SLANDER

What is slander? Slander is the act of defaming or talking maliciously against some person's reputation or well being.

Slander is common in the everyday life of the students in our school. There always is someone to talk about and they always get talked about too. Of course, everyone has the right to hold his own opinion about any person or anything, but that does not give him the privilege to discuss it freely with other people. If there is something you don't admire in one of your classmates or teachers, keep it to yourself and try and find some good points which they possess.

No one would like to have some person from another school make a discourteous remark about his school so he should refrain from saying anything about it, too. Everyone should boost his school instead of knocking it and slandering the students. When you say something about someone in your school remember you go to that school yourself and when you "run your school down" you are only "running yourself down".

--Dorothy Shaeffer

LET'S CHEER

The Newcomerstown Trojans were defeated four out of eight games. But are we going to give up? No! We are going to cheer and back our team all the more. Of course we would like to win every game but some team has to lose and we must take our turn. If we always won, would it be so exciting? We still have good games ahead and we must spur our team on for better things in the future, instead of getting so downhearted. Our boys will do their best if we will do our best in backing them. We must also talk up our team to other people.

Students of the Newcomerstown High School and Citizens of Newcomerstown, find your way to the next game. Come on, "Let's Cheer" for the Newcomerstown Trojans.

SENIOR NEWS

Rosemary and Grace Lyons spent Wednesday night with the Wilson sisters. They attended a party at Plainfield Grange.

Herman Hudson was in the Five and Ten Cent Store looking for pianos. Can you beat it?

What's this about Herman Hudson being seen with so many different Freshman girls. Oh, well, Herman is just giving the "Greenies" a break. And what a break!

What's the big attraction at Carr's Restaurant? Quite a few Senior girls have been seen loafing there lately.

The Senior's Annual Staff held a meeting last week. They will soon start the sale of annuals, as advertisements are now being sold.

"Who was the fellow from Walhonding who visited Roberta Richardson last Tuesday and Wednesday."

Myron Thompson has returned to school after a recent illness.

Cliffton asked Frank Quillon what they did with the slaves in Oregon and Frank said, "They buried them."

JUNIOR NEWS

Mayfair Stocker was absent from school Monday.

Mr. Cliffton still doesn't understand why Ralph Reed never studies his American Problems!!!

Mary Simoni entertained with a party at her home January 19. A few of the Juniors were invited.

Lavonne Kees spent Tuesday evening at the home of Thelma Chance.

Some of the Juniors enjoyed a party at Ruth De Ring's Thursday night, January 25.

Edna Early, Frances Milligan, Jean Rogers, Gladys Neal, Isobel Early, Anne Yanai, Alma Thompson, and Evelyn Treasure took parts in the choruses of "Swanee Moon."

Lethal Rhodes of Port Washington visited recently with Kathryn Ausmus.

The Sophomore Booster Club held a candy sale at the high school building Wednesday noon, Jan. 24.

Anne Yanai, Virginia Langell, Isobel Early, Bessie Cunningham, and Dorothy Shaeffer attended the basket-ball game at Dennison Friday evening, January 19.

A number of La Vera Daugherty's friends surprised her with a party at her home east of town recently in honor of her sixteenth birthday.

Nick Knezevitch, Clarence Ortt are playing with the Reserve team this week.

Sophomore Booster Club Supper.

The Sophomore Booster Club plans to have a supper Thursday evening, February eighth from five-thirty to seven-thirty at the High School Building. The Menu consists of: Meat Loaf, Mashed Potatoes, Gravy, Fruit Salad, Cake, Bread, Butter, cream and coffee.

Only twenty cents!! Everybody come!!

FRESHMEN NEWS

Myron Riggle visited in Pennsylvania Sunday, January 20. He was accompanied by "Boots" Bolen, Ronald McCallister and George Maxwell.

Robert Jones, Horace Jackson, Buster Ccker, and Manches Neff were transferred from the Reserve basketball squad to the varsity.

Howard Robinson is frequently seen passing notes to June Kees.

Chris Yanai started to wear a necktie Wednesday, January 23.

Bobby Taylor accompanied his parents to Canton, January 20.

Charles Abbuhl received a sprain in his back during basket-ball practice.

Mary Margaret Miller spent the week-end two miles north of town with Jean Riley.

Carol Palmer went to Columbus with her parents Wednesday, January 20.

A certain freshman boy started the rumor that Betty Lewis looked like Sally Eilers and that Hazel Gadd looked like Norma Shearer.

RECEIVES HONORABLE MENTION

We would like to have the students of N.H.S. know that their paper is a member of the National Mimeograph Exchange. In this exchange the organization is attempting to act as a center for all mimeographed papers. Upon their receipt, these papers are criticized favorably and unfavorably and compared with others. A monthly bulletin is sent back to each school that is a member of the exchange, in which the papers are named and commented upon.

Last month "The Student Print" received honorable mention in the exchange.

BASKETBALL

The Newcomerstown Trojans suffered two defeats last week-end. Friday they played Dennison Railroaders, which earlier in the season had defeated the Trojans on their own court by two points. This was probably the best game Newcomerstown ever encountered on their own court so far this season.

The Dennison squad proved to be very strong on their own court. They defeated the Trojans by a score of 39 to 23. Saturday, Newcomerstown played one of the best B-class teams of Ohio, Strausburg. Due to the fact that they play nothing but basketball they have excelled greatly in this one sport. They also defeated Newcomerstown by a score of 42 to 14.

Last week the Junior High gave the Freshmen a trouncing by beating them 29 to 17.

On January 27, Newcomerstown journeyed to Sugarcreek for the only game over the last week-end. Sugarcreek has a very good team this year. Strausburg beating them by only two points.

In the first quarter the Trojans made a good showing because at the end of the quarter the score was only 3-2 in favor of Sugarcreek. That is the closest Newcomerstown ever came to tying the score. From then on Sugarcreek kept a wide margin over the Trojans. At the end of the game the score was 36-10 in favor of the home team. The following were in the lineup for the Trojans.

PEP MEETING

A "Pep meeting" was held Friday afternoon, January 19. Mr. May made an announcement and then he turned the pep meeting over to Mr. Schroeder so he could tell us the prospects for the game Friday evening which was to be played with Dennison on their floor and the game Saturday evening with Strasburg which would be played on our floor. After the talk by the coach the "Cheerleaders" led us in giving some yells. Junior High was with us for our pep meeting and gave a "yell." The pep meeting was closed by the singing of our school song "Loyalty."

LITERARY NOTES

There is little point in detailing the simple story "A Finnish Pastoral" written by F. E. Sillanpoa. It is a story of a brief life. The tale is melancholy rather than tragic.

Silja is the daughter of a Finnish father whose life precedes her own. Silja's childhood is spent on her father's farm, which is gradually running down. Finally, the farm goes under; shortly after this the mother dies; then the father and daughter live together happily until the father dies. After his death Silja works as a milkmaid on different farms throughout the country. You will find many interesting experiences that she comes in contact with during her work. While she is still young her turn also comes to die. Silja is the last of an old Finnish Peasant family. In reading this you will learn many facts concerned with the Finnish people that are unfamiliar to most Americans.

--Laura Torgler

One must understand both sides of the old and new culture, and Thomas Mann in "Past Master" makes his side at least, completely understandable by means of papers chiefly on the great Germans of the past: essays on Lessing, Goethe, Tolstoy, Nietzsche, and Wagner. This is a brilliant piece of work of culture and of politics. His arguments are bound up with his illustrations, his analysis with his appreciation, so that it is only by following him through these personal evocations of German culture that one is ready for a conclusion. The essay on Freud is a remarkable piece of analysis which will delight the reader. But it is in "Culture and Socialism," however, that Mann faces the dilemma for Germany.

--Rosemary Lyons

THE NEWCOSEAN

The work upon the annual has now begun. The sales campaign was started Monday morning. In order to make the annual a financial success, one hundred and seventy-five copies must be sold in Senior High School. With the addition of the Junior High department, extra expenses will be incurred and the number of annuals to be sold will be increased. In this sales campaign the cooperation of the entire school is needed. The salesmen for the various rooms are as follows:

Junior Swigert	-	Room 11
Myron Hagan	-	Room 10
Helen Taylor	-	Room 8
Myron Thompson	-	Room 7
Melba Steffen	-	Room 12
Dean Palmer	-	Room 3

These are the things that I shall not forget,
When the day's work is done:
The little kindnesses I may have shown
To any one;
The burdens that I may have helped to bear
Throughout the day,
For comrades walking with me down
The way.

Not one regret that I had done too much,
Where there was much to do,
But this I know, when the long hours pass
In swift review,
I shall look back and wish that I had done
Oh, so much more,
When I turn in at evening to my door.

JOKES

Herman Hudson says that he can't help it if all the girls fall for him and want to go with him.

Did you call Edith up this morning?
Yes, but she wasn't down.
But why didn't you call her down?
Because she wasn't up.
Then call her up now and call her down for not being down when you called her up.

There's a great deal printed that you can't believe.
"There is," assented a friend,
"especially on bottles."

Mr. Clifton - You are always behind in your studies.

Earle VanSickle - Well, you see that gives me a chance to pursue them.

Mother - (teaching alphabet) Now, dear, what comes after O?

Child - Yeah?

Ike Wilkin - Where are you from?

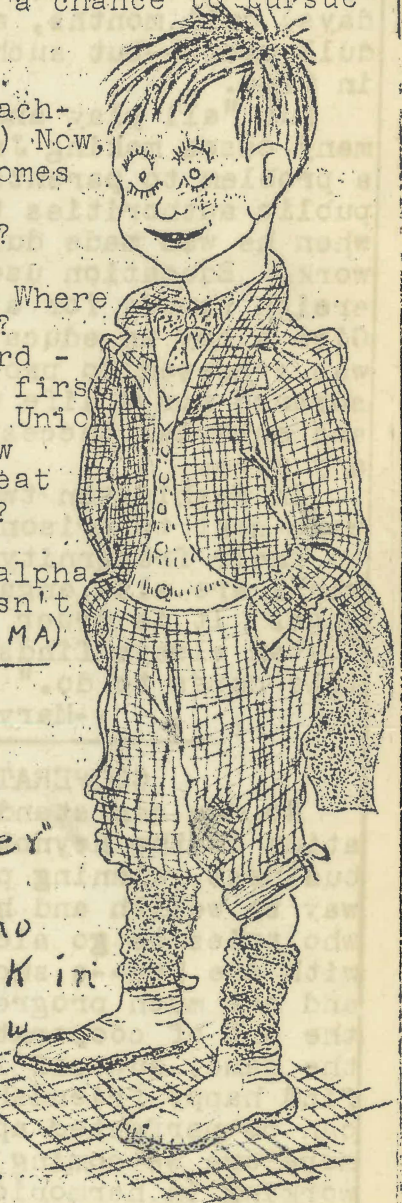

Mary Jo Howard - I'm from the first state in the Union.

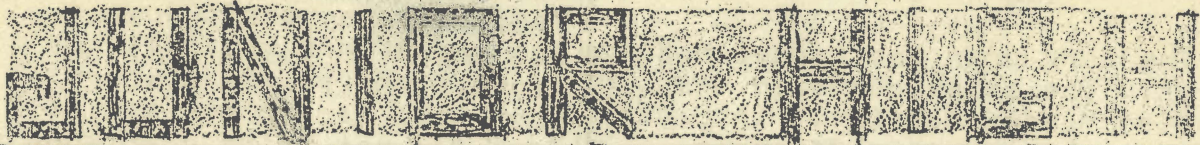

Ike - Oh, New York--the great Empire State?

Mary Jo - The first state alphabetically, isn't it? (ALABAMA)

THE PROBLEM OF LEISURE

MORE SIFTINGS

In the olden days it was said: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Too much work did make the boy dull; it will make any boy dull, any girl dull, any man dull, any woman dull. But being dull is n't the worst thing in the world. We all have our dull moments, dull days, dull months, and sometimes dull years--but such periods pass in time.

But "all play and no work" is in many cases making Jack much more of a problem to parents, teachers and public authorities than he ever was when he was made dull by too much work. Education used to be the sovereign remedy for all such ills. Give a boy an education and this was supposed to provide him with insurance for a life of usefulness and material success. But not so any more.

In Washington two school boys were sent to prison for setting fire to their fraternity house. Many girls are also engaged in such things. It is truer than ever that "Satan always finds some work for idle hands to do."

--Mary McAllister

COOPERATION

No one can stand alone. Cooperation is the keynote of successful business, winning play and a highway to wealth and happiness. He who tries to go alone is like a man with one leg--a succession of jumps and not much progress. To learn the art of cooperation is to win the game, succeed in business and find happy friendships. No life can be perfected apart, and more and more are we coming to see that by working in harmonious relation the best results can be reached.

By little and little, great things are completed; and so repeated kindness will soften a heart of stone.

People, like horses, start aside from objects they see imperfectly. Enmities started by an indistinct view would often be allayed by conference.

Obedience alone gives the right to command.

Loyalty in deeds is even more important than loyalty in words.

A HUNDRED YEARS TOO LATE!

Blake Boyd thinks it must have been much more enjoyable living in Whittier's day. He feels that he would have been at home in attending husking bees, sleighing and skating parties. In lieu of all these bygone pleasures he suggests that the eighth grades get busy and show how all these same diversions are done in these days of 1934.

THE GREAT STONE FACE

"The Great Stone Face" has taught me to be kind, humble, and patient. Ernest had the Great Stone Face for his teacher and ideal. The story has taught me that we should choose an ideal; and although we never reach it; we should work toward it. Another lesson I have learned is not to jump at conclusions, but to think twice before I speak once. When the great men came, all the people jumped at the conclusion that if they had riches, honor, or wisdom they must resemble the Great Stone Face.

IN THE CLASSROOMS

Miss Jones' 7th grade reading classes have finished reading and discussing the classic "The Great Stone Face" by Nathaniel Hawthorne.

Mr. Barthalow's 8th grade classes in civics are studying the legislative department of the government. The Constitutional is used, and many pupils have been bringing in illustrative material from the current newspapers.

Miss Fletcher's 7th grade classes have begun the study of the Revolutionary War.

The 7-A geography class has had many excellent reports about the different countries of Europe. Pupils have been bringing in pictures to illustrate the material studied. Martha Olson, whose father was born and lived in Sweden many years, is to give us a report about Sweden. We are expecting something interesting, so get busy, Martha!

The 8th grade history classes were given the privilege of learning Lincoln's famous "Gettysburg Address"!

Miss Jones' 7-B class in English are writing themes-"Skating on the Ice."

Some of Miss Jones' home room pupils have been having the pleasure of remaining after school for thirty minutes because they talk too much at the wrong time.

Spelling records for last week were as follows:

8-1 - 100%; 8-2 - 100%; 7-2-100%
7-1 - 7 people missed
7-3 - 7 people missed

Jack Frost isn't the only one who can work magic with his paint brush. During vacation Santa Claus in the guise of the C.W.A. redecorated the rooms of the High School building. Our beautifully decorated rooms add more cheer to our surroundings, and make the school work much more pleasant.

THE MESSAGE OF THE FLAG

My Stars and my Stripes are your dreams and your labors. They are bright with cheer, brilliant with courage, firm with faith, because you have made them so out of your hearts. For you are the makers of the Flag.

PROJECT IN ENGLISH

Each pupil in Miss Roof's English classes is writing an autobiography. This is to be in book form. The book will be divided into the following sections: My Babyhood Days, My Childhood Days, My School Days, My Future Days. Each section will consist of a number of chapters. Each chapter will be thence written about some incident or interesting event which took place during that particular period of life or perhaps about some outstanding character in the author's life. The book is to have a frontispiece picture of the author, a table of contents and a preface.

Each will dedicate his work to whomever he desires. Some of the themes will be illustrated by appropriate pictures or snapshots (we like to look at books that have the outstanding events illustrated). The book covers will also be made by the pupils. Each pupil is to suggest a title for his or her own autobiography, as well as the title for each chapter. Each pupil may work as rapidly as he wishes, while the least amount of work required is one theme or chapter a week until the book is completed. We are looking forward to a most enjoyable time working at this project. May some of us some day be real authors.

--Helen Treasure

Teacher - Define liquids.
Janice - Liquids are words with wet sounds, such as splash, drip, and gurgle.

SPORTS

Last Friday the Junior High basketball team defeated the Freshmen team by a score of 22 to 13. Throughout the game the Junior High kept a good lead. The lineup was:

Jr. High		Freshmen
Hammersley	F	Carr
Goettge	F	Abbuhl
Knowles	C	Jackson
Bassett	G	Riggle
Jones	G	Tish

At an early date the local team is scheduled to play Welty Junior High both at home and at their gym in New Philadelphia. This will be a hard game, and the boys under Coach Schroeder's able coaching are girding themselves for the approaching fray.

PET COON

Charles Berg is the owner of a large black raccoon weighing about twenty-five pounds. It was formerly owned by Dave Rogers of Kimbolton, Ohio. It is quite tame and is very kind to its friends. Charles says that any one who wishes to see his coon or him is cordially invited to call at his home on East State Street.

JINX CLUB

The Jinx Club met at the home of Elizabeth Brode, January 19. The members present were: Maxine Lewis, Thelma Angle, Lillian Thompson, Bertha E. Neighbor, Wilda Lee, Dorothy Edwards, Rosemary Johns, Mary Carolyn Leightner, Suzanne Neal, Edith Carol Trees the advisor, Miss Margaret Fletcher, and the hostess, Elizabeth Brode. A visitor, Audrey Anderson, was present. Games were played and delicious refreshments were served. The meeting adjourned to meet at the home of Emily Dillehay, February 2.

PERSONALS

Margie Hendershot had visitors from Akron last Sunday.

Helen Treasure was hostess to friends from Akron over the week-end.

Helen Shryock visited recently in Baltic and Bakersville.

Freddie Davis spent Tuesday in Columbus.

Charles Williams was the winning contestant in a marathon dance staged last Tuesday night. With a record of one hour and fifteen minutes, he carried off the laurels of victory.

June Latham shopped in Cambridge Saturday.

Florence Steffen, Ann Davis, and Mr. Barthalow were among the fans who attended the basketball game at Dennison.

Florence Cunningham spent the week-end in Stonecreek.

Glenn Kiefer was the week-end guest of his brother at Orange.

Margaret Hafner spent Sunday in Zanesville.

George Myers visited with his sister in Uhrichsville Sunday. George made the trip by bicycle in two and one half hours. Who wants to beat this record?

Clifford Cordrey visited his aunt in Dover Sunday.

Robert Wigfield spent the week-end with his brother in Canton.

LEARN FROM BLUNDERS

Teacher-What is a doughboy?
Robert Brode-A baker's son.

Teacher-What is the difference between floods and rainfall?

Clarence H.-Both are wet.

Teacher-Tell why "ain't" should not be used.

Sidney-Because "ain't" ain't proper.

Teacher-What is a mint?

Florence S.-It is a place where peppermints are made.

Teacher-What are the people of Austria called?

Pupil-Ostriches.

Teacher-What is half the diameter of a circle called?

Chas. C.-A radio.

Helen-What is your idea of clean sport?

Florence-Swimming.

Mrs. Steffen-Where is Ann, Florence?

Florence-In there playing a duet. I finished my part first.

What is the difference between electricity and lightning?" the teacher asked.

You don't have to pay for lightning came a prompt reply from a bright boy.

Mary-How does that clock go that you won at the fair?

Charles C.-Fine, it does one hour in less than forty-five minutes.

Father-Son, I am spanking you because I love you.

Bernard-I'd like to be big enough to return your love.

The course of true love never did run smooth, ask Virginia Robe.

WE'D REALLY LIKE TO SEE--

Robert Brode and Florence Steffen when they go riding on Robert's bicycle "built for two."

Thelma Swigert tagging along after Mr. Barthalow for a day or so.

Who is it that Ruth Leighninger has to see "on business" on the first floor.

If John McPeck's and Bill Geottge's backs are black and blue after so much punching!

Arzula Tufford run in a hundred yard dash.

Mildred Morton calling up some of her friends for the other girls.

June Latham and Janice Dawson when they settle the question: Who is to have Bud Jackson.

If Grace Zimmer does dislike some of the boys as much as she pretends. We've heard about some of the parties.

MR. Derr-What are the natural resources of Norway?

Mary Alice-Cod and herring.

Why is it that Arzula Tufford and Edith Craigo cheered for the Freshmen team last week when Junior High played?

Janice wants to know if Bud Jackson has quit June Latham or if he has decided on Janice.

G.W. Charles-Papa, the problem you solved for me last night was wrong. But don't worry about it, papa, all the other papas missed it, too.

Teacher: "Alfred, come here and give me what you have in your mouth!"

Alfred: "I'd like to. It's the toothache."
