(Information from Louise Howard, of Baltimore, Maryland). He was with Washington at Trenton, New Jersey, and the capture of the Hessians, and was one of the guards that took the Hessians to Lancaster. Washington cut the Hessian banner into 13 pieces and gave one to a representative of each colony. Adam Boss received Maryland's piece which my mother, Catherine Weaver Goetze Browne, gave to the Maryland Historical Society about 1928. Adam Boss was with Washington at the surrender of Cornwallis. He was a member of the 1st Baltimore Light Infantry, Capt. Mackenheimer. He married Sarah Zeigler on January 1, 1782 in Baltimore. Sarah's father gave them as a wedding gift part of his farm that later was known as 13 N. Bond St. near Gough. After the Revolution they ran their home as an inn. They had 6 children, 3 of whom were: Frederick Boss, George Boss (born 1794, fifer in Columbian Artillery, Capt. Samuel Moal at the Battle of North Point, September 14, 1814); and Elizabeth Boss (married John George Martin Bondell.) (Information from J. Prentiss Browne, of Baltimore, Maryland). Adam Boss actually had more than six children. The others were Adam, Jr., John, Henry, Sophia and Margaret. (See Chancery Court Papers No. 17898-

Shortly after that he was drafted again and went with this company under Capt. Winchester to Virginia and was present at the surrender of Cornwallis. About 6 or 7 years after the war he moved to Virginia where he lived until 1822 when he moved to Kentucky for about 5 years and then moved to Cincinnati, Ohio. Wells "The Big Wells Family," Wells Chronicles, October-December, 1989, pp. 157-162).

(page 286) New insert: Charles Dorsey Wells was born on May 23, 1758, in Diamond Ridge (Soldier's Delight), Baltimore County, MD, about 11 miles from the City of Baltimore. It appears that he enlisted in Maryland in 1776, 1777, and 1778, and served 3 months and 29 days as a Private under Capt. Nathaniel Stinchcomb in Col. Joseph Gist's Regiment. In 1779 he moved to what is now Brooke County, Virginia and served 6 months under Capt. James Teter and Capt. Francis McGuire in Col. Broadhead's Virginia Troops. His pension application in Harrison County, Ohio in 1832 stated he was discharged at Fort Pitt, Pennsylvania in February, 1780, returned home to Baltimore County, and persuaded his parents and brothers to move to Washington County, Pennsylvania. He again returned to Baltimore County and married Mary Lyon Williamson on February 4, 1783, and eventually moved back to Pennsylvania. Charles was also a Captain of Militia in Washington County on December 5, 1793. In 1811 he moved to Harrison County, Ohio. He wrote his will in 1843 in Coshocton County, Ohio, naming his 6 living children: Michael, Jane, Joshua, Thomas W., Francis and Edward. (Information compiled by William A. Wells, of Venice, Florida, citing Revolutionary War Pension Application S3493; Pennsylvania Archives, 6th Series, Vol. IV, pp. 317, 323; and, DAR Patriot Index, Vol. I, 1966, p. 728).

(page 287) New insert: Henry Wells, son of Alexander Wells and Leah Owings, was a member of the "Little Wells" family and served in the American Revolution. He was born on September 7, 1754, in Baltimore County, Maryland, and married Jemima Coe (or Cole?) on September 30, 1780. Frederick County Marriage Licenses, 1778-1810, by Margaret Myers (page 164) states "Henry Wills married Jemimah Coe, September 30, 1780, lic." The children of Henry and Jemima Wells were: Ara or Arianna (born on November 19, 1781 and married Joshua Pumphrey, of Reason); Editha (born on October 18, 1783 and married Joshua Pumphrey, of Caleb);

Alexander (born on November 21, 1784, and married Rhoda Pumphrey); Elizabeth (born on November 18, 1786 and married Henry Owings); Minerva (born on November 10, 1788 and married Reverend Burrows Westlake); Leah (born on June 4, 1792; unmarried); Miranda (born on January 8, 1794, and married Reverend Henry Mathews); Nathaniel (born October 3, 1790 and married Barbara Markley); and, Darius (born on June 4, 1795 and married Mary White Breeden). Owings and Allied Families, by Addison D. and Elizabeth S. Owings (1976), pp. 188-190, states Henry Wells served in Lieut Ball's Company of the 1st Virginia Regiment. Although this may be appear questionable since Henry Wells lived in Washington County, Pennsylvania for awhile and he also appears on the rolls of Captain Boxter's Company in 1781, it still could be the same person because Ohio County, Virginia was once part of what is now Washington and Greene Counties, Pennsylvania. There is a Henry Wells who took the Oath of Allegiance there in 1777. Henry Wells died on August 27, 1814 in Brooke County, (West) Virginia and Jemima Wells died on June 20, 1819 in Licking County, Ohio. (Ref: Information compiled by Phyllis J. Wells, of Boulder, Colorado, citing Howard Leckey's The Tenmile Country and Its Pioneer Families (1977), pp. 138-140, and Pennsylvania Archives, 5th Series, Volume V, p. 681).

(page 287) New insert: Richard Wells, Sr., son of James and Ann Wells, was born on March 15, 1722 in Baltimore County, Maryland. Information submitted by Phyllis J. Hughes, of Boulder, Colorado: "This man is also on page 728 of the DAR Patriot Index. However, I do not believe that Richard Sr. served as a Capt., as stated in the DAR Patriot Index, even though he was commonly referred to as Col. Richard Wells. I might also add that many of the DAR records in regard to Richard Wells, Sr. are incorrect. Also the names of his 24 children (by two wives) are not yet completely documented. I will give you the best listing of Richard Wells' children which I've been able to document, but this will vary somewhat with other publications, which I now believe to be incorrect -- by first wife Anne "Nancy" Brown: George (1745-1831), Alexander, Mary (1748-1776), James (1751-1814), "Tidley" Richard II (1752-1814), Thomas (1758-1839), Patience (1759-1799), John (1764-1828). By his second wife (no name given): Joseph (1766-1852), Bazil (1767-1834), and Elizabeth (?), Hugh (?), Honour (?), and Benjamin (?)." (Ed. Note: Which of the following is correct? Robert Barnes' Baltimore County Families, 1659-1759, page 673, states Richard Wells died in Ross County, Ohio in 1808. Phyllis J. Hughes, of Boulder, Colorado, states he died on September 12, 1816, in Licking County, Ohio.)

(page 294) Additional data: Benkid Wilson, a Quaker, reported at the Gunpowder Monthly Meeting in Baltimore County on 28th day of 12th month, 1776, and "offered a paper to this meeting to condemn his passing a fine for not bearing arms," and on 28th day of 3rd month, 1778, it was also reported that he "hath taken a test which contains principles inconsistent with our religious peaceable profession.

(page 294) Additional data: Gittings Wilson, a Quaker, reported at the Gunpowder Monthly Meeting in Baltimore County on 25th day of 5th month, 1776, that he "still persists in the practice of acting in the militia," and on the 27th day of 7th month, 1776, that he "hath fallen in with the practice of the times in bearing arms and learning war contrary to our disciplines, and is disowned until he condemns his misconduct to our satisfaction."

(page 294) New insert: Henry Wilson, Jr., a Quaker, reported at the Gunpowder Monthly Meeting in Baltimore County on 30th day of 3rd month, 1776, that he "continues to be active in the military preparations," and on 29th day of 6th month, 1776, he "continues being concerned and active in military employments."

(page 294) New insert: Henry Wilson, Sr., a Quaker, reported at the Gunpowder Monthly Meeting in Baltimore County on 28th day of 2nd month, 1778, he "hath taken a test which contains principles inconsistent with our peaceable religious profession."

(page 295) Additional data: Johnkid Wilson, a Quaker, reported at the Gunpowder Monthly Meeting in Baltimore County on 29th day of 6th month, 1776, he "hath been and continues to join and practice in the military operations."

(page 150) "Cunell. Garison (?) is Cornelius Garrison (5 names from the bottom of the page). the "Jon" is John Garrison, the father of Cornelius, James, Philip, Samuel, and Hannah (who married William Baldwin). Same area is the John "Dinjany" or "Young," etc. listed with the Garrisons is John Guyon. Cornelius Garrison's mother was Ann Guyon, wife of John Garrison. The Garrisons and the Guyons were all from Staten Island, New York, then settled for a few years in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and came to Harford County, Maryland about 1768 or so. The Baldwins were also from Bucks County. The Guyons were French Protestants and descended from Jacque (James) and with the Casier family, Holmes (Abraham Lincoln), and Golding. They are interesting families." (Information submitted by Margaret Smith Keigler, of Monkton, Maryland).

A fascinating story kept alive by the telling of it from generation to generation.

" Henry Woodward had just boarded a ship at England to come to America when he saw officers coming on board to search the ship to see that no able bodied man left England. A young, but very large woman standing near-by, over-heard him, addressing no one but the sea and himself, remark: "I have served seven years in the War, and now I suppose I will have to end my life in the army."

Sarah "Sally" Shelton, the young woman standing near-by, looked at him and noticing he was a small man, told him: "Squat down under this stool." Then she sat upon the stool, out-spreading her skirt so as to completely obscure him during the search. He jumped up and kissed her!

Allegedly, they were married by the Captian of the ship, during the voyage."

A facinating story kept alive by the telling of it from generation to generation.

" Henry Woodward had just boarded a ship at England to come to America when he saw officers coming on board to search the ship to see that no able bodied man left England. A young, but very large woman standing near-by, over-heard him, addressing no one but the sea and himself, remark: "I have served seven years in the War, and now I suppose I will have to end my life in the army."

Sarah "Sally" Shelton, the young woman standing near-by, looked at him and noticing he was a small man, told him: "Squat down under this stool." Then she sat upon the stool, out-spreading her skirt so as to completely obscure him during the sear He jumped up and kissed her!
