors came in six automobiles. They were accompanied by the Boy Scout band of Newcomerstown, which is furnishing music for the encampment. The youthful musicians played several selections at both meetings.

Rev. Mr. MacDonald made an announcement of some of the leading features of the chautauqua and urged the people of the two towns to attend. He said he was sorry that Uhrichsville was not better represented at the boys' encampment. He said there were only two boys there from Uhrichsville and that there ought to be at least 20. He informed the people that the association was to be incorporated and that the chautauqua was a county affair and belonged to the people of Uhrichsville as much as to the people of any other part of the county.

Miss Lamkin made a few remarks, speaking of the efforts being made to entertain the young people and the children. She urged the people to attend and to send their children.

At both meetings quite good sized crowds gathered to see the visitors and hear the speakers and musicians. Before starting for home, led by Rev. Mr. MacDonald, three lusty cheers were given by the boys in the party for the people of Uhrichsville.

Boy Campers and Boys' Band Tour County in Machines

Young America is holding full sway at Tuscora Park this week. The Boys' Encampment, the largest ever held in the county, is on with a vengeance. Enthusiasm took a jump skyward Monday noon when the Boy Scouts Band of Newcomerstown arrived twenty strong. They paraded the streets of Canal Dover and then came to this city, where a short concert was given on the square.

Several autos filled with boy campers will leave here at 5 o'clock this evening for a tour of Uhrichsville and Dennison to advertise the fact that the boys' encampment is on at Tuscora Park this week. The Boy Scout band of Newcomerstown will accompany the advertisers.—New Philadelphia Daily Times.

The Boy Scouts

The Boy Scout band of this city and their energetic director, Charles Lieser, are certainly worthy of commendation for their splendid progress along musical lines, and for the excellent public spirit they manifest. To the most of us their fine concert on the evening of Decoration day, was a revelation, and their manly bearing, no less than their music, won the good will of the crowd. This was in evidence by the large attendance and hearty applause given the youngsters to which they generously responded with many encores. Director Lieser is doing a fine work, and he is displaying lots of energy and skill in accomplishing it.—Newcomerstown Index.

Local Scout Troop Needs Scoutmaster

Boy Scout Troop 450 has made a positive contribution to the youth of Newcomerstown for several years. The Troop meets Mondays at 7 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church, on W. Canal St., and has participated in many councilwide and district-wide activities of the Boy Scouts of America in this area.

Now the Troop is in danger of disbanding because there is no scoutmaster.

Two assistant scoutmasters, Roger Bourne and Donald Kohl have given a great deal of leadership and skills training to the boys but are not able, for personal reasons, to assume the responsibilities of being scoutmaster.

Daniel Graham, pastor of the church where the troop meets and its Institutional Representative, said it would be helpful if scoutmaster applicants were familiar with the scouting program and possessed outdoor skills, but these things can be taught and are not requirements.

The one requirement, and one which cannot be taught, Rev. Graham says, is interest in and concern for the young people of the community in general and the troop in particular.

Rev. Graham said help and training are available from the District, from assistant scoutmasters, and from fathers of several boys in the troop, but that a scoutmaster is essential for a successful scouting unit.

Persons interested in knowing more about the position of scoutmaster, or in volunteering, or in suggesting where the troops's leaders can turn, are asked to call Rev. Graham at 498-8672 or Mr. Kohl at 498-8133.

"People are quick to criticize young people when they make trouble," Rev. Graham stated, "but they are not so quick to respond when there are opportunities to encourage youngsters interested in building up the world rather than tearing it down."

16-10-69 Six Boy Scouts Are Advanced

Paul Lamneck, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 450, announced this week the advancement in rank of six boys in the troop.

Earning 10 merit badges and meeting all the requirements of a White Star Scout Bruce Stonebrook became a life Scout.

Mike Hartline, Keith Glazer and Robert Sherry each earned five merit badges to become Star Scouts. Lee Russell and Tim Sauerbrey became second class scouts.

The boys met for a conference with their Scoutmaster and Tuesday appeared before the Board of Review.

The troop will participate in the Fall Camporee Oct. 17 and 19 near Gnadenhutzen. Plans are also in the making for an overnight canoe trip down the Tuscarawas River.

Local History Of Boy Scouts Traced

The Boy Scouts of America was originally incorporated February 8, 1910. In June, six years later, Congress granted a Federal charter to the organization.

The movement is a plan to train our boys for good citizenship. Before he becomes a Scout a boy must promise, "On my honor I will do my best: to do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout laws. To help other people at all times. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight." He is urged to do a good turn daily and the Scout law which he tries faithfully to observe have these twelve reminders-- a scout is loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean, reverent.

Scout crafts include, first aid, life saving, tracking, signalling, nature study, cycling, campcraft, woodcraft and much time is spent in the great outdoors. The candidate becomes a tenderfoot, a second class, first class, and passes through further degrees depending on how much study he has given it.

Some of these recalled are Mayor Lloyd Murphy, and Joseph Brown; ministers, O.J. Kramer and Patterson; editors, John T. Duff and M.C. Julien; Superintendent of Schools, E.E. Smock, E.W. Marlowe; J.H. Lippencott, banker; A.M. VanSickle, engineer; J.W. Ley, contractor; J. M. Kadden, merchant; Dr. George Kistler; H.G. Muchelnaus, Insurance; T. J. Shannon, Insurance; Joseph Loader, merchant and others.

Scout activities were quite varied including not only the popular scout program but maintenance of the club room, a reading room, a highly organized band as well as a junior band and drum corps, baseball and basketball teams, war gardens, selling of government bonds and war saving stamps.

The Boy Scout Concert Band of this period became in great demand playing throughout eastern Ohio as far as Washington, D.C. and New York City. Income from this source took care of practically all local scout activities to the extent that finance drives were seldom necessary.

Good Year Seen For Boy Scouting in Newcomerstown

Scouting in the Newcomerstown area has long been of importance to the Rotary Club as well as other civic organizations--churches, clubs and individuals, who for many years have sponsored scouting.

Our community is blessed with opportunities for the scouts to hike, fish and become acquainted with wild life and flowers as well as with many interesting rock formations.

This year will be a great year for our scouts and holds for them a program of hiking, camping and various other activities. We hope to have the scouts take a greater part in civic affairs under the able leadership of Mrs. W. S. Palmer and Mr. Frank Evans, scout masters, over our two troops sponsored by the Trinity Methodist church and College Street Methodist church.

In August of this year a scout encampment sponsored by the American Legion will be held in New Philadelphia. The money for the camping will be derived from the sale, at public auction of antiques-- used furniture and other various household goods which have been collected by the scouts of our community as well as throughout the entire county. These goods will be sold at auction at New Philadelphia fair grounds, April 28.

Our Rotary Club as a group and many of the members individually have spent much time working with scouting and we believe that the lessons learned in scouting, will in the future as in the past help to make better citizens for our children. We believe that patriotism and respect for the rights of others, and a civic pride may be carried on by our scouts.

In order for scouting to be a success we must all put our shoulders to the wheel and push. One organization alone cannot do this but all of the organizations of our community can make scouting really go over the top.

We, the Rotary club, pledge our support to the Newcomerstown scouts and--are back of the boys 100 percent.

BOY SCOUT BAND.

The first appearance of the Boy Scout Band in public concert was a gratifying surprise to the large crowd which greeted this youthful organization in open air last Friday evening. The program throughout was exceptionally good, and each number received a hearty round of applause. A specially interesting feature of the entertainment was the cornet solo by Wayne Ley and the clarinet solo by Rachael Erwin. The success of the band is largely due to the untiring efforts and capable leadership of Mr. Chas. Leiser, who has spent several years in preparing the boys for concert work. First came the drum corps and from it has sprung a regularly organized band with full equipment of musical instruments. It is understood that the boys are receiving propositions for playing engagements at fairs, picnics and other public celebrations, and that a limited number of contracts will be entered during the summer. That the people of Newcomerstown are proud of the Boy Scout Band was clearly evidenced last Friday by their generous voluntary contribution. Previously a few dollars had been subscribed by business men to meet the expenses of the concert, but during the rendition of the program it was suggested that someone pass the hat. Everybody seemed anxious to contribute, with the result that altogether a nice little sum of about $25.00 went into the Boy Scout's treasury. The band is composed of 20 members, ranging in age from 12 to 16 years.

Samuel Johnson once said that it was unfortunate how much of real history has been lost. "Rulers ruled, kings reign," he said. "But their passions, their motives, all are lost to conjecture. We know the facts, but little of the reasons."

It was Voltaire who commented, "The makers of history are always too busy to write it."

This is why the complete history of any nation, any region, any county can never be fully recorded. Men try, and it is a commendable effort, but it shall always be incomplete. The "when" of historical events is always much easier to answer than the "why."

A very good example of this is in the recording of the history of the Boy Scouts of America's introduction to and movement in Tuscarawas County.

Every former Boy Scout knows that it was British (Boer) War hero Lt. Gen. Robert Baden-Powell who founded the Boy Scout movement in England in 1907. In 1910 the first Boy Scout troop was organized in the United States, and Baden-Powell resigned from the British Army to make the Boy Scouts an international movement.

These facts were drilled into the mind of every "Tenderfoot" who ever won his first merit badge. It was really a pretty wonderful story.

But an equally fascinating story would be the complete history of the accompanying photograph. It is a picture of a Newcomers-town Boy Scout troop and which is now in the collection of the Boy Scout Museum in Newcomerstown says dates from 1914.

The Tuscarawas County Historical Society picture selection committee was so fascinated the photo's uniqueness that it was selected to accompany the month of May in the 1995 Historical Society calendar. Scott says she has received identification of seven of the 14 boys, and hopes she can someday identify the other seven.

To aid in this project, Earl Olmstead, Society president and archivist for the Tuscarawas Campus of Kent State University, has numbered each boy so identification can be telephoned in by number.

But even total identification of the photograph will not tell the entire story, of course.

"The Boy Scout organization was founded in England in 1907," Olmstead said. "Only seven years later, a Boy Scout band was playing in Tuscarawas County. There is a story there if it could be uncovered."

The Historical Society does not know the name of the first scout master in Tuscarawas County.

Who had the wisdom and the foresight to welcome the Boy Scout movement to the county?

Scott, president of the Newcomerstown Historical Society, gives another reason why complete history will never be written, and at the same time gives a hint to every American family.

"You know we have boxes of pictures with no names or no dates," she said. "The picture is due entirely to the memory of the late Wilma Wolfe, 84, who died last month. We depended upon her for so much.

"The older people are leaving us, and with no identification on old family pictures or historical pictures such as the Newcomerstown Boy Scouts, we do not know exactly where to go for information"

Scott is, of course, correct. Too few talk to grandparents about family history and possibly fewer still label family pictures completely. A photograph of "Great Uncle Bob" may be in an old album, but no one is quite sure, and one day Bob and his contribution will be lost forever.

Scott said that Charles Lieser (upper right in photo) was band director, but he was not the scout master. Lieser was a musician and music store owner in town. Fred Zimmer (lower left, first row) grew up to be organizer and first president of the Tuscarawas County Planning Commission, a long term member of the county chamber of commerce and an executive with the Ohio Power Co.

Scouting is still alive and well in Newcomerstown and the county. Don Norman and Wilmer E. Cochran Sr. and Jr. (now of Zanesville) contributed much to the Newcomerstown tradition.

"Bill" Cochran Sr. left Newcomerstown before the Great Depression to live with the Sioux Indian nation. He became a recognized "blood brother" and came back to Newcomerstown following World War II to teach Indian lore to area Boy Scouts and at area high schools.

Entertainment, according to Webster, comes from the ability to entertain. The ability to entertain is basically the ability to hold one's attention, whether it be an individual or an audience.

One can entertain in a private home through conversation, playing a piano, or, perhaps, doing card tricks.

Or one can be entertained by watching television, listening to the radio, going to a motion picture, a sports event, or playing with a computer.

It is said that for a human being, entertainment is a necessity if nothing more than "to take your mind off the daily grind."

But the question many of us ask today is, "What did we ever do without television?" — or motion pictures, radios, or computers for that matter. Maybe we crocheted, did a cross-word puzzle at home or played bridge. But what was our entertainment outside the home? Where did we go? What did we see?

Music is one of the most ancient forms of entertainment. The first vestiges of rhythm go back to ancient times. The Lyre was known in ancient Egypt and other instruments were mentioned in The Bible.

The man or men who first brought together those who liked to clap discs and

It may have taken 300 to 400 years, but what one historian called the "instinctive affection" for rhythm and form grew until composers devised the system of "notations," the writing of musical notes that demanded development of additional instruments.

Today an orchestra has wind, percussion, and string instruments, and a band usually — but not necessarily — has only wind and percussion.

But correct definition is of little matter to those who enjoy listening to the interesting composition of tones and sounds.

Fred Waring, popular band leader some 50 years ago always maintained that "Old songs are the best songs simply because they are old songs" — proving their excellence. He felt if songs were forgotten and did not "grow old," they were not good in the first place.

But for the most part, musical styles and forms follow trends and tastes of the populace. In the early part of the 20th Century, patriotism in the United States was high. It was an era of expansion and only some 20 years separated the Spanish-American War and World War I. The music of the time reflected the time.

It was the era of "the town band" with their military-type uniforms, marching and playing in every parade, or sitting and playing on a band stand in the town square at every community event. Of course, it was also the era of John

Not all appearances of the town band were in uniform. There were plays, musicals, and band shows held in community halls. On occasion there were competitions, and "guest appearances" as one community band was invited to participate in a parade of a neighboring community.

But at all times there was community pride. "Our band is better (or larger) than your band." And wherever it was heard, no matter what the circumstance, there was local and national pride due to the exhilarating music.

Unfortunately, the Historical Society has no individual identification. However, the photograph's value is not so much as a picture of a group of individuals, but as an example of a piece of Americana.

When the band marched by to applause and appreciation, in all Tuscarawas County communities, it didn't take long for the spectator to realize that the individual had subordinated himself for the good of the whole. There was a love of music, a love of community and na-

BOY SCOUT BAND TO GIVE CONCERT HERE TO-NIGHT

Arrangements are being made for a series of weekly open-air concerts on our streets by the Boy Scout Band of Newcomerstown. Encampment at Marion recently. They have also been engaged for part of the week at the State Fair.

The first concert will be tonight. A number of our business men and citizens have contributed toward the fund necessary to maintain these concerts, and others will have to do so also, if these concerts are to be continued.

One of tonight's features is a concert solo by a boy 12 years old, who has only been playing a horn a few months.

Newcomerstown Laddies Meet With Ovation at Big Grand Army Gathering at Marion. Assigned Prominent Positions In Immense Parades

Aside from the grizzled old soldiers themselves, no feature of the great department encampment of the Ohio veterans of the Civil War at Marion last week attracted more attention than the Boy-Scout Band of Newcomerstown. It was the golden jubilee of the Grand Army of the Republic, and neither time nor expense in the preparation therefor had been omitted by city of Marion to make it a splendid memory. The weather was perfect, the crowd came from everywhere, and by the thousands. Beautiful decorawere afterwards accorded an informal reception by the State officials.

At Marion the lads were accorded a reception by the Elks of the city, and upon the conclusion of the concert and refreshments that followed, they were formally invited to head the Elks in the great Civic parade given on Tuesday evening. This they did, receiving the plaudits of the 30,000 people who crowded the line of march.

On Wednesday they gave two concerts at High School Park, thousands availing themselves of the opportunity to trade of the white-haired veterans of the great Civil War, hundreds of whom will probably never march again in a department parade.

It was all a scene of thrilling memory, long to be remembered by old soldier and civilian alike. And through it all the boy-scouts of this village were conspicuous no less for their manly bearing than for their fine music.

Newcomerstown Boy Scout Band

Under the direction of Charles E. Lieser, the Newcomerstown Boy Scout band arrived today and will furnish music during the four days of the encampment. The Scouts will make an encampment on high school grounds. The band is composed of twenty-five pieces and is considered one of the finest musical organizations of its kind in the country. tions met the eye from end to end of the city, and Marion County and city gave themselves over to the care of the veterans and friends who crowded their gates.

Newcomerstown's contribution—her splendid boy-scout organization—arrived at Marion, Monday afternoon and were met at the Pennsylvania depot by a big delegation, headed by Col. Christian, president of the general committee and the boy scouts of Marion. Forming line, the march was taken to High School park, the crowd shouting applause at the spirited, patriotic music of the Scouts.

Previous to their reaching Marion, a delegation of Columbus boy scouts had met the Newcomerstown boys at the Capitol City, and all marching up High street had serenaded the Dispatch, and the Ohio State Journal offices. Thence upon invitation, had marched to the head quarters of the State Board of Agriculture where they delighted the State officials with stirring airs, and greet the lads in kaki, and hear their fine music. The rest of the day was given over to visiting the show places of Marion as the guests of the city. These included an excursion to "Eto-wah," President King's wonderful show place; the great steam-shovel works; the Sawyer Sanitorium etc.

Thursday morning brought a repetition of concert and reception of which the crowds seemed hardly to get enough. At noon began the final preparation for the golden-jubilee parade of the old veterans. Band after band participated in this great line, the two positions of special honor being assigned to the city band of Marion and to the Newcomerstown Boy Scouts. It would be idle to attempt a description of this parade, the greatest Marion County had ever witnessed. Two hours were required in passing a given point, the veterans marching four deep, and stepping quickly to the martial strains that filled the air. Fifty thousand people at a conservative estimate witnessed the pa-

SCOUT BAND MAY GO TO YELLOWSTONE P'K

The local Boy Scout Band has been invited to go with an excursion to Yellowstone Park which leaves Columbus June 25th and returns about July 10th. The band is considering the matter very favorably inasmuch as they have toured east to Washington, D. C. and New York City a few years ago and now would like to tour the western states.

All scouts who took part in the local rally are invited to go to the County Field Day at Dover fair grounds on next Saturday, May 14th. The younger scout band and a number of the other scouts will leave Friday evening and camp over night at the fair grounds.

The band will practice this Wednesday evening 6:30 to 7:30, and all scouts expecting to make the trip will meet at ball grounds Thursday evening after school. The local council will pay part of the boy's expenses on this trip.

EMERGENCY CIRCULAR #30

THIRD LIBERTY LOAN BOY SCOUT CAMPAIGN

Dear Co-Worker:-

THE WAR SITUATION IS SERIOUS

The war situation today is such as to challenge 100% vigorous effort on the part of 100% of our membership of men and boys. Our known casualty list overseas has already reached nearly 2,000. The number of men overseas is rapidly nearing the 1,000,000 mark. The financial demands upon our country are increasing by millions a day. The Third Liberty Loan will probably be for an amount much greater than the combined two previous loans.

PRESIDENT WILSON AND SECRETARY McADOO CALL FOR SERVICE

President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo have made very specific appeals as shown in the enclosed copies of their letters, for the participation of the entire membership of the Boy Scouts of America in a house to house campaign, as "Gleaners after the Reapers." All scout officials should insure their scouts giving exactly this character of service; nothing more and nothing less.

WHAT WILL YOU DO?

In the last Liberty Loan Campaign 52% of our troops presented definite reports and claims for War Service Emblems. What a wonderful achievement it would be if 100% reported actual participation in the Third Liberty Loan!!! If we do this, there is little reason to doubt that the results attributable to Boy Scouts will show the same relative increase.

We must each of us work up to full capacity, and everyone alike must loyally do the part assigned to him in order that the results may be a definite contribution to our Government and materially help win the war. PLEASE READ CAREFULLY THE ENCLOSED MEMORANDUM OF VITAL INSTRUCTIONS REGARDING OUR PLAN OF CAMPAIGN AND PREPARE TO TAKE PART AS OUTLINED. The Treasury Department will send during the coming week to all scoutmasters 400 application blanks, 30 manuals, 10 franked daily post-card reports and 2 additional final report forms.

Yours in service to our country through organized boyhood,

James E. West

Chief Scout Executive.

January, 15. 1919.

Mr. Joseph Loader,
Scoutmaster, Troop # 2,
Goodrich St,
Newcomerstown, Ohio,

DEAR FELLOW WORKER:

FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN.

According to our records the subjoined list shows the Scouts of your troop who qualified under Plan No. 1 for awards in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.

Should you discover any error in this list, kindly notify headquarters at once.

Undoubtedly the Treasury Department will arrange as in previous loans to have presentations made on the eve of the fifth, which we all hope and believe will be the Victory Loan. Meanwhile, kindly ask your scouts to be patient.

PICTURES TAKEN ON CAPITOL STEPS

The Newcomerstown Boy Scouts Band, together with the remaining 1,000 members of the Ohio Corn Boys' Special had their pictures taken on the steps of the capitol at Washington last Thursday. Permission for taking of the picture was secured by Senator Pomerene.

After visiting the Capitol and seeing congress in session, the party departed for New York.

Wednesday the party visited Mount Vernon and historic Alexandria and the Congressional library.

The band boys and others who embarked from this point arrived home last Saturday night, a tired but happy crowd, enthusiastic over the wonders of the expedition.

SCOUTS RETURN FROM WASHINGTON

The Boy Scouts of Newcomerstown, under the leadership of Scoutmaster C. Lieser, have returned from their trip to Washington city and New York including a journey up the Hudson, and down the Potomac to the tomb of Washington. It was the journey of their lives and will never fade from their memories. They will never forget the warm grasp of the hand of the great President, as he greeted them in name of the United States. The Index has engaged one of these bright youngsters to write an account of the big sights they witnessed on this memorable trip. It will appear in these columns next week.

MANY VISIT NEWCOMERS W. Va. Indicator AUTO SHOW

A number of our citizens attended the automobile show and mid-winter carnival at Newcomerstown last Saturday night. The proceeds of this affair were for the purchasing of new uniforms for the Newcomerstown band. The attendance was exceptionally good, and the entertainment of the best. No one is more deserving of appreciation than the Boy Scouts, for they are CERTAINLY MORE THAN GENEROUS WITH THEIR OPEN AIR CONCERTS during the summer months, and they certainly can play to please the people.

Messrs. Geo. McGregor, Harry McGregor, Ed. Davis, Sam Bell, Jas. Ross, Linard Shepherd, J. U. Wiggins and I. R. Farmer attended the show.

NEWCOMERSTOWN HIGH SCHOOL BOY WRITES OF OHIO CORN BOYS' TOUR

BY WAYNE LEY

THE Sixth Ohio Corn Tour was taken by over twelve hundred prize winners and their friends. The trip was one of the most educational that could be taken and was a success from every standpoint. No accidents of any kind marred the trip and though the party was large it was handled with very little trouble. Five trains, from different points over the state joined at Pittsburgh, where they were made into 2 trains of fourteen cars each, ready for the trip East. While there we were the guests of the Pittsburgh Commercial Club at a luncheon and entertainment and at midnight we entrained for Washington.

We arrived in the Capital City at 10 o'clock the next morning and were immediately taken to our hotels, part going to the Metropolitan, and the rest going to the National, where we were to stay during our visit. Dinner over, we marched down Pennsylvania avenue, that historic thoroughfare down which the Grand Army of the Republic filed after the Civil War in the grand review. This took us to the White House where we were greeted by President Wilson. Our delegation was the first he had reviewed since war was declared on Germany in April. The home of the President is the oldest public building there, but still one of the prettiest and best kept. The Grounds are well taken care of and trees, shrubs and flower beds, are in evidence everywhere. Before the south front of the residence is a very pretty lake which reflects the columns and cornice.

Leaving the White House we faced the State, War and Navy Building, having 500 rooms and two miles of marble halls. From here we marched down 17th Street to the Corcoran Art Gallery, founded and endowed in 1869 by William Corcoran. It is a beautiful piece of architecture, being of Georgia white marble and its collections of paintings and sculpture give it a place among the most important art institutions of our country.

From here we travel to the Pan American Union Building, passing the Red Cross Building and the D. A. R. Hall, both beautiful structures. The Pan American Building dollars, contributed by Carnegie and the 21 nations that form the republics of North and South America. In it are the exhibits of all these and the purpose of the union is to promote friendship among all these countries.

We ate supper at 7 o'clock and then went to the First Presbyterian church on 4½ street, where we were addressed by Herbert Hoover, national food administrator; Newton Baker, secretary of war; and our two senators, Warren G. Harding and Atlee Pomerene. Dean Vivian of O. S. U. presided.

Wednesday morning we visited the Washington monument, the highest work of masonry in the world, rising 555 feet in the air. It is 55 feet square at the bottom, tapering to 34 feet at the top and is tipped with a cap of pure aluminum which always remains bright. The monument is of pure white marble from Maryland and from whatever point it is beheld is an impressive spectacle. An elevator and stairs go to the top of the shaft.

From the monument we went to the Department of Agriculture Building, where we were addressed by Secy. of Agriculture Houston and Assistant Secretary Vrooman and then were taken to the Smithsonian Institute, Old National Museum and the New National Museum, all containing collections of scientific and historic interest. Among these are uniforms worn by Washington and many of the other presidents. Actual costumes, worn by the ladies of the White House were a source of interest. All these buildings are maintained by appropriations from congress.

After dinner we boarded the trolley for Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington. We skirted the Potomac River and noticed the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, also the War College. After going through Alexandria we soon came to Mount Vernon, one of the most interesting places on our whole trip. The mansion overlooks the Potomac and is as beautiful a place as one could wish. It is in the possession of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union. Whatever change in minor details the years may have brought, one feels that in its larger aspects the scene is today as it was in Washington's time. The rooms are furnished just as Washington left them and everything is well taken care of. The tomb of Washington and members of his family is not far from the house.

Coming back we ate supper at the hotel and then visited the Congressional Library. Viewing this beautiful structure from the Capitol, the outstanding features are the central entrance pavilion, with its Corinthian columns, the gold dome and the Torch of Science. The exterior is everywhere suggestive of the purpose of the Library Building and prepares one for the splendor within—the polished marble and pictured walls of vestibule and pavilion, and the great rotunda reading room.

After our visit here the local Boy Scouts, the official band of the party, were entertained on the Capitol steps by the Boy Scouts of Washington. Here we were addressed by Mr. Livingston, president of the Boy Scouts of America.

Thursday morning we were taken to the Capitol where we had our pictures taken on the Capitol steps. We were then escorted through the Capitol Building and at noon heard the House of Representatives in session. After this we toured the city and saw many places of historic interest.

After dinner at the hotel we took the trolley to Arlington and Ft. Meyers, passing the Arlington wireless station on the way. Here at Arlington is the Curtis-Lee mansion, one of the historic houses of America. It was built in 1802 by Washington's adopted son, Parke Curtis and then descended to the children of Mary Curtis Lee, wife of Col. R. E. Lee, finally coming into the possession of the United States. Today it is surrounded by the sleeping hosts of the Arlington National cemetery, members of both Union and Rebel armies. At Ft. Meyers, a short distance from here we were entertained with a drill given by cavalry officers, in training for service abroad.

After returning to the city and lunching we attended Keith's theatre where President Wilson and wife

The whole party en-

igned the acts and at 12 o'clock we boarded the train for New York. Friday morning we ate breakfast at the Waldorf Astoria and then took the elevated to the National Museum where we saw many collections of interest to everyone. Here is located the seismograph, an instrument that records earthquakes and locates them, wherever they may be.

After our visit here we took the subway to the Flat street pier where we boarded a boat and steamed around New York harbor, down East river and up the Hudson. We passed the Statue of Liberty, saw some cruisers of the United States Navy and many interned German boats that are being pressed into United States service. We ate dinner on board boat and about 8 o'clock we returned to the Astor Hotel where we were tendered a banquet by the Chamber of Commerce of New York City. President Thompson of Ohio State and others addressed us.

At 8:15 we marched to the Hippodrome theater, the largest in the world, seating 5,697 people and employing 1000 people at each performance. Here we witnessed the musical comedy "Cheer Up" after which we boarded our Pullmans for home.

WHEELING BOY SCOUTS OPEN LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE TODAY

AVE ATTACKED CITY IN FULL FORCE THIS MORNING AND WOE UNTO RESISTERS.

Parade This Evening Will Mark
Official Opening Although Boys Are Now Selling.

PROCLAMATION!

The city of Wheeling will be attacked at sunrise, on Saturday April 27, by the Boy Scouts of America.

All citizens are requested not to resist and to obey the commands of the scouts to the extent of their ability.

By doing so we will avoid great loss of life and property.
C. M. VESTER, Mayor.

Wheeling has been attacked not by Kaiser or his men, but by the Boy Scouts of this city and vicinity, several hundred strong, in their final spring drive for the third Liberty drive. Many of the boys who have been eagerly awaiting the starting moment, when they will rush forth before going "over the top," and interest is at white heat.

Hundreds of Scouts are selling bonds today in an endeavor to reach their already $200,000 goal, and it is expected they will be far over-reached, as they are expecting to meet with a great response.

The campaign, although now in progress and boys selling, will be formally opened this evening by the staging of the big parade. The boys will assemble at their assigned places at 6:30 o'clock and the line will begin moving at 7 o'clock promptly.

Scout Executive Mr. Portz, who has made all arrangements for the day, has requested that all scoutmasters and scouts who have offered to entertain visiting scouts for the two days, report at high office at 5:30 this evening for final instructions.

The parade will form on Chapline street, opposite the B. & O. passenger depot. The parade will move to Sixteenth street, to Market and then up to Tenth. From Tenth the line will proceed to Main and then south on Main to Twenty-second, where they will swing over to Market and up Market. Upon reaching Sixteenth and Market the parade will go to Chapline and up to Eleventh, where it will disband.

The parade will be headed by the Boy Scout band of Newcomerstown, O., which arrives at Bridgeport at 5:25 this evening. Following the band will be the scout executive council and then the scouts themselves in the troop order.

To-morrow afternoon, in the Market Auditorium, the scouts will stage a big patriotic rally and the public is invited.
Ex-Senator W. E. Chilton will be the principal speaker, and there will be several others. As yet it is not known whether Secretary of the Treasury W. G.
McAdoo will be present, but all are hoping against hope he will be here. H.
Ogden will act as chairman.

SCOUTS SOLD $40,000 WORTH OF LIBERTY BONDS SATU.

LITTLE SOLDIERS MADE GOOD IN FIRST DAY OF THEIR THIRD BOND DRIVE.

MANY HAVE ALREADY WON SER-VICE MEDALS BUT THEY WILL KEEP GOING.

PARADE OF LAST NIGHT WITH NEWCOMERSTOWN BAND PROV-ED VERY CREDITABLE.

The Boy Scout drive yesterday in the Wheeling section showed what the "little lads in khaki" can do when they start to work. Scout Executive H. O. Portz last night made an approximate estimate of $40,000 turned in through the efforts of the lads. The different troops turned in from $1,000 to $2,500 each, and the boys surely were enthusiastic over the work, going after everybody they met for a subscription. Many of the scouts have already sold ten bonds winning service medals.

The parade last night in which about six hundred of the scouts turned out was a great success. Placards were carried by the lads with different inscriptions on them for the Third Loan and against "Butcher Bill." The troops were headed by Executive Portz, followed by different officials and sponsors of the movement. The Newcomerstown, O., Boy Scout band made a good showing and lived up to the step of the scouts, putting pep into the affair. They also sported a coffin intended for Kaiser, with the top nailed down

Liberty Loan bonds.

The line of march for the parade was as follows: After forming at Sixteenth street the parade marched north to Market up Marke street, from Tenth to thence to Twenty-second Twenty-second street was to Market street after which the parade returned to Sixteenth and there up Chapline to Eleventh, where the boys disband.

Continue to End of Campaign

The Scouts will continue to sell until the end of the campaign.
The first day, with a success of the fourth, and with a success of the registered yesterday they bring in a neat sum before the week. To each scout that in ten or more bonds before the campaign closes from independent they will receive a war-service medal. Scouts who were the recipients of these emblems in either the first or second drives, will receive additional bars to be suspended from the emblem.

The Newcomerstown Boy Scout band boys were taken care of by the various members of the local scout organization, the musicians being taken home for the night. They were entertained with great enthusiasm by the troops from this section.

BOY SCOUTS TOON LIBERTY DRIVE BY STORM IN WHEELING

LITTLE SOLDIERS TAKE POSSESSION OF CITY IN CLEAN-UP LIBERTY BOND PUSH.

MAYOR VESTER ORDERS CITIZENS TO SURRENDER TO ARMY OF LITTLE SOLDIERS.

BIG PARADE TONIGHT WITH SCOUT BAND AT HEAD OF MILITARY PROCESSION.

Wheeling is in a state of siege today, by official proclamation of Mayor C. M. Vester, who has ordered that all citizens submit to the commands and requests of the Boy Scouts, who are now making house to house canvass for the Third Liberty loan. The campaign opened this morning and will continue until May 4, the date marking the close of the loan drive throughout the country. Tonight a big parade will be conducted by the scouts. Scout Executive be decorated with medals in recognition of the service they rendered during the second Liberty loan campaign.

All Over America.

The Liberty loan reserves of the nation, represented by the entire membership of the Boy Scouts of America, including 397,208 uniformed and disciplined Boy Scouts and Scout officials, went into action today in a "clean up" house-to-house canvass for the concluding days of the general campaign, which will end May 4. It is intended to make sure that no one is overlooked and also to give subscribers an opportunity to take just a few more bonds. The Boy Scouts as a distinctive service to their country will serve as "gleaners after the reapers."

Approved by President and Secretary.

President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo have written letters to the Boy Scouts in support of the campaign. Spe-

Portz, of this city, announced this morning that the parade was to start promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Each scout is to present himself at the intersection of Chapline street and the Baltimore & Ohio yards at 7 o'clock sharp, in order that the parade might be started on time.

The line of march for the boys is as follows: After forming at Chapline street the parade will move down Sixteenth to Market, up Market to Tenth street, from Tenth to Main and from thence to Twenty-second street. Twenty-second street will be traversed to Market street after which the parade will return to Sixteenth and from there up Chapline to Eleventh, at which place the boys will disband.

The parade will be headed by a band composed of Boy Scouts from Newcomerstown. Chief Scoutmaster Porty stated this morning that a special request has been extended to the committee of scouts that has been selected to care for the visitors, requesting each of them to be present at the scout headquarters at not later than 5:30 o'clock this evening.

Big Sunday Rally.

An interesting rally has been prepared in connection with the Liberty loan campaign for tomorrow afternoon. This event will take place in the Wheeling Commercial association auditorium and will be featured by a number of rousing addresses. Senator W. E. Chilton, of Charleston, and Bishop Franklin Hamilton, of Pittsburgh will be the two principal speakers of the occasion. H. C. Ogden will act as chairman. Mrs. Elsie Gundling-Duga will sing and Miss Jessie Alma Wolfe will render a number of piano selections, while the Newcomerstown band of Scouts will also play. Following the addresses of the evening 36 scouts will cial Boy Scout application blanks have been prepared and 1,000,000 Boy Scout posters by Leyendecker have been distributed.

To each Scout or Scout official who secures Liberty loan subscriptions from 10 or more independent buyers during the days set for the intensive campaign of the Boy Scouts there will be awarded a war-service emblem. Scouts who won emblems in either or both of the previous campaigns will receive an additional bar to be suspended from the original medal.

President to Award Flags.

President Wilson will award a United States flag to one troop of Boy Scouts in each state securing the largest number of individual applications for bonds, per registered scouts, during the scout campaign, in accordance with regulations which have been promulgated. In the event that a troop which won the president's flag in the Second Liberty loan campaign should again make the highest record in the present Liberty loan campaign, a Boy Scout medallion will be awarded. President Colin H. Livingstone of the Boy Scouts has also arranged to present a gold medal, a silver medal, and 10 bronze medals to scouts securing the largest number of individual subscriptions, regardless of place of residence, during the special scout campaign.

Good Work in Previous Issues.

In the first Liberty loan campaign the Boy Scouts secured 139,645 subscriptions, amounting to $23,238,250. Emblems were awarded to 8,499 scouts. In the second Liberty loan campaign 533,820 subscriptions were secured, amounting to $102,084,100. One out of every 18 subscriptions was secured by a Boy Scout. Twenty-six thousand and eighty-five scouts earned emblems. In the Third Liberty loan campaign the scouts will make an effort to exceed their best

Boy Scouts Nail up The Kaiser In A Coffin With Liberty Bonds

Parade Attracted Large Crowds Along Streets Last Night.

The parade of the Boy Scouts of America last evening at 7:30 o'clock opened the drive for $200,000 subscriptions for Liberty bonds. The parade formed on Chapline street, opposite the B. & O. depot and moved to Sixteenth street, where it went to Market street and traversed that street until reaching Tenth, over Tenth to Main, on Main to Twenty-second, back to Market and to the place of formation, where it disbanded.

Fully 500 Scouts, headed by H. O. Portz, scout executive, and the executive council followed the Boy Scout band of Newcomerstown, O., and numerous banners were carried by the Scouts with inscriptions against the Hun of Berlin.

In the foremost part of the parade was a coffin carried by eight Scouts with many Liberty Bond pledges nailed to it. An inscription followed this coffin, which read "Nail the Kaiser with Liberty Bonds."

The parade was witnessed by thousands of Wheeling people and afterwards disbanding at the assembly room of the Wheeling Commercial association.

All members of the band were requested to be on hand today at 2:15 o'clock to take part in the big rally to be held at the Market auditorium this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

made no announcement, but their headquarters were scenes of great activity, which indicates no doubt that the troops met with some successes."

An army of Boy Scouts, numbering close to 800, yesterday inaugurated their campaign for subscriptions to the Third Liberty Loan issue. Their drive was not centered on any particular part of Wheeling, but the Scouts worked in every section and last night leaders of the movement announced that the first day's efforts were encouraging.

The Scouts will have charge of the campaign until the close of the present week, when it is hoped that the minimum goal of $200,000 will be greatly exceeded, thereby aiding materially in boosting bond sales to the maximum for Ohio county—$5,000,000.

Must Have $100,000 Daily.

Announcement was made in Liberty Loan headquarters that the total subscriptions to date was $4,350,550, and that during the present week, the final week of the campaign, these daily totals must average more than $100,000. There were many encouraging reports during the day, namely, Fulton is entitled to three gold stars in its honor flag, and indications are favorable for a fourth. Warwood went "over the top" with a hurrah, and Elm Grove workers earned for that town the right to fly an honor flag when they exceeded their maximum quota. Ohio county in going over the top has kept Liberty Loan officials in Cleveland busy sending messages of congratulations.

Subscriptions entered last night were encouraging. The Equitable Life Insurance company reported a $5,000 subscription. The ladies' city committee reported $59,000 additional. St. Luke's church $600 and St. Matthew's $5,000. Elm Grove entered a report showing subscriptions for the day amounting to $14,300.

While there were no official reports to loan headquarters, yesterday proved a success in bond subscriptions on the streets. Nearly every large mill in the district had a pay day and everywhere that a worker turned a Liberty bond salesman was at his elbow. During the evening the Newcomerstown Boy Scouts' band paraded the streets, while members of the Flying Squadron accompanied by many Red Cross ladies preached and sold Liberty bonds.

Wheeling has fallen to an army of highly trained "shock" troops of Boy Scouts, the official statement from Liberty Loan headquarters issued last night reports.

The text of the statement reads:

"Wheeling has fallen to an army of highly trained shock troops of Boy Scouts. The invaders attacked early Saturday morning and met with little resistance from our forces. They are in complete possession of the town. Their leaders promise that they will not devastate nor plunder the town, but that any citizens who have not purchased bonds of the third issue will be ferreted out and must 'shell out.'

"We appeal to all to give them your earnest co-operation and subscriptions, or a greater menace, an army of Prussians, who stop at nothing, may invade our sacred domain.

ROUSING PATRIOTIC MEETING BY BOY SCOUTS YESTERDAY

SPEAKERS TERRILL CROWD WITH FINAL PLEA TO HELP SCOUTS IN LOAN DRIVE.

Newcomerstown, Ohio, Scout Band Makes Big Hit—Loan Is Going Over the Top.

Wheeling Boy Scouts did themselves credit at the mammoth patriotic mass meeting in the big market auditorium yesterday afternoon. Fully five hundred were present and showed their loyalty and patriotism and not only were the scouts in evidence but the citizens were present in large numbers.

Hon. H. C. Ogden presided as chairman and the principal speaker was ex-Senator W. E. Chilton. Bishop Franklin Hamilton of Pittsburgh, bishop of the Pittsburgh district, Methodist Episcopal churches, offered the invocation and Rev. Arthur Lazenby pronounced the benediction. Mrs. Elsa Gundling-Duga, accompanied by Miss Bertha Schrader, sang several beautiful solos.

Every road leading to the city yesterday was filled by troops of scouts marching to the auditorium, and it looked as if a great army of little soldiers was being mobilized. As they came to the principal streets several troops consolidated at a time and before the meeting was called to order practically every seat had been filled.

One of the features of the big meeting yesterday was the awarding of war service medals to scouts who made good in the other drives and reached their quota of ten bonds sold. There were thirty-six awarded this honor, which was done by Senator Chilton.

The program was opened with a patriotic selection by the Newcomerstown Scout band, which made a big hit at the parade Saturday night. This was followed by the invocation and then Mr. Ogden gave a brief introductory talk. He reviewed the war to the present moment and made a plea for all to help the scouts.

Following Mr. Ogden, Mrs. Gundling-Duga sang several selections, which was followed by Mr. Ogden introducing Kenneth Hutchison, a Wheeling Scout, formerly of Martins Ferry, who sold more bonds the last time than any other scout Senator Chilton's Talk.

Mr. Ogden next introduced Mr. Chilton. Addressing the Boy Scouts, Senator Chilton said: The "Boy Scouts of America" is an organization which is a manifestation of the spirit of the United States. The organization is possible because of this spirit, which is a spirit of courage and sacrifice. Every member is enthused with the idea of doing and daring for his country and his neighbors well. The organization did not create this spirit, the spirit made the organization. It was necessary to have, first, the manly qualities born in the boy; then that boy could not restrain the impulse to combine his humane and patriotic mental powers and his husky physical powers, with the same qualities in others. Your desire and ability to serve your fellow man and to defend American institutions took concrete form when this organization was made. Such an organization, dedicated as it is to the highest purpose, outside of the story of Calvary, that can illuminate the soul or steel the sinews, you have made and perfected, and are now using, for genuine service to your fellowman and for practical defense of your country.

I doubt if there is another country on earth whose history, traditions and institutions so fit into the physical and mental makeup of the people, so as to permit such an organization to serve the purpose which it does here. Your high mission is not bounded by your written precepts, because language can not describe the aspirations of the heart, nor pen portray the details of brotherly helpfulness. Here our laws and institutions and the mental and physical characteristics of our people are unique in furnishing the material, the need and the field for such an organization.

The speaker then told of the many qualities of the American youth. How they are of the French, Irish, Polish, Italian, Scotch and even German descendants, but American true to the core. He told how we, the American people, have become free and then he touched upon the need of such an organization as the Scouts for the youth of the country.

Mr. Chilton told of the many inventions which this country gave the world and how the other nations have prospered by them. How Napoleon had attempted to conquer the world and now the Kaiser's attempt was vividly told of and he then impressed the boys with the enormosity of their part of the task in helping win.

He told the boys how they should address a man to buy a bond and told how to impress all with the seriousness of the work on hand. "Each buyer becomes a soldier when he buys a bond" he said. "And we should all be in the service at the present moment." He branded all who failed to buy a bond as a slacker and asked who can be a slacker at this time; who can afford to be a slacker? or who wants to be a slacker? The word slacker should be uttered with a hiss to show the disrespect for such a person.

In conclusion Mr. Chilton said: "The word fail describes but the passing of fortunes in one effort. To the Americans it is but the sign post of 'Look-Listen.' It nerves the brave, determines the man to greater effort. This is not the last chance to win a war medal. Both war and peace hereafter

A crowd of citizens, hungry to hear the patriotic remarks at the campaign for Boy Scouts of Ohio county in their efforts to raise $200,000 for the Third Liberty Loan were on hand early yesterday afternoon at the Market street auditorium.

The big hall, including the gallery, was filled when the meeting was called to order. The veterans of the Civil war occupied the seats of honor and behind them came the Rotary club of Wheeling, both having been escorted to the auditorium by the Boy Scout band of Newcomerstown, O. The veterans and Rotarians assembled at the Odd Fellows hall on Twelfth and Chapline streets.

Seated on the platform were the thirty-six scouts that won medals in the last Liberty Loan drive, together with ex-Senator W. E. Chilton, H. C. Ogden Bishop Franklin Hamilton of 545 subscribers with a total of $23,238,000; the second loan, 533,820 subscribers with a total of $102,000,000, and the third drive the boys are expected to bring in not less than $250,000,000 in subscriptions. Their work will be hard but nothing is too hard for a Boy Scout.

Hon. William E. Chilton, former United States Senator from West Virginia, was introduced by the chairman and made the principal address of the afternoon, presenting the 36 Scouts who won medals in the last loan drive with their trophies. The speaker stated that the city of Wheeling was leading the State of West Virginia as in days of old, in patriotism, manufacturing and other walks of life.

His talk drifted into the government of Germany and he stated that 42 men appointed by the Kaiser cast two-thirds of the vote of the country against 16,000 men who cast the remaining third, and stated that an appeal to that kind of a government would be fruitless.

They have forbidden us the use of the seas, said the senator, and England and the United States are now in command of the seas and will continue to be for all time to come. Germany attempted to tell us how to live our lives and "We have chosen" in this affair and it was either fight there or here. The speaker stormed the house when he said:

"Plans were made for the invasion of the United States and the overthrow of our government many years ago. We have a right to live our lives as we see fit, govern as we please and sail the seas and just as long as there is a God in Heaven we will do it.

"The Germans are fighting us with our inventions and we are sure to devise others that will overthrow them and out their wrong-doings in the dust of the earth. But we need help and have called on the Boy Scouts to lend that hand."

Giving the boys a little advice, the senator stated that every man has at the bottom of his heart the love of his country and will subscribe for bonds, and it is up to the little men of the country to get to that point and get his greasy dollars out of his pockets for Uncle Sam.

Senator Chilton at this point raised his voice and exclaimed:

"Yes, in the last year we have come from a nation of peace to an immense army of determined men and women, determined to win this war with force. We have and are sending over the seas 5,000 men daily and have an army of 3,000,000 fighting men at present and most of them in the field. We can and will put twelve million on the front line of defense if necessary, and by the Grace of God these white-haired old veterans will

Wheeling daily apr 28/18

Hillsburg, Scout Executive H. O. Portz, Scout Master W. P. Stewart, Adam Blum, Louis Horkheimer, George House, S. W. Harper and Rev. Allen, of Elm Grove.

The Boy Scout band furnished the music and just before the introduction of the speakers, played the Star-Span-gled Banner with the vast assemblage of people joining in the singing. The grand and glorious flag of the United States was waved from the platform and during this piece of music every scout and civilian stood at attention, the scouts saluting at the end.

Bishop Franklin Hamilton in his invocation paid high tribute to the scouts and while praying for the Heavenly Father to keep His guarding angel near the front line trenches, did not ask for peace, but instead prayed that victory should come and that no peace would be acceptable without victory.

Miss Elsie Gundling-Duga was next introduced and after singing two patriotic songs was so vigorously encored she was compelled to respond again, the last song being the old familiar "Tenting On the Old Camp Ground," the words being altered to suit the spirit of the present day.

Mr. Ogden made a short speech and gave a very good definition of auto-cracy and democracy, using historical events from the early part of the world. He payed high tribute to the Boy Scouts and said that they were given the hardest part of the Liberty Loan work and was sure that they would not fall short. He stated that we were going to the assistance of the French people who had so nobly assisted us in the war with England. The first liberty work of Ohio county was crowned with 6,000 subscribers, the second with 15,000 and the third will be closed with over 20,000.

The first work of the Scouts of America in the Liberty Loan drive was 139,-

"sink their duty it called upon. "We have a republic," continued the speaker, "and France was the first to follow in our steps, first to help us when we needed help and we are helping her without the assistance of anyone and do not want even the spoils of war. All we want is peace and to that end our armies will fight."

"See yourself as you are," proclaimed the speaker. "The Kaiser wants you and the rich man alike. He wants your work and the rich man's money and the rich man realizes that and is putting his gold into the coffers of the government more freely than ever before. The banks, corporations and rich men practically put the First Liberty Loan over, but the Second and Third have been in the hands of the poor man and in him rests the destiny of the world."

At this point the speaker turned his remarks to the work of the scouts, stating that he was a scout, rather old but still a scout, and that boys and men were all alike, only the body of the boys had not grown to the size of their heads and feet. Kenneth Hutchison, of Wheeling, was introduced by the senator as being the eleventh Boy Scout in the United States in the Liberty Loan drive, obtaining 439 bonds with a total of $42,450 working against 275,000 opponents. The first two medals for the first twelve boys in America were gold and silver, the remaining ten were bronze, one of which was handed to Kenneth by the senator.

In concluding, the senator stated that when he returned to Charleston he would carry with him the message that when you want to see men work, women work and Boy Scouts work for the cause of the government, go to Wheeling.

"You are getting your certificates of graduation from the school of Liberty," said the senator to the boys as they took their tokens for their work in the Second Liberty Loan drive.

Scout Master W. P. Stewart made a short talk for the boys and incidentally stated that in the first loan drive, 3 per cent. of the boys in the United States won medals, 10 per cent. of those in Wheeling, in the second drive, 9 per cent. in the United States and 35 per cent. in Wheeling, and in this 100 per cent. of the Wheeling youths would do their best to win medals. A resolution was read to the scouts and adopted by unanimous vote, and is as follows:

"Whereas, President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo have issued a special call for each member of the Boy Scouts of America to sell Liberty Bonds from April 27 to May 4, inclusive, and as every Boy Scout has pledged himself to do his duty to his country and to be loyal.

Resolved, That each scout under the jurisdiction of the Wheeling Council, hereby pledges himself to secure subscriptions for Liberty Bonds, or in case he fails to secure any subscribers that he will solicit not less than ten residents which do not show Liberty Loan flags in their windows and report the results on ten refusal blanks which will be furnished him by his scoutmaster."

The boys were given a chance to work the audience for the sale of bonds, and Sheriff Hastings was instructed to close the doors.

Many troops reported their doings yesterday and were given as ranging from $1.00 to $4,500 a troop.

The Rev. Arthur Lazenby, of the M. E. church of Elm Grove, pronounced the benediction and one of the greatest demonstrations of real patriotism ever held in Wheeling came to a close.

-A Verse for Today

THE HERO SCOUT

Baden Powell relates the following, "On the body of a dead German officer was a letter. 'We captured a prisoner, a young French boy of fifteen years, in a forest in France, wearing a triangle emblem. On being interrogated he refused to disclose any information of his comrades. Shortly on seeing a small number of French soldiers emerge from a distant wood, he still declined, whereon he was placed against a tree and shot. What a pity such heroism should be wasted.'"

O, brave Boy Scout! Somewhere in France
You lie in a nameless grave,
The whole world rings with your noble deed,
For honor, your life you gave.

Calmly you faced the murderous foe,
Nor traitor to comrades could be;
You kept the faith, true to your trust,
Vive la France, and Liberty.

In coming years, sometimes with tears,
In story, in song or romance,
The tale will be told of the hero bold,
The Boy Scout who died for France.

Dedicated to Boy Scouts of America, the Hero
Marion, Ohio, Mrs. J. W. Treeland.

ANSWERED PRAYER

"Old Glory flies again at Wake!"
The papers tell today
As re-possession Yankees take
Who long have been away.

The skies above once more are clean
And safe the seas to rise.
Now, Yankee sailor and marine
The colors raise with pride.

Time was to cruel pagan foes
Our youth was forced to bow,
But down has gone the sun that rose
And all is tranquil now.

"Old Glory flies again at Wake!"
Press headline good to see,
I think the prayer I used to make
Has answered been for me.

OSSIFIED BODIES The Wonder of the Age

Mr. and Mrs. Rameses, the famous mummies, are all that remain of the old Egyptian civilization. Extracted from a hole in the tooth of the Sphinx, they have been transported at enormous cost to this country and are now exhibited for the first time. The opportunity to see these famous relics should not be missed as these two remarkable specimens are now baffling the great minds of the scientific world. Come and take a look at them.

Tuscarawas County Liberty Loan Committee

To Our Friends and Patrons:

The second issue of Liberty Bonds will be offered during the month of October.

They will bear interest at 4% and will be free from all state and local taxes and also free from the normal income tax.

The security is the best in the world—all the wealth of this nation, as well as its faith and credit are pledged to secure them.

Bonds will be issued in denominations of $50 up to $1000, either coupon or registered form.

Coupon bonds are payable to bearer with interest coupons attached which can be cut semi-annually and cashed at any bank.

Registered bonds are payable to the holder and checks for interest are mailed to the holder each six months, from Washington.

Arrangements have been made to have full-paid interim certificates, deliverable at once at any bank so that no delay will occur, as in the former issue.

Payment may be made in full or on the weekly or monthly payment plan.

We will loan you the money to pay for these bonds for three months or less at 4%, the same rate that the bonds bear.

Judging from past history of the value of United States Bonds in the open market, these bonds should command a substantial premium when the war is over, and can be readily sold at any time to any bank.

For all of the above reasons we unhesitatingly recommend these bonds for investment and have ourselves bought large blocks of them.

But there are still better reasons for buying Liberty Bonds.

We are engaged in a great war, a war to determine finally whether a government dedicated to liberty shall long endure.

We are now called upon to settle this question—shall the whole world be governed by the people and for the people? Shall the principles of honor, justice and humanity prevail, or shall the philosophy that "might makes right" rule the world?

Two things are primarily necessary to our government now—men and money.

Our boys are going to the front. They are not only breaking home ties and leaving loved ones behind, but are risking life itself that the glory of our fair name may be preserved.

Let us who stay at home do our part by furnishing the money to equip them with all paraphernalia of modern war, thereby reducing their risk to the minimum.

If the Government should ask us to GIVE all our wealth to assist in the prosecution of this war, it would indeed be a small sacrifice compared to that of the boy who gives up his life that you and I and future generations may enjoy the blessings of peace and happiness. But the Government does not ask us to give the money, it only asks us to loan the money at 4% interest, free of tax, on the best security in the world.

Let us respond to the call, and not only put our surplus funds into Liberty Bonds, but make sacrifices, if necessary, to buy them, and again prove to the world that the American people are behind the Government, not because the security is good, not because the income return is satisfactory, but because every dollar so invested will help to win and thereby shorten the war.

Buy Liberty Bonds for yourself, for your wife and for your family, and urge your neighbor to do the same.

THE SIXTH ANNUAL CORN TOUR TO WASHINGTON AND THE GREAT CITIES OF THE EAST

No effort is being spared to make the Sixth Annual Corn Tour to Washington and New York the largest, most instructive, and comfortable, that is possible.

You have long heard of the wonders to be seen in and about the National Capital and New York, the world's largest city.

The war has added to the importance and interest of both. Take advantage of this grand opportunity to see them in war times; these centers in which important historical events are daily being shaped.

This is one trip you will always remember and never regret. In addition to the educational features, it will be a week's series of pleasant surprises and good times.

Read carefully down the itinerary. Note the points of keen interest that have been considered and selected
