FRIENDSHIP

What is friendship? How many people stop to think what friendship is; what are its dangers; and how to secure a good comrade. I shall try to explain these inquiries in this essay.

The friendship of the present generation is by far unequal to the friendly feelings of the past progeny. To prove this statement I will take you back to the period of the colonies. Then the population was less dense than the present decade; the people knew each other, and were more friendly toward one another. There were few newspapers; hence, strangers and travelers were always welcome guests as they would tell one of the happenings of the outside world. Each believed that all men were created equally. They didn't do like so many of their (present younger) descendants of today; who during the week are as chummy as a kitten; but, on Saturday and Sunday nights, when they have an engagement with an outside "admirer", hold their heads as high as Pike's Peak. But, my worthy readers, do not mistake me, for all of us are not of this type; there usually are the "Jones" type.

In the days of infant manufacturing, the employer knew each of his employee's by name; he knew his family and troubles. Today, what a change has taken place. If you were working for Mr. Ford, he wouldn't know you from me. That is the reason friendship is gradually dying out. In some sections of the country friendship is still supreme. This is mostly found in the rural districts.

In trying to cultivate worthy friendship we should follow these hints---

TRUTH---

One should not conceal anything from a friend whom you can trust. He may have a solution which may help you.

INTELLIGENCE---

Intelligence should always be a link in your chain of friendship. Do you suppose a person, who completed his education, would want a chum around with a person who hadn't finished school?

COMMON SOCIAL INTERESTS---

This is a very important part in your friendship. The two chums should always have the same interests at heart. In case one boy likes to mingle with the opposite sex and the other likes to be by himself, an argument usually takes place.

ATTRACTIVE PERSONALITIES---

You should try to secure a friend with a charming personality instead of a person with a "long mody" face, who seldom "cracks" a smile.

BEHAVIOR---

You should pick a friend who is a model citizen, instead of a "safe cracker" or a "kidnaper." Choose a person who behaves properly in private as well as in public.

CLEAN HEALTH AND CHARACTER---

These, to my knowledge, are the most important to be sought in a friendship. Many people fail to keep themselves in representable condition and favorable frame of mind; always look for these characteristics in a person.

SELF SACRIFICE---

No one can have everything his own way; he must learn to give and take. Don't expect to get through this world without sacrificing something.

OUTCOME OF FRIENDSHIP---

Your friend should be able to entertain you without stooping or under concealment. He usually has some peculiar trait or habit which he would teach you. You should be willing to share with one another in your success as well as your downfall. A good friendship should be as substantial as the Rock of Gibraltar. In case of an insult, be ready to protect his name. Today real friendships are hard to find. Profit by others mistakes by making a true friendship stand. Let's try to look for these traits before assuming a new friendship and living up to it ourselves.

TROJANS SPANK NEW CONCORD

The Newcomerstown High School Trojans romped to a 22-0 victory Saturday over New Concord's grid-ers through the medium of two blocked kicks and a safety. The game was played at New Concord. Newcomerstown scored early in the first period on a blocked punt which rolled over the goal line and was recovered by Sidney Jones. Although halfback Neff tore off numerous long runs, Newcomerstown was unable to score the remainder of the half.

Early in the third quarter, Derr, Trojan left tackle, blocked a New Concord punt. McCall, Trojan left end, grabbed the ball while it was in the air and raced 40 yards for a touchdown. He also booted the extra point.

A 43 yard run by Neff, left halfback, gave the Trojans another marker in the final period which McCall converted. The final score came when Noble, New Concord safety man, fumbled a punt which rolled over the goal line and was recovered by Captain Gadd. It was the fourth straight victory for the Trojans. Practically every Trojan player saw service in the game.

The Trojans ended their 1934 football season at Navarre Saturday going down to defeat 12 to 0. Although losing this game the season is considered one of the best the Trojans ever had.

SENIOR NEW

Edna Hothem still insists that her mail goes up to the mail instead of down as Mr. Clifton suggested.

We have been informed that there is no game scheduled for Thanksgiving. How about letting these Senior girls who seem to know all about football play a game?

The Seniors in Room 11 have moved to Room 2. As there is an overflow of Seniors, some are sent to Miss. Fenton's room.

JUNIOR NEWS

Gladys Neal gave a party at her home on Canal Street, Saturday, November 10.

Several Juniors tried their luck at "bagging" a few rabbits Thursday.

Several Juniors saw N.H.S. defeat New Concord, Sat., Nov. 10.

Why was Harry Bower absent last Monday?????

The name of Harold Anderson, Vice President of the Hi-Y Club, was omitted in the last issue of the Student Print.

The following Juniors played in the reserve game Monday against Welty Junior Hi: Red Anderson, Garner Stocker, Carl Lenzo, Nick Knezevich and Herky Derr.

Why was our Blonde Venus---- Milligan's hair so dark one day and the next day so light!!! Another suicide blonde.

Carl Lenzo is still keeping Agnes Hursey company. Wait till Schroeder finds out!!!

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Merle Dorsey was taken to the Coshocton Hospital Tuesday morning for an appendicitis operation.

Ruth Kohler entertained with a party at her home Saturday evening. Those present were: Betty Kohler, Harold Wolfe, Mary Jane Kohler, Merle Baker, Jane Kohler, Arthur Rehard, Elizabeth Knowles, Robert Shaw, Jack Shaw, and the hostess.

Raynell Huff certainly is making a hit with Howard Robinson.

Who is this Henry we hear Audrey Anderson talking about so much lately?????????

Hazel Gadd visited her grandmother in the country last Sunday.

Where was Charles Abbuhl Wednesday night, November 7? (We wonder).

Why did Booker (Tusco) Russell quit football????? (Was it because he couldn't afford to put finger nail polish on every time he practiced?)

What's this we hear about Manches Neff???????

The romance between Geraldine Lewis and Virgil Peoples is coming along fine. (Thank you.)

What caused Charles Barnhouse to study so much lately????? Keep it up, Charles, you're doing fine.

Miss Conn entertained her second period English class Tuesday morning with a talk on the picture show, "The Count of Monte Cristo", by Dumas, the French novelist and dramatist.

We wonder why Sarah Gross has not been seeing much of Carl Seiber lately?????

Who is Hazel Gadd's new flame from String-town? (Could it be Kenneth Mobley?)

Robert Opphile was visiting Mary Kathryn Portz over the weekend.

Who is the Junior boy that has Dorothy Starker in a whirl?/?/????/ (Could it be Nick K.?)

The Misses Betty and Mary Jean Kohler of Dennison spent the weekend with Ruth and Jane Kohler.

Miss Conn: "Correct this sentence: 'It was me that spilt the ink!'"
D. Huff: "It wasn't me that spilt the ink."

FRESHMAN NEWS

Mr. May's Algebra class is studying Long Division.

We wonder why Margee Hendershot quit Charles Berg for Doyle Rigges.

Ann Davis attended the Ohio State football game in Columbus last Saturday.

Because of illness, Florence Steffen is permitted to come to school only in the afternoon.

Miss Fenton's Freshmen English classes are starting on the short story, and can she give tests!!!

"You've got to be a football hero" is a saying which doesn't agree with Bob Brode because we never see any of the girls flocking around him. Are you slipping Bob???

Virginia Hafner and John Fletcher seem to be having quite an affair.

We wish that the Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors would refrain from taking the Freshmen supplies from Study Hall. We would appreciate it very much.

Don't Betty Gross and John McPeat make a cute couple?

Who is Agnes Hersey's new flame?

How come Florence Steffen keeps turning down a certain Junior boy??

The Freshmen Latin class is starting upon the Second Declension.

The Freshmen redheads and the Junior redheads seem to be rather sociable.

Florence Steffen entertained with a birthday party at her home Saturday, November 10.

Say Janice, how are you and Kenneth getting along??

The Freshmen Home Ec. class have been making luncheon dishes which are very good.

Well Raynell, how do you like Doyle by this time???

We wonder why Herold Peoples isn't seen on State St. any more?

FAMILIAR EXPRESSIONS

Mr. Hayes: "Good Morning, Children!"

Mr. May: "I have a few announcements to make." "In addition to this-" "Make your plans accordingly."

Miss Conn: "Each take his or her seat." "If there's any paper on the floor, pick it up."

Miss McMillan: "Put all books and papers out of sight." "When that bell rings it means to get quiet."

Miss Moore: "Get ready to write."

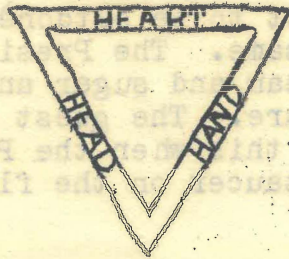

Miss Fenton: "Firstly, -secondly," "Let's watch our talking."

Miss Swigert: "The tardy bell is about to ring so let's cut out the talking." "All right, cut off the steam."

Mr. Clifton: "Some of you people have time for nothing else but talk," "All right Children, stop the gossiping, this sounds like a woman's sewing circle."

Mr. Reese: "So much for that."

Girl Reserves

The Girl Reserves are the high school branch of the Y.W.C.A. Just as the Y.W.C.A. is a world-wide organization, so is the Girl Reserves. This organization can be found in almost all parts of the world, including Japan, China, India, Australia, and many European countries, not to say anything of the U.S. The main purpose is to teach girls how to live right. They are now beginning to discuss "Making a Home." Miss Conn gave a very interesting talk on "Boy and Girl Relations" and Miss Fletcher, Chairman of the Council, will speak on "Present Social Practices" at the next one. The girls enter freely into the discussion and the things that they learn will be of great assistance to them in the future. The motto of the Girl Reserves is "To find and give the best." They meet every Monday evening and if any girl misses more than three meetings she is excluded from the club.

Last year the girls fried peanuts and sold them. The proceeds were used to rent a cottage at Coshocton Lake Park where a very delightful week was spent by the members. Mrs. Carruthers, the Secretary of the Coshocton Y.W.C.A. came to the camp every morning, from 9:30 until 10:30, for a discussion hour. Some of the things that were discussed were, "Religion, Government, World Peace, Qualities of a Good Girl Reserves, and Qualities of a Good Boy and Girl Friend."

Definite plans have not yet been made as to whether or not they will again try their luck with peanuts, but everyone is ready to help in the frying and selling of them again.

After a one hour meeting the girls have another hour for basketball and those who participate are eager for more practices.

Hi-Y MEETS

The Hi-Y club held their weekly meeting Monday night. Many students wonder what we do at a Hi-Y meeting. We will try to give you a brief outline of what took place at our meeting Monday night.

The meeting was called to order by the Vice-President since the President could not attend the meeting. The secretary's minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasury's report was also read and approved.

The meeting was then turned over to Professor May, the sponsor. Professor May explained that six boys would be chosen to represent the club at the Hi-Y conference which is to be held December 7th, 8th, and 9th, at Marietta. It was also decided that the Hi-Y would sponsor a pencil sale to raise funds for the treasury. The pencils will have the Trojans basketball schedule on them and will be sold for 5 cents.

After these matters were concluded the meeting was turned over to Reverend Jeffers, who conducted a very interesting discussion on Religion. After the discussion was over the meeting was called to a close by repeating the Hi-Y benediction.

CHAPEL NOV. 7, 1934

This morning the chapel was introduced by a history of the hymn, "Joy to the World," by Ruth Early. Mrs. Yingling led the student body in the singing of this beautiful song.

Don Freeman followed with the reading of the scripture. All bowed their heads in a short prayer.

Reverend Thompson of the Baptist Church brought the message. The chapel was brought to a close with a short prayer, then the students went to their classes much benefited by this brief talk.

(cont'd from page 4)

Mr. Schroeder: "Let's cut out the talking back there."

Mr. House: "Take out a piece of "scratch" paper."

Mr. Hinds: "You had better take this as a fair warning."

JOKES

Mary Kathryn R:--(Before a football game), "I bet I can tell you the score of the game before it starts!"

Edna H.--"All right what is it?"

Mary Kathryn R:--0 to 0 before it starts.

Peddler:--"Would you like to buy a hooked rug madam?"

Lady of the house:--"Sir, don't try to sell me stolen goods."

Mrs. Reger:--"I certainly do hope they make an example of that silly aviator who looped the loop 1500 times in 3 hours."

Junior R:--(Working Algebra) "Don't worry, they will!"

A guest at the White House was surprised to see Pres. Coolidge pour his coffee in his saucer at breakfast. Not to be outdone the guest did the same. The President then added cream and sugar and tasted the mixture. The guest was imitating all this when the President set the saucer on the floor for the dog.

Nervous Old Lady--"If I give you a piece of pudding will you never regret it?"

---"Well, ma'am, you know your cooking better than I do."

Dentist--"Will you take gas?"

Absent-minded Tourist--"Yea, and you'd better look at the oil, too."

Cliffton--Marjoie, you're late for class again.

Marjorie--Yes, I fell down stairs.

Cliffton--Well, that doesn't take long.

Davy D. was unusually happy at breakfast. "I've done my good turn for today," he said.

What, already? inquired Ann.

Yes, I was at the door and heard Mr. Brown say he was doubtful if he would make the train, so I set the bull dog after him and he arrived just in time.

Your methods of cultivation are hopelessly out of date, said the agricultural college graduate.

"I'd be surprised if you got 10 lbs. of apples from that tree."

"So would I," Replied the farmer, "it's a pear tree."

Audry A. came home proudly showing a quarter she had found.

"Are you sure it was lost?" her mother asked.

"Yes, I know it was," Audry replied "I saw a man looking for it."

"Dear me," said the absent-minded professor May as he fell down the stairs, "I wonder what is making all that racket."

LUCKY STIFFS

How frequently we hear the term 'the lucky stiff,' applied to one who has received an appointment to some high position or post of honor. It is a comment quite common on the street of today.

Undoubtedly it is true that sometimes a fellow gets a lucky break; which seems to be a matter of fortunate chance. But in most instances the so-called lucky stiff is one of those who have carefully and painstakingly prepared themselves for expected opportunities, who had the wisdom to recognize the opportunities when they came, and who were courageous enough to promptly take them.

A man is rarely appointed to an important post unless he has cultivated and developed the ability to fill it efficiently. Success is still most often the result of applied intelligence and attention to the business from which it comes.

As someone had said, all things may come to him who waits, but the really desirable things come most surely to him who hustles while he waits.

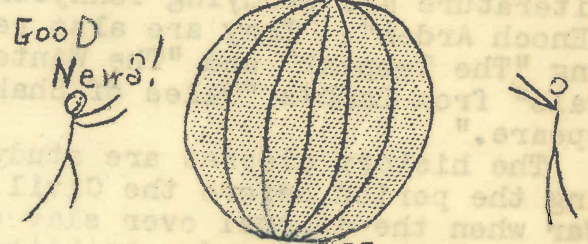

The class of lucky stiff contains more hustlers than waiters.

M. Knezovich

IT'S MOSTLY UP TO YOU

When the world's a-goin' crooked,
Or it looks that way to you--
Somehow seems to be a tangle
To 'most ever'thing you do;
When you start out of a mornin'
With your luck a-runnin' wrong,
The birds along your pathway
Have a harshness in their song.
And the grass, though soft and velvet,
You will sort o' stumble through,
Sich times, if you want things
better,
Friend, it's mostly up to you.

'Tain't hard smilin' with the sunshine,
But it's durin' stormy spells,
When our weary feet are slippin',
That the stuff what's in us tell.
No, you won't have flowers allus
In the paths you travel through;
Still if you would have things
better,
Friend, it's mostly up to you.

Did you ever ride along the highway through beautiful scenery and then come suddenly to an open space where stands one lone tree? Well, John Shephard reminded us of that tree last week in the eighth grade spelling classes. He was so lonesome that he decided to change his position. As a result we were again 100% last week.

IN THE EIGHTH GRADES

The eighth grade classes in literature are studying Tennyson's "Enoch Arden". They are also reading "The Tempest" and "The Winter's Tale" from Lamb's "Tales of Shakespeare."

The history classes are studying the period before the Civil War when the quarrel over slavery was becoming more and more bitter. Before long we shall come to a parting of the ways--see our Nation divided, and a great war take place because of sectional interests and beliefs.

The little girl had done unusually good work in the second grade and was promoted to the third. On meeting her former teacher, whom she loved dearly, her first words were, "I wish you knew enough to teach me next year!"

2nd Man: "Why?"

1st Man; "She won't let me pass."

After showing Newcomerstown to a stranger, Billy Warner asked, "How do you like our city?"

Stranger: "Well, I tell you brother this is the first cemetary I ever saw with lights."

Dentist: I'm sorry but the trouble with this tooth is that the nerve is dying.

G.W. Charles: Then please treat the dying with a little more respect.

"Your car is at the door, sir."
"Yes. I can hear it knocking."

Last week the themes of the eighth grade English classes were in letter form. While each pupil was enjoying a visit in some distant city or country, he was to write home to some friend telling about his experiences or something of interest that he witnessed.

November 6, 1934

Dear Bessie,

We arrived here at four o'clock Monday afternoon. Aunt Ester was waiting for us. When we reached her home, we unpacked our baggage while she prepared lunch for us.

After we ate she took us out to view the town. We went on High Street which was the busy section. There were funny signs over the shops. The people ride in jinrikishas. We also see many automobiles. We then went out to the harbor where we saw vessels from different countries.

The people here belong to the yellow race and are industrious. Many of the people are gardeners. I like to watch the people set out rice shoots in the mud. The women pick the green leaves from the tea on the hillsides. I wish you were here to see some of the wonderful sights. I know you would enjoy them very much.

As it is almost dinner time I shall have to close. I have a lot more to tell you.

Your schoolmate,
Mamie L. Dansby

This week the same classes enjoyed oral compositions. Each pupil was permitted to choose some object for his subject unknown to the other.

This object was carefully described as to its making and its use. Of course this was so well done that the class easily guessed the object that had been described after the themes had been given the pupils enjoyed a few minutes drawing the object that he had described. We had a very interesting display after each class.

We appreciated the willingness and the part with which each pupil worked even though he felt perhaps he could not do his task as efficiently as his neighbor.

Descriptions of two object that were given this week. Can you guess the names of these objects?

We have in our home something which is of great benefit to mankind, both in the home and factories. Much time and hard labor is saved in the making of one of the most important necessities of our lives by the invention of this article.

This article has only one eye, one arm and one foot, but runs along quite easily with the aid of two wheels. Originally they were operated by pedals and some still are but in our modern age they are usually operated by electricity. This something was invented in 1846

It is an optical instrument, consisting essentially of a lens or combination of lenses for making enlarged images of very small objects. It consists of a metal stand with a stage on which to place the objects for inspection, a mirror for reflecting light through the object and a brass tube which contains the lenses. The eye piece at the top, the objection lens at the bottom. The field lens sits in just below the eye piece; the lenses are the heart and soul of it. All lenses are ground and polished to give clear sharp images. The object to be inspected is placed on a glass slide directly over the hole in the stage. Doctors everywhere use them and are also used in the study of Science.

PERSONALS

Jean Thompson and Virginia Robe spent Saturday shopping in Cambridge.

Shirley Kennedy was ill Monday.

Jack McCleary has missed school three days on account of illness.

Floride Kistler spent the weekend at Columbus.

Floride Kistler was sick a week with grippe.

Evelyn Mizer underwent a minor operation.

Eileen Robe spent Saturday in Columbus.

Edith June Downs entertained the Junior Music Club at her home Wednesday, November 7.

In history class we are studying the New England colonies of Massachusetts, Maine, and New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island. We have made a map of these colonies and had several reports.

We wonder why Miss Barnett likes to stand in the hall in front of Mr. House's room?

In the 7th-A Geography class we are studying the countries of South America. We are now on Argentina and we found that it is a very interesting country. We have studied all the countries except Paraguay and Uruguay. We soon will study these countries.

In the 7-A History class we are studying the New England Colonies. We have studied the government, religion, education and occupations of Maine and New Hampshire.

John Laver was in New Philadelphia Saturday.

Celia Hamersley has been sick for the past week.

Frances Richmond and Norma Richmond spent the week end visiting their grandparents.

Edith Hursey and Virginia Widder cousins have been visiting them from De Moines Iowa.

Virginia Widder's Grandmother died Thursday.

Edith Hursey's grandmother, who has reached a very old age, has gone to Canton where she will retire.

Jane Hafner visited in Cambridge Sunday.

Margaret Elliott is ill at her home on Cross Street.

Martha Hootman visited friends in Canton Sunday.

The pupils of the eighth grade are studying Shakespeare.

KEEP THE ROOM CLEAN

I'll advise you to keep the floor clean,
Your seat all tidy and neat,
Because the teacher's eyes are very keen,
And find out if you have paper under your seat.

Your floors can be clean morning and night,
If you would make an effort to keep them right.
So again I advise you to keep the floors neat.
And not to have paper under your seat.
