

CW's Labor Day celebration reflects the "new town" 1997

It was a beautiful weekend for Labor Day events in Canal Winchester. The turnout for the Sept. 2 parade, which concluded a weekend's worth of events for the community and was based on the theme "It's a Whole New Town!", was impressive, as illustrated in the photo on the top right.

In the next scene, 8-year-old Lucas Depouw of Franklin, Ohio tries his hand at miniature golf, while Groveport resident Ralph Swayer dresses as a clown to put a smile on everyone's face.

In the last picture, the Canal Winchester Labor Day queen and her court wave to all the parade go-ers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a simple, elegant gown. An unadorned full skirt, made of white matte satin met the pointed waistline with wide boxed pleats. The fitted lace bodice with princess lines and a scoop neckline was covered with patterns of pearls and sequins. OUR VAUSE FAMILY

Todd Joseph Vause- b.9/28/1976 residing in Warren, Ohio

James William Vause, Jr.- b.2/12/1943 in Columbus, Ohio, raised in Chillicothe and now residing in Warren, Ohio

James William Vause- b.6/1/1910 in Chillicothe at the homeplace-Highbanks Farm residing in Chillicothe, Ohio

James Machir Vause- b.10/8/1860 d.5/11/1936 entire life in Chillicothe, well known farmer and brother of Joseph Inskeep Vause.

Joseph Inskeep Vause-b.6/14/1819 d.8/1/1898 in Chillicothe

James William Vause-b.6/14/1794 d.12/30/1856 in Chillicothe and inherited thru wife Eliza Harness very fertile farmland in Ross County

William ?? Vause-b.8/20/1769 d.6/22/1852 do not know where he is buried or much of anything else of him or his wife Rachel Inskeep

William?? Vause-b.5/1/1741 d.11/7/1789 married to Jemima Hedges who was the daughter of Solomon Hedges who was an early settler of the Moorefield area on the south fork of the Potomac River circa 1740's

The Vauses mysteriously appear in the Moorefield area in the 1740's without record of origin or other family ties. 1741 William was an officer in the R
Revolution at Valley Forge and William II was also an officer but we know nothing of other children of these two marriages or where the principles died. Marriage into the Harness family appears to be the reason why James appears in Chillicothe about 1817. Perhaps the Virginia and West Virginia archives will yield more detail but old family members visited Moorefield on several occasions but no written information came from it. It is either not worth writing down or is, in fact, a bit of a mystery!

Dear Mrs. Swayer:

I am sorry to say that in all of my ten years of researching on Hedges-Vause families I cannot find any proofs that what you have found in your copies sent to me. I even own a copy of Harness family history, which is negative as to this family. I have another puzzle as to Hannah Miller wife of my John Decker b. 1750.

I certainly hope in the near future that something will be found.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Edna J. Jordan

nearly ninety-two, dying in April, 1879. He was quartermaster under Colonel McDonald during the campaign of 1814, and was among the early justices of the peace of Twin Township, and served efficiently for a number of years. He was the father of twelve children.

John Mahan was an early settler, and also George Yoakum, who had previously lived on Big Bottom, below Waverly. When he moved into Twin, he cut the road through the woods, which was afterward known as Yoakum's trace.

Job and John Harness settled in Twin some time before the War of 1812. They made the journey up the Scioto and up Paint Creek in a keelboat, landing near the bridge above Bourneville. They settled on Paint Creek, and erected a grist mill at an early day. They finally sold out and moved to Indiana.

Christian Baum came from Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, about 1815, and bought 160 acres of land in Madison Township, Pickaway County. He afterwards added largely to his purchase, buying 200 acres in Twin Township, Ross County, which is still in possession of the family. In 1818 he was married to Sarah Shook, and raised a family of seven children. He died in 1862.

Peter Platter, Sr., was born in Germany. He came with his father to Pennsylvania in 1764, when he was only five years old. He served as a soldier in the war of the Revolution and was in the battles of Bunker Hill and of Brandywine. He married, and with his wife and one child, moved about 1793 to Kentucky. A few years afterward he became a resident of Adams County, Ohio. In 1811 he traded his 300 acres in Haller's Bottom. He died in 1832, and his wife during the same year. They had a family of thirteen children.

OLD BOURNEVILLE CEMETERY

The mention of Bourneville recalls the fact that it was the site of one of the first cemeteries to be laid out in the county. The Methodists had formed a class and held services in Haller's Bottom as early as 1800, and William Keran, the local preacher who conducted them, is said to have preached the first sermon in Paint Creek Valley. He was a man of earnestness and active piety and after a long life of great usefulness died in Bourneville in 1840. Under Mr. Keran's ministrations a log meetinghouse was erected on the farm of John Teter, and, as was customary, a small burial ground was laid out adjoining it. Daniel Teter, a son of the original settler by that name, was one of the first persons interred. The first burials were made in the bottom, but although the burial grounds extended up the side of a hill, the Methodists thought

JOSEPH H. HIGBY. Farming and stock raising engage the attention of many intelligent men with practical ideas, in Ross County, they rightly realizing that no business in the world can excel theirs in importance. Perhaps at no time in the world's history has the fact been more emphasized than the present. There are hundreds of acres in Ross County devoted to these kindred industries and attention may be directed to what is known as the old Davis farm, situated in Franklin Township. It is under the capable and experienced management of Joseph H. Higby, and its output is enormous.

Joseph H. Higby was born on the farm above mentioned, December 14, 1857. His parents were Sylvester N. and Hannah (Davis) Higby, the latter of whom was born on this farm and always lived there. A part of its 800 acres was her marriage portion, and the rest of it Sylvester N. Higby bought from the other Davis heirs. He was a man of political importance in Franklin Township and served in many public capacities, being elected to office on the republican ticket. Both he and wife were church members and active in the work of the Sunday school. He was a thirty-second degree Mason. To Sylvester N. Higby and wife seven children were born, and the following survive: Rose, who is the wife of Ira Harris, an attorney at Colorado Springs, Colorado, and formerly mayor; Kizzie D., who is the wife of C. R. Manning, an attorney and police judge at Colorado Springs; Laura W., who is the widow of H. C. Downs, of Columbus, Ohio; and Joseph H., of Franklin Township.

Joseph H. Higby spent his boyhood on the home farm and attended the township schools before entering Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, Ohio, where he completed the classical course and remained for four years. Afterward he studied civil engineering and went out for a time with an engineering corps for practical experience and remained one year connected with the Nickel Plate Railroad and then returned and took charge of the family estate, which he continues to manage. He carries on general farming and raises high grade stock of all kinds.

Mr. Higby was married to Miss Jennie E. Foster, a daughter of John C. Foster, and they had two children, both of whom died in infancy. Mrs. Higby was educated at Ada, Ohio. In politics Mr. Higby is a republican and quite often he has been elected to township offices, serving in these with the careful efficiency that has always marked his attention to his own business affairs. He is one of Ross County's highly respected and valued citizens.

JOSEPH I. VAUSE. As proprietor of High Bank Farm, a beautiful stretch of fertile land, 300 acres in extent, Joseph I. Vause, one of the representative men of Ross County, owns a homestead that has been in the Vause name for more than a century. This valuable estate was purchased by Joseph Harness, the great-great-grandfather of Joseph I., at a Government land sale. Its development from virgin field and forest, therefore, has been accomplished through the energy, industry and good judgment of this one family, coming down to the present from father to son.

Joseph I. Vause was born on the above farm, situated six miles south of Chillicothe, Ohio, July 15, 1870. His parents were Joseph I. and Jane (Foster) Vause. His father was born in Virginia, but the larger part of his life was spent in Ohio. He was a quiet, industrious, frugal man and in legitimate business ways accumulated an ample fortune during a long life. He married Jane Foster, who was born in Ohio, in Ross County, and on the family homestead in Liberty Township they reared a family of twelve children, six of whom are living in the year 1916, as follows: Mary, who is the wife of James C. Foster; Anna H., who is the widow of George Foster; James M., who is a farmer in Liberty Township, Ross County; Nellie, who is the wife of John I. Van Meter; Sallie, who is a resident of Liberty Township; and Joseph I.

At the death of his father, Joseph I. Vause took charge of the farm. In 1908 he was united in marriage with Miss Mary Penisten, who belongs to an old and well-known family of Ross County. She was born in Liberty Township and is a daughter of James and Lillie (Harness) Penisten.

For many years Mr. Vause has been prominent in county politics as a leader in democratic policies and at times he has been selected by his party for responsible public offices. For two terms he gave the people of the county admirable service as county commissioner. Aside from his large farming interests, he is interested otherwise as a stockholder in the Valley Savings Bank of Chillicothe, and as president of the Chillicothe Engineering Company. His main business, however, is farming. Mr. Vause is a member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

PETER BOHN. The activities of Peter Bohn as a business man have been well known in Chillicothe for a great many years, and his name is likewise associated with much of the city's municipal, social and educational life and affairs. He is the type of a sturdy, vigorous, public spirited citizen.

Born September 7, 1855, in Chillicothe, he is a son of John and Catherine (Litler) Bohn. His father was born in Germany and accompanied by his wife and one child emigrated to America in 1853. In some particulars this journey was rather remarkable. The little family started at Hamburg, Germany, on a sailing vessel, accomplished the entire distance between Hamburg and Chillicothe, their final destination, by deep sea, river and canal boats. The sailing vessel landed them at New Orleans and thence came up the Mississippi River, up the Ohio as far as Portsmouth, Ohio, and there embarked on a canal boat on the old Ohio Canal, finally landing on Hickory Street in Chillicothe. In the fall of 1859 John Bohn engaged in the grocery and saloon business on Main Street near Paint Street and continued in that line until his death in 1876. He was an esteemed citizen of Chillicothe, much interested in public affairs, and was a democrat in politics. He was also a member of the Eintracht Singing Society and Social Organization composed mostly of people from the old country.

followed by a course in a business college. With this preparation, he returned to the home farm, a tract of 348 acres, on Chillicothe Rural Route No. 2, where he has since made his home. This property is devoted to the classes of stock and products which flourish best in this community, and each department is conducted according to the best scientific knowledge attainable. It would be difficult to find any advantage of country existence which has not been introduced on this model farm, or any luxury of equipment invented for the lifting of the drudgery of farm work.

Mr. Harness was married November 24, 1892, to Miss Sallie Graham Harness, daughter of Col. William H. Harness, who was first an infantry commander and later took command of Company B, Eleventh Virginia Cavalry, Laurel's Brigade, Stonewall Jackson's command. He fought through the four years of the Civil war and established an enviable record for gallantry and soldierly qualities. Colonel Harness, who was a member of an old southern family, never lived in Ross County, but passed his entire life in the Old Dominion State. Four children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Harness, namely: Daniel R., who spent two years at the Ohio Military School, and is now at home with his parents; Marguerite Vause, a graduate of Glendale College and now attending the Grant Training School for Nurses; Lillian Lee, a graduate of the Chillicothe public schools; and Grace H., at home.

Mr. Harness is a democrat in his political views, but is not a seeker for public preferment. He is active as a good citizen in movements which make for beneficial results, and has demonstrated his possession of businesslike and honorable methods, and a progressiveness which must tend to the continued well-being of the community.

JAMES M. VAUSE. A Ross County farm that represents many of the ideals in the way of cultivation, productiveness, arrangement and equipment is that of James M. Vause in Liberty Township, on mail route No. 2 out of Chillicothe. At that location Mr. Vause has 416 acres, and there he illustrates his diversified enterprise as a farmer and stock raiser. He has always followed the plan of feeding his crops on his own land, and keeps good stock and has a fine set of building improvements. He may properly take pride in his farm, and it is really one of the high-class estates of the entire county.

Mr. Vause was born October 8, 1860, on the farm where his brother, Joseph Vause, now lives. His parents were Joseph I. and Jane D. (Foster) Vause. Joseph I. Vause, who was born in Moorefield, Virginia, came in infancy with his parents to Ross County, and the family then occupied a farm in Liberty Township now occupied by Mrs. Grubb. Grandfather James Vause acquired a large tract of land there, and in that locality Joseph I. Vause grew to manhood. He lived there until his marriage, and then sold his interest in the old homestead to Daniel Lunbeck and bought the farm where James M. Vause was born. That farm was originally owned by John I. Van Meter and is now the property of Joseph I. Vause, Jr. The father lived there until his death in in Lane'r and Dauph. Cos. Charles Vance of Pequa was an elder of Donegal Presbytery, Lane'r Co., Pa., 1730. From this family descended Joseph Vance, the ancestor of the Cincinatus, O., family. He moved to Va., located near Martinsburg, and m. Rachel Alexander. One of his daughters m. Gen'l George Porterfield of Va. The Frederick Co., Va., family became quite numerous. James Vance and his wife, the dau. of Samuel and Mary (Gamble) Glass, was evidently the head of the family. He and his wife lie buried in old "Opeepan" graveyard, having located in Fred'k Co. 1736. David Vance, one of the Justices of the Co., Nov. 14, 1743, was probably their son, and Samuel, who m. Hannah Warth, another. John Vance of Winchester moved to Washington Co., Pa., with his son Isaac very early. Isaac was b. Va. 1754.

Maj. William Vance commanded a company of Fred'k Co. troops, 58 men, under Lee's Fairfax, 1756. Major Wm. V., doubtless the same one, of Winchester, Va., had Joseph and David. He moved to Wash'n Co., Pa., 1780, and d. 1788, æ 70. He gave his name to Vance's Fort, in Cross Creek Twp., Wash'n Co. He was gr. father of Hon. Joseph Vance, Mem. U. S. Cong., 1821-1835, and 1843-1847, and Governor of Ohio, 1836-1838. His son Joseph Vance moved to Washington Co., Pa., 1774. He left 6 child., among them Col. J. Vance of the war of 1812, whose son, Col. Jos. Vance, U. S. A., commanded an Ohio Regt., 1861-1865. From this Fred'k Co. line also evidently descends Samuel Colville Vance, U. S. A., who m. a gr. dau. of General Arthur St. Clair, U. S. A., and settled in Ohio. (See in Keble's Prov. Councilors of Pa., 445-8.) Fithian, in his Journal, 1775, mentions the Vances and Glasses of Berkeley and Fred'k Cos.

ENCURSUS—VANCE.

Hart, in his "Irish Pedigrees," says "this name was at one time De Vance; was modified into Vans, and more lately Vance. In Scottish heraldry it is recorded that few of the names of Scotland can trace their origin to a more distinguished foreign source." Hart gives the pedigree of Joseph Vans of Wigton, Eng., whose son George m. his cousin John Vans in Scotland, 1660, and settled in Co. Tyrone, Ireland. The Virginia Vances were of Scotch-Irish descent. They em. to Va. through Pennsylvania from the North of Ireland. Hart says: "About the year 1735 William Hoge removed from Pennsylvania and settled upon the Opeckon, 3 miles S. of Winchester, Va. (Fred'k Co.) Opeckon meeting house stands upon his tract of land. The families of Glass, Vance, Allen, Colvin, White and others joined him, and formed the Opeckon congregation, the oldest west of the Blue Ridge." (Hart's Sketches of Va. S., I. p. 102.)

These names are all found in the early records of the Scotch-Irish of Penn'a, especially

Dear Edwin,

1/27/85

Hope the enclosed charts help you - It appears to me that your Thomas Vause (b. 1786) is a brother of our William born in 1769 and the son of our William born in 1741 - The latter Wm. is my great, great, great, great grandfather. Even though there is 17 yrs. difference in the brother's ages, I believe this since further evidence exists in information belonging to Mrs. Richard Jordan, 3118 Cofer Rd., Falls Church, Va. 22042. She was there in late 1980 and could undoubtedly help you further if so inclined! Her husband is a great, great grandson of your great grandfather Thomas thru the Deckers as follows:

Thomas Vause > Rachel Vause > Wm. V. Decker > Nellie Decker
Elizabeth Decker > William Decker > Mary Wootring > Arthur Jordan
> Richard Jordan

Rachel Vause being your grandfather's James Inskoop Vause's Sister.

Hope this helps but I am surprised you do not have all this and much more! Good luck!

Just Vause
