The well-known businessman, entertainer and community leader was involved with a multitude of endeavors throughout his life, from his beginning as an entertainer, to decorating entire cities for parades, including Washington D.C. for the inauguration of President Dwight David Eisenhower and for several Miss Americas; and to creating flags and banners for events such as the Olympics, the Pro Football Hall of Fame, the Super Bowl and more.

Locally, he was also known as being a driving force behind the local museums, along with his late life, Barbara Scott, who died in 2008. Together they were instrumental in the development of the USS Radford Museum and the Main Street Museum and Social Center and with the continued operation of the Temperance Tavern Museum.

Vane was born in Steubenville on Nov. 8, 1924, a son of the late Vane S. "Great" Scott and the late Frances Johnston Dawson Scott.

He was a graduate of Newcomerstown High School, Class of 1943. He enlisted in the Navy and served in the South Pacific as an electrician-gyro compass technician aboard the U.S.S. Radford DD 446 and the U.S.S. Presidio APA 88. Vane received the Asiatic Pacific Ribbon with five Battle Stars, the World War II Victory Medal with an Asian Occupation clasp, the Philippines Liberation Medal, and the Government of the Solomon Islands ribbon award for the Liberation of the Northern Solomons.

Following his honorable discharge from the Navy in 1946, Vane returned to civilian life and attended the Art Institute of Pittsburgh. He worked for a short period of time as a precision grinder for Warner & Swasey, New Philadelphia. He later joined his father and became involved in Great Scott Displays. Vane began his career by working on various carnivals and circuses as a show painter of highway signs, ticket boxes, and trucks, and restoring Merry Go Rounds. At this time, he also began his singing career with bands and combos which lasted for 40 years and included venues all around Ohio and radio and television spots.

On Nov. 18, 1951, he married Barbara J. Waller Scott, Newcomerstown. Following their marriage, Vane and Barbara took over and managed the family's "Great Scott" displays for the next 20 years. They traveled coast to coast and became the largest traveling parade float and decorating company in the United States. Their company helped decorate Washington DC for President Eisenhower's first inauguration in 1953.

They also decorated entire cities and designed parades for two of the Miss America pageants, Hollywood and motion picture world premiers, the World Plowing Contest, and the Pro Football Hall of Fame celebration and parade. They also worked at countless county and state fairs, including the Ohio State Fair. Also included were celebrity homecomings, centennials and sesquicentennials. Vane and Barb wrote books on "How to design and Build Parade Floats" and "How to Welcome Home a Major Celebrity."

They retired from these road shows and travel schedules in 1968 and returned to the Tuscarawas Valley.

It was at this time that Vane and Barb established the Colonial Flag Company in Newcomerstown. The business later moved to Coshocton and created flags for the State of Ohio, the NFL, and the Super Bowl. Also created were flags for the Capitol of the United States. The company was later sold to Annin and Company, the world's largest and oldest flag maker. The Scott family remained 25 years as division managers. Business ventures continued with the World Olympic Games in Sarajevo, Los Angeles, and Atlanta. The company appeared in local and national media many times.

In 1970, Vane wrote, produced, and performed his patriotic show, "Many Faces of Old Glory." This production continued for 38 years. Vane appeared with such stars as Glen Campbell, Peter Noone, Dan Jansen, Zig Ziggler, and the Oak Ridge Boys. He performed in Branson, Pigeon Forge, Myrtle Beach, and the Phoenix Sun Bowl. Vane also performed with the Tuscarawas Philharmonic three times. These videos were shown to all JROTC high school programs and were registered with the Air Force Libraries. They were also shown on every naval fighting ship. Vane retired from the flag business in 1990. Vane then became the founder and national president of the USS Radford 446 Association and the USS Radford National Naval Museum, which was created in Newcomerstown in 2001. The Radford project reached over 1,400 shipmates that were found. He also assisted Barbara with the Olde Main Street Museum and Social Center project, which is a prelude to the Mary Hayes Dining Theatre Complex. TOM WILKIN 1956-2011

Tom Wilkin, 54, of Newcomerstown, died Monday, May 2, 2011.

He was born in Dennison on July 13, 1956, the son of the late H. "Dick" Wilkin and Jean "Kohl" Wilkin of Newcomerstown.

He was a graduate of the Newcomerstown High School, class of 1974, and a very proud member of Newcomerstown's 1972 "undefeated" football team. One of Tom's favorite activities was reminiscing about that "memorable" season. His nephew Dusty, also a NHS graduate, broke one of Tom's long-standing tackling records 30 years later in 2002. Tom's record was set during the '72 undefeated season against Tuscarawas Central Catholic (most solo tackles in a game). Tom was quoted as saying in the Newcomerstown News, "If someone were to break my record, I am glad it was my nephew, Dusty."

He was also proud to be a cancer survivor having fought and won a very hard battle in the late 1970s to early 1980s. He always attributed his survivorship to the love and support received by all of his family members, especially his parents.

He was the owner of Wilkin Electric and Plumbing in the Newcomerstown area for over 30 years. In his spare time, he loved playing cards with the same group of guys every Thursday evening for the last 35 years. He cherished spending time with his daughter and grandchildren, friends, and a enjoyed a "great" mushroom hunt. He was a "regular" Touraine Club coffee drinker every morning and enjoyed hanging out with the group before beginning his workday. He was a supportive son, brother, father, husband, grandfather, and friend who could always be counted on for assistance in any kind of situation.

Christmas was always his Cancer Institute.

Another wonderful memory of Tom's was the trip he took this past November to Gettysburg with his buddies, Jack Duff, Jim Hopkins and Dave Butler. He had a great time, came back with many stories, and was looking forward to the next destination with this group — Antietam Battlefield this year. Tom was a 30-year member of the BPOE Elks Lodge 1555 of Newcomerstown.

Tom is also survived by his wife, Kristie Wilkin, whom he married Dec. 24, 1984. Other survivors include the light of his life, his daughter, Lindsey Wilkin Bryan, and her husband, Dave, and his three precious grandchildren, who will miss their "Boppy" immensely, Tayte Noelle Bryan, and twins Trace Nicholas and Tristen Wayne Bryan.

He is also survived by brothers, R. "Craig" (Mary Ann), Dusty, and Dan, all of Newcomerstown and Mike (Rachel) Wilkin of Dover; his mother-in-law, Sandy King and her companion Dick Jurin; and sister-in-law, and brother-in-law, Jeff and Kelly Eggleston; grandma, Oleen Peoples of Newcomerstown; nieces and nephews, surviving, Tom and Angie "Trent" Coutts, Derrick "Kim" Wilkin, Duston Wilkin, Megan Wilkin, Mallorie Wilkin, Miranda Grasselli, Eric Baker, and Joe "Amy" Eggleston; as well as his many great-nieces, nephews, aunts, uncles and cousins.

In addition to his father, Tom was preceded in death by his grandparents, Hubert and Helen Wilkin and Selvanus "Bud" and Gladys Kohl; two nephews, Justin Wilkin and Heath Wilkin; his canine companion, "Lizzie;" and the many friends he has lost over the years.

Funeral services were May 5, 2011, at the Addy Funeral Home, Newcomerstown, with Pastor Derek Hickman officiating. Burial will be in West Lawn

"favorite" time of the year! He had many fond memories of his parents and brothers cutting down their Christmas tree as a "family," and in later years as an adult of he and his daughter, Lindsey, making it a special event for just the two of them to pick a tree together. Anyone ever having a conversation with Tom, knew he busted with pride talking about his daughter and the fact that she was a R.N., and in turn helping other patients as he was cared for during his many years off and on as a patient at the National Cemetery, Newcomerstown.

CHARLOTTE L. (CONRAD) DeHORSE

SPRING LAKE, N.C. — Charlotte Lavonne (Conrad) DeHorse passed into God's loving embrace on Sept. 30, 2011, in Fayetteville, N.C., where she made her home and raised her family after leaving Newcomerstown in the early 1950s.

She was preceded in death by her loving husband, Douglas; but survived by her children, Guy G. Hardman III, of Huntsville, Ala., Michael DeHorse of Fayetteville, who passed shortly after his mother, Catherine M. DeHorse of Pembroke Pines, Fla., and David S. DeHorse of Madison, Wis.; and her grandchildren, Michael A. DeHorse of Fayetteville, Joanna K. Austin of Fayetteville, and Callie DeHorse of Charleston, S.C.

She was interred with her loving husband at the Sandhills State Veterans Cemetery in Spring Lake, N.C.

Charlotte was born July 2, 1928, to Pierce and Catherine Conrad, and raised in Newcomerstown. Her stories of family and community life in Ohio filled the imaginations of her Southern born children with the wonders and delights of a Midwestern childhood at 414 Harding St.

That childhood was filled with tales of fun family outings down at the river with her beloved sisters and brothers, neighbors gathering for endless late night farm chores best done together, pranks by her brother Bill and his friends at Halloween, and school dances with her sister and life-long friend, Betty. She was called "the little buttermilk girl" by neighbors to whom she delivered the products of their small family farm. And only Mark Twain could rival Mom's descriptions of the many personalities that seemed to fill the streets and shops of what, to me, seemed the best of all places where a child could grow up: Newcomerstown. She was a flag bearer in high school, and then later had the adventures and joy of taking the train to Coshocton with a girlfriend, renting a room at a boarding house, working as a telephone operator, and welcoming her brother Bill home from the Navy after World War II.

"As I later came to appreciate it all, Mom replicated her childhood for her own children with family outings, bountiful tables at holidays, picnic blankets filled with delights, and an ability to turn the most common experience into an occasion by the power of her optimistic outlook on life. Where she lost her loving parents as a young girl, a reality she downplayed with a smile and 'something good to eat,' we children were blessed to have her with us well into our adult lives. Christmas was Charlotte's time of year; and whatever might be happening in the world, whatever we may have or not have, Mom made that time of year special with pies and family and love. And this I know, she is in heaven now, and at peace, together with her loving husband Douglas, whose heart, and love, healed and strengthened when they reunited," a loving son, David.
